U.S. Rejects Soviet Threats

Teamster Boss Gets Ultimatum From U.S. Court

Hoffa's Choice: Reforms Or Ouster

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal court threatened Thursday to oust James R. Hoffa as president of the Teamsters Union unless he and other officials of the union quit blocking and obstructing recommended reforms.

F. Dickinson Letts, 83-year old U.S. District Court judge, directed Hoffa and other Teamsters chiefs to obey orders of court-named monitors to accomplish a general housecleaning of the 1½-million-member union.

Letts in effect armed the three-man monitor board with power to enforce its cleanup orders. A two-member majority of the monitors had contended Hoffa was giving them the run-around. Letts agreed in his 13-page opinion.

In Miami Beach, Fla., Hoffa said after a meeting with the Teamsters International Executive Board: "We will appeal it all the way." He added his union had done nothing "we consider contrary to good unionism."

Martin F. O'Donoghue, monitor chairman, said only "I'm happy with the order.

Letts threatened contempt punishment if Hoffa and other Teamsters officials thwart the monitors, saying: "Remedies are not lacking in our judicial process if the orders of the court are violated, disregarded or ignored."

Reminding Hoffa and his fellow officials that they are serving only provisionally and can be removed, Letts ordered:

1. That Hoffa and the union strictly obey all outstanding monitor reform recommendations and all reasonable ones in the future.

Among the unobeyed orders pending is one requiring Hoffa to bring ouster charges against one of his closest Teamsters associates, Owen (Bert) Brennan of Detroit, a Fifth Amendment witness before the Senate Rackets Committee.

2. That the union promptly cancel announced plans to hold a special Teamsters convention next March. Hoffa had called it in a move to have himeslf re-elected and the monitorship ended.

Letts agreed with Chairman Martin O'Donoghue and Godfrey P. Schmidt, two of the three monitors, that Hoffa and the Teamsters have not acted to clean up the union sufficiently to warrant a convention that soon.

3. That Hoffa's right to the Teamsters presidency never has been determined, that it still is subject to challenge, and that the provisional status Hoffa enjoys can be revoked at any time.

4. That provisions of the Teamsters constitution—requiring members on a dues check-off arrangement to have their dues paid for them by employers one month in advance in order to be eligible to run for union office—are discriminatory and invalid. Letts called them "a device by which incumbents are perpetuated in office."

Tass Charges West Evading Berlin Talks

Red News Agency Warns Force Will Be Met By Force

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians accused the West Thursday night of stalling on the Kremlin's proposal to convert West Berlin into a neutralized free city. They reiterated that use of force in defense of the Western Allied sectors would be met with force by the Soviet-led Warsaw Alliance.

Tass criticized the reaction of President Eisenhower and other Western statesmen who have said the United States, Britain and France intend to hold fast in West Berlin, 110 miles deep in East Germany. The official Soviet news agency said the Western powers are avoiding a businesslike settlement.

(Premier Nikita Khrushchev turned thumbs down on Western suggestions for a discussion of the Berlin issue in a conference on the bigger question of divided Germany's future. He said in an interview published by an independent Munich newspaper, Sueddeutsche Zeiting, he did not believe the West would start a war over Berlin, but any Western attempt to force a way to that city would mean Soviet retaliation with powerful weapons.)

Soviet Threat Repeated

Repeating a threat made in the Soviet note on the free city plan handed to the United States two weeks ago, Tass said:

"In case of any attack on the (East) German Democratic Republic, the aggressors would meet with a fitting rebuff by the united efforts of the members of the Warsaw Treaty."

It referred to "threats" from unspecified quarters to use tanks in defense of the occupation.

The statement again called for an East-West summit meeting, but indicated the agenda should be a broad one not confined to the German problem. It came no nearer to the long-held Western view that any summit meeting should be prepared by negotiations that revealed some prospect of agreements.

(In Washington, the State Department said the United States "will not be deterred by threats" from defending its rights in Berlin. State Department officials said the Soviet statement appeared to be designed primarily as propaganda.)

West Ministers Meet Sunday

The outpouring of words came 72 hours in advance of a scheduled meeting of the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany in Paris Sunday to talk over Berlin's situation. Tuesday the full 15-nation North Atlantic Council is meeting in Paris.

Radio Moscow joined in. It said the Soviet Union's free city plan —advanced Nov. 27 with a six-month deadline for Allied acceptance—"can be added to." It did not indicate, however, whether the Soviet Union would come up with additions or that the Russians were open to Western suggestions.

"The situation in West Berlin will have to be changed," Radio Moscow said in an English-language broadcast. "That is clear. It is also clear that something must be done toward settling the German problem as a whole.

"At any rate, at the present time it is the Western powers that are blocking progress on the question of Berlin's status and the long-standing problem of Germany."

Court Steps Into 'Bama Voter Probe

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — U.S. District Court orders were issued Thursday to a state judge and five voter registrars who defied the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. signed the court orders sought by the federal agency after the registration officers refused to testify or produce their records at the commission's hearing on alleged discrimination against prospective Negro voters.

The orders demand that Circuit Judge George C. Wallace, who even refused to appear at the two-day hearing, and the five registrars appear with their files before the commission or a subcommittee here next Friday.

U.S. Marshall Charles S. Prescott said he understood that the state judge already had been served with the court order. It was not known immediately how many of the registrars had been served.

In addition to Wallace, orders were issued against E. P. Livingston and Grady Rogers, members of the Macon County Board of Registrars, and Registrars M. P. Evans of Bullock County and J.W. Spencer and W. A. Stokes of Barbour County.

All had been subpoenaed to appear with their records to answer Negro complaints at the commission's first hearing here Monday and Tuesday.

West Berlin Rights Will Be Defended

State Dept. Accuses Russia Of Striking "Note Of Menace"

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States served notice on Russia and the world Thursday night that it "will not be deterred by threats" from defending its rights in protecting West Berlin.

The U.S. attitude was made known in a State Department statement commenting on a Moscow declaration by the official Soviet news agency Tass.

The Tass statement accused the West of stalling on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal to convert West Berlin into a "free city," meaning a city from which Western troops would be withdrawn and which would have some kind of U.N. supervision.

Tass also warned that if the West used force to maintain its Berlin position, its actions would be met by force. The statement spoke of the difficulty of containing a war over Berlin and the danger that it would become a broad conflict with the use of nuclear and rocket weapons.

The State Department at first declined formal comment, and officials said privately it appeared the Tass statement was designed primarily as propaganda to try to make trouble for the Western foreign ministers scheduled to meet in Paris Sunday.

Secreary of State Dulles is due to leave for the Paris talks Friday, despite an intestinal inflammation for which he entered the hospital last Friday.

Thursday night, after study of the Tass statement, the State Department issued its reply accusing the Soviets of striking a "note of menace" and emphasizing that the United States for its part "has made no threats."

It said this country will not be prevented by threats from the other side from carrying out its responsibilities to the people of West Berlin.

Ike Emphasizes Nixon Consulted About Message

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and top aides emphasized heavily Thursday that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is being consulted on what should be in the President's State of the Union message.

This message, given to Congress each January, is usually a sort of blueprint of administration policy.

It will be of particular importance to Nixon in 1959 and 1960 since the vice president, if he tries for the presidency as expected, will have to run largely on the record of the Eisenhower administration.

Politicians agree that it would be only natural for Nixon to want to shape the record as much to his views as possible — on civil rights for example.

What prompted the White House statement Thursday was a story saying Nixon has cut himself in on the process of assembling the State of the Union message.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said this carried an implication that Nixon's views had not been sought. He said for himself and later for Eisenhower and Nixon, that nothing could be further from the truth.

The story, which was written by Jack Bell, Associated Press political writer, was based in part on a two-hour meeting Nixon held Wednesday night in his hideaway office at the Capitol with Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming, and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

Reporters tipped off by the appearance of limousines known to be assigned to Cabinet members, waited outside the office door for two hours.

When Nixon started to emerge shortly after 8 p.m.—he had turned the lights out—he saw the waiting reporters. "Oops," he exclaimed, shutting the door in their faces.

A few minutes later, all four men came out and Nixon gave an explanation that they had been going over legislative proposals in a general way.

U.S. Charges Soviet 'Scourge Of Terror' Still Grips Hungary

Lodge Calls On U.N. To Condemn USSR

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States charged Thursday the Soviet Union and its agents in Budapest are keeping the Hungarian people under a "scourge of terror."

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told the 81-nation General Assembly it must "face the fact now that their reign of terror, of which the salient feature was the killing of Imre Nagy, still continues in full force."

He made the statement in calling on the Assembly to condemn the Soviet Union anew for the repression in Hungary, and to denounce the present Hungarian regime for the executions of former Premier Nagy, Gen. Pal Maleter and "other Hungarian patriots."

He said the secret trial and execution of Nagy and Maleter last June constituted "murder in juridical disguise."

Soviet Dep. Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin told the Assembly that the Hungarian issue was a "cold war concoction" and that neither Moscow nor Budapest would yield to pressure in the United Nations.

He said Lodge and other U.S. leaders were wasting their time in conducting an anti-Hungarian campaign.

Zorin did not mention Nagy or Maleter by name during a lengthy speech accusing the United States of interferring in the internal affairs of Hungary.

But Hungarian Dept. Foreign Minister Janos Peter declared the death sentences carried out against Nagy and the others were imposed for acts of treachery, and any other nation permitting capital punishment would have done the same.

"Nagy and his collaborators were the most treacherous malefactors in the history of Hungary," he declared.

He said the United States was pushing the Hungarian issue only because its foreign policy was based on hostility toward the Soviet Union.

He claimed that suppression of the 1956 Hungarian revolt with the help of Soviet armed forces saved the peace of central Europe, and perhaps avoided World War III.

Heavy Snows Pelt Shivering East Seaboard

(United Press International)

A new weather onslaught, following roof - crushing snows at paralyzed Oswego, N.Y., stormed up the Eastern Seaboard from the Carolinas Thursday night.

Snows almost 13 inches deep piled up in North Carolina, and Columbia, S.C., with eight inches, recorded its heaviest snow since 1914. In southeast Virginia, the snows were up to a half-foot deep.

The storm which swept Dixie also laid down a snow cover over north Georgia, closed down schools, and took a heavy toll of lives. Most of the deaths were in fires caused by overheated stoves through Virginia and across the northern cold belt—a total of 16 fatalities in all Thursday.

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued warnings of a half - foot of snow from southeast Virginia into most of New England, excluding Maine. Gale warnings of 40 to 50 mile per hour winds went up from Cape Hatteras to Eastport, Maine and tides three to five feet above normal were expected along the Virginia and North Carolina coasts.

The cold and snow stretching across the nation's eastern two thirds were blamed for at least 51 deaths this week.

Fires or fumes from overheated stoves were a major and tragic killer in the cold belt, since most of the victims were children. Ohio counted 12 fire deaths, 6 of them Thursday, and 5 persons died in two fires near Norfolk, Va. Elsewhere, there were four such deaths in Illinois, two each in Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota and one in Nebraska.

13 Accused Spies

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Athens military prosecutor Thursday charged 13 persons with being members of a Communist spy network. Conviction carries a sentence of death or life imprisonment.

The Greek Communist party has been outlawed since 1947.

Khrushchev Warns West Against Force

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Thursday night that a Western attempt to break through to Berlin by force would bring on war and the use of Russia's most powerful weapons. But he said he did not think such a war is coming.

In a sombre reference to Russia's arsenal of missiles and nuclear weapons, the Soviet Premier told the independent newspaper Sueddeutsche Zeitung of Munich that some hotheads among Western military leaders had suggested the use of tanks and troops to open a way to Berlin if necessary.

"If this, regrettably, should happen, however, if the border at the Elbe (between East and West Germany) should be violated, and an aggression against the (East) German Democratic Republic — DDR—is undertaken, the Soviet Union, as a loyal ally of the DDR in the Warsaw Pact, will fulfill its obligations and defend the borders on the ground, in the sea and in the air," the Soviet leader declared.

He added that he did not believe "the West will pick a war because the Soviet Union proposes to abolish the remnants of the (four-power) occupation regime in Berlin and because the DDR is to receive its full sovereignty after the transfer of functions exercised temporarily by the Soviet side."

Cuban Rebels Plan To Set Up Formal Regime

HAVANA (UPI) — Dr. Manuel Urrutia, who has been endorsed by rebel leader Fidel Castro as "provisional president" of the Cuban revolutionary government, has arrived in the territory of "free Cuba," the rebel radio announced Thursday.

Urrutia will address a manifesto to the Cuban people "within a few days," the radio added.

Other rebel sources said they expected Urrutia would seek to organize a provisional government in the eastern Cuban territory now under control of Castro's July 16 revolutionary movement. Until recently, Urrutia had been living in New York City.

New York Goes Newspaperless

NEW YORK (AP)—Millions of readers in and around the nation's largest city went newspaperless Thursday as major metropolitan dailies were shut down in a deliverymen's strike.

Radio and television stations quickly expanded their news programs to help fill the great gap created by the absence of the 5½ million daily newspaper copies published in Manhattan and Queens.

Other concerns adopted some ingenious methods of getting printed news summaries to the populace, which was left pretty much in a quandary by the first real newspaper tieup in five years.

The New York Central Railroad issued a handbill-like digest of events and distributed it on trains carrying office workers to their suburban homes. The news was supplied by the Associated Press as a public service.

There appeared little chance of straightening out the contract dispute between the newspapers and the independent Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union until Friday. Another negotiation session is scheduled then.

Russians Lose Their Tempers At Geneva Talks

GENEVA (AP)—A nightmare of frustration Thursday gripped the 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attack.

Russian tempers flared after a month's discussion in which East and West have failed to agree even on a plan of work.

Soviet delegates angrily accused the West of trying to trick the Communist bloc by Trojan horse tactics into accepting espionage agents in the role of international inspectors.

Across the table, the Westerners denied it. Poker-faced, they replied calmly.

It was a dramatic illustration of the deadlock that has persisted in milder form since the conference opened in Geneva's Palace of Nations Nov. 10.

Day after day the delegates meet privately for an hour or two in the rambling palace. When they finish they are right back to the basic disagreement revealed in their opening session.

The experts of the five Western powers, the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada—came to Geneva to engage in a technical study of the problems of surprise attack. They believed that was the understanding arrived at in the correspondence last spring and summer between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

But the representatives of the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Albania have from the first tried to transform the talks into a general disarmament conference.

Until Thursday, the atmosphere was friendly. The talks may get back on that basis later. But at this meeting the Russians made it plain they were fed up.

"We raised hell in there," they told reporters.

TV Set Stolen From Apartment Of Blind Couple

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A thief who posed as a plumbing inspector has stolen a television set from the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Crume, a blind couple.

Crume, a piano tuner, bought the TV set last Christmas for their five children, who can see.

Mrs. Crume was alone and engaged in a telephone conversation when the fake plumbing inspector knocked on the door Tuesday. She waved him in.

It was not until hours later when Mrs. Crume's mother arrived at the apartment that the theft was discovered.

Dulles Will Fly To Paris Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles intends to get up from his hospital bed Friday to fly to Paris for critical Allied talks about Berlin and other problems.

The 70-year-old secretary has been confined to the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center since last Friday. His illness is diagnosed as diverticulitis, inflammation of the lower intestine. Doctors said it is not malignant and has no relation to Dulles' 1956 operation removing a cancerous part of his intestine.

Department press chief Lincoln White told a news conference Thursday:

"The secretary is showing continued improvement. His temperature is normal. He continues to work in preparation for the Paris meetings.

"It is fairly definite now that he will be leaving the hospital tomorrow . . . probably late tomorrow morning."

Chamber Of Commerce Sees 5% Rise In Jobs, Production, Income Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a forecast built on favorable reports from seven key segments of business, the United States Chamber of Commerce Thursday predicted a 5 per cent rise in jobs, production and income in 1959.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, the chamber's chief economist, foresaw a gradual rise to a record national output of around 475 billion dollars next year.

"In 1960 we should, with ease, cross the 500-billion-dollar mark at today's prices," he said.

An auto industry spokesman hinted that Detroit shortly will issue a revised 1959 production forecast boosting its present 5½ million car estimate—a guess that was made before new models hit the market.

Two experts spoke of a steel work stoppage as possible next July, and Schmidt voiced concern over the possibility that strike and labor turbulence generally will increase, "particularly if recovery seems firm."

"Wage and fringe settlements are likely to exceed productivity improvements by a wider margin than in 1958, thus giving another thrust to cost-push wage inflation," he said.

Unanimous, but moderate, optimism marked the appraisals given by trade association executives in major industries at the chamber's annual business outlook conference here.

In addition to autos, the reports had this to say:

RETAILING—The country's biggest Christmas shopping binge is on. Sales will top last year's by 3 per cent. In first-half 1959 department and specialty store sales will show rising sales and profits.

FINANCE—Record business activity will generate heavy borrowing. Credit probably will tighten in second-half 1959 and interest rates may rise.

DURABLES — Appliance sales are increasing, business machines and electronics are advancing rapidly. Rising farm equipment sales are a particularly bright spot.

STEEL — Even the industry's pessimists forecast output of at least 105 million tons, up 20 million from 1958. Optimists expect 120 million tons, highest in history.

FOOD—Retail sales will be up about 6½ per cent from this year, with prices quite stable.

Sharp Earthquake Rocks 'Frisco Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A sharp earthquake swayed a 50-mile area around San Francisco early Thursday morning, awakening thousands of frightened residents but causing little physical damage.

The temblor was measured between 4.75 and 5 on the Richter scale by the University of California seismograph in Berkeley and was centered on the famed San Adreas fault in the San Francisco suburb of Daly City.

Intensity of the quake compared with a reading of 5.25 for a shake in the same area on March 22, 1957, that caused widespread damage and an estimated 8.25 for the 1906 earthquake that flatened San Francisco.

Scientists Get Bum Steer Instead Of Plum Pudding

LEATHERNECK, England (UPI) — A band of scientists Thursday carefully chiseled open the world's oldest known tin of preserved food and found a hoary slab of bully beef instead of the 135-year-old plum pudding it was supposed to contain.

"The "plum pudding" was to be the piece de resistance of a Christmas dinner with a history. The dinner was composed of four cans of preserved food, including the "pudding" canned in 1823.

White - coated scientists, newsmen, photographers and guests watched closely as the 135-year-old tin—which had survived two Arctic explorations and a shipwreck—was opened with hammer and chisel inside a sterile glass case.

But instead of plum pudding—which is said to improve with age—they found a foul-smelling greasy slab of beef which nobody cared to sample.

The other cans contained roast mutton dating from 1849; a 58-year-old plum pudding and chocolate sealed in 1915. All turned out to be all right and actually tasted rather good, according to those who sampled them.

The dinner was arranged by the British Food Manufacturers Industries Research Assn. in the cause of science—and not in the interest of good eating.

The 135-year-old can with the 1823 on it still legible was the last to be opened. When it proved to hold bully beef instead of pudding, Miss Joan McNeel Caird, donor of the tin exclaimed:

"Oh, horrids. I used it as a doorstop for years. I'm terribly disappointed but it's meat."

Gotham Commuters Get News Via Slides

NEW YORK (AP)—The Long Island Daily Press Thursday set up a projection slide service in Pennsylvania Station for 100,000 Long Island Rail Road commuters.

The newspaper, in cooperation with the LIRR, used news bulletins, stock market reports and local news collected by staff members to provide a continuous flow of information for commuters unable to buy the nine struck New York newspapers, one of which is the Press.

WE Recalls 300

BALTIMORE (AP) — Western Electric Co. said it has rehired about 300 workers laid off earlier in the year and expects to call back about 200 more by Jan. 1.

He said Lodge and other U.S. leaders were wasting their time in conducting an anti-Hungarian campaign.

Zorin did not mention Nagy or Maleter by name during a lengthy speech accusing the United States of interferring in the internal affairs of Hungary.

But Hungarian Dept. Foreign Minister Janos Peter declared the death sentences carried out against Nagy and the others were imposed for acts of treachery, and any other nation permitting capital punishment would have done the same.

"Nagy and his collaborators were the most treacherous malefactors in the history of Hungary," he declared.

He said the United States was pushing the Hungarian issue only because its foreign policy was based on hostility toward the Soviet Union.

He claimed that suppression of the 1956 Hungarian revolt with the help of Soviet armed forces saved the peace of central Europe, and perhaps avoided World War III.

Court Steps Into 'Bama Voter Probe

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — U.S. District Court orders were issued Thursday to a state judge and five voter registrars who defied the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. signed the court orders sought by the federal agency after the registration officers refused to testify or produce their records at the commission's hearing on alleged discrimination against prospective Negro voters.

The orders demand that Circuit Judge George C. Wallace, who even refused to appear at the two-day hearing, and the five registrars appear with their files before the commission or a subcommittee here next Friday.

U.S. Marshall Charles S. Prescott said he understood that the state judge already had been served with the court order. It was not known immediately how many of the registrars had been served.

In addition to Wallace, orders were issued against E. P. Livingston and Grady Rogers, members of the Macon County Board of Registrars, and Registrars M. P. Evans of Bullock County and J.W. Spencer and W. A. Stokes of Barbour County.

All had been subpoenaed to appear with their records to answer Negro complaints at the commission's first hearing here Monday and Tuesday.

West Berlin Rights Will Be Defended

State Dept. Accuses Russia Of Striking "Note Of Menace"

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States served notice on Russia and the world Thursday night that it "will not be deterred by threats" from defending its rights in protecting West Berlin.

The U.S. attitude was made known in a State Department statement commenting on a Moscow declaration by the official Soviet news agency Tass.

The Tass statement accused the West of stalling on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal to convert West Berlin into a "free city," meaning a city from which Western troops would be withdrawn and which would have some kind of U.N. supervision.

Tass also warned that if the West used force to maintain its Berlin position, its actions would be met by force. The statement spoke of the difficulty of containing a war over Berlin and the danger that it would become a broad conflict with the use of nuclear and rocket weapons.

The State Department at first declined formal comment, and officials said privately it appeared the Tass statement was designed primarily as propaganda to try to make trouble for the Western foreign ministers scheduled to meet in Paris Sunday.

Secreary of State Dulles is due to leave for the Paris talks Friday, despite an intestinal inflammation for which he entered the hospital last Friday.

Thursday night, after study of the Tass statement, the State Department issued its reply accusing the Soviets of striking a "note of menace" and emphasizing that the United States for its part "has made no threats."

It said this country will not be prevented by threats from the other side from carrying out its responsibilities to the people of West Berlin.

Heavy Snows Pelt Shivering East Seaboard

(United Press International)

A new weather onslaught, following roof - crushing snows at paralyzed Oswego, N.Y., stormed up the Eastern Seaboard from the Carolinas Thursday night.

Snows almost 13 inches deep piled up in North Carolina, and Columbia, S.C., with eight inches, recorded its heaviest snow since 1914. In southeast Virginia, the snows were up to a half-foot deep.

The storm which swept Dixie also laid down a snow cover over north Georgia, closed down schools, and took a heavy toll of lives. Most of the deaths were in fires caused by overheated stoves through Virginia and across the northern cold belt—a total of 16 fatalities in all Thursday.

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued warnings of a half - foot of snow from southeast Virginia into most of New England, excluding Maine. Gale warnings of 40 to 50 mile per hour winds went up from Cape Hatteras to Eastport, Maine and tides three to five feet above normal were expected along the Virginia and North Carolina coasts.

The cold and snow stretching across the nation's eastern two thirds were blamed for at least 51 deaths this week.

Fires or fumes from overheated stoves were a major and tragic killer in the cold belt, since most of the victims were children. Ohio counted 12 fire deaths, 6 of them Thursday, and 5 persons died in two fires near Norfolk, Va. Elsewhere, there were four such deaths in Illinois, two each in Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota and one in Nebraska.

Khrushchev Warns West Against Force

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Thursday night that a Western attempt to break through to Berlin by force would bring on war and the use of Russia's most powerful weapons. But he said he did not think such a war is coming.

In a sombre reference to Russia's arsenal of missiles and nuclear weapons, the Soviet Premier told the independent newspaper Sueddeutsche Zeitung of Munich that some hotheads among Western military leaders had suggested the use of tanks and troops to open a way to Berlin if necessary.

"If this, regrettably, should happen, however, if the border at the Elbe (between East and West Germany) should be violated, and an aggression against the (East) German Democratic Republic — DDR—is undertaken, the Soviet Union, as a loyal ally of the DDR in the Warsaw Pact, will fulfill its obligations and defend the borders on the ground, in the sea and in the air," the Soviet leader declared.

He added that he did not believe "the West will pick a war because the Soviet Union proposes to abolish the remnants of the (four-power) occupation regime in Berlin and because the DDR is to receive its full sovereignty after the transfer of functions exercised temporarily by the Soviet side."

Cuban Rebels Plan To Set Up Formal Regime

HAVANA (UPI) — Dr. Manuel Urrutia, who has been endorsed by rebel leader Fidel Castro as "provisional president" of the Cuban revolutionary government, has arrived in the territory of "free Cuba," the rebel radio announced Thursday.

Urrutia will address a manifesto to the Cuban people "within a few days," the radio added.

Other rebel sources said they expected Urrutia would seek to organize a provisional government in the eastern Cuban territory now under control of Castro's July 16 revolutionary movement. Until recently, Urrutia had been living in New York City.

New York Goes Newspaperless

NEW YORK (AP)—Millions of readers in and around the nation's largest city went newspaperless Thursday as major metropolitan dailies were shut down in a deliverymen's strike.

Radio and television stations quickly expanded their news programs to help fill the great gap created by the absence of the 5½ million daily newspaper copies published in Manhattan and Queens.

Other concerns adopted some ingenious methods of getting printed news summaries to the populace, which was left pretty much in a quandary by the first real newspaper tieup in five years.

The New York Central Railroad issued a handbill-like digest of events and distributed it on trains carrying office workers to their suburban homes. The news was supplied by the Associated Press as a public service.

There appeared little chance of straightening out the contract dispute between the newspapers and the independent Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union until Friday. Another negotiation session is scheduled then.

Russians Lose Their Tempers At Geneva Talks

GENEVA (AP)—A nightmare of frustration Thursday gripped the 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attack.

Russian tempers flared after a month's discussion in which East and West have failed to agree even on a plan of work.

Soviet delegates angrily accused the West of trying to trick the Communist bloc by Trojan horse tactics into accepting espionage agents in the role of international inspectors.

Across the table, the Westerners denied it. Poker-faced, they replied calmly.

It was a dramatic illustration of the deadlock that has persisted in milder form since the conference opened in Geneva's Palace of Nations Nov. 10.

Day after day the delegates meet privately for an hour or two in the rambling palace. When they finish they are right back to the basic disagreement revealed in their opening session.

The experts of the five Western powers, the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada—came to Geneva to engage in a technical study of the problems of surprise attack. They believed that was the understanding arrived at in the correspondence last spring and summer between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

But the representatives of the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Albania have from the first tried to transform the talks into a general disarmament conference.

Until Thursday, the atmosphere was friendly. The talks may get back on that basis later. But at this meeting the Russians made it plain they were fed up.

"We raised hell in there," they told reporters.

TV Set Stolen From Apartment Of Blind Couple

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A thief who posed as a plumbing inspector has stolen a television set from the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Crume, a blind couple.

Crume, a piano tuner, bought the TV set last Christmas for their five children, who can see.

Mrs. Crume was alone and engaged in a telephone conversation when the fake plumbing inspector knocked on the door Tuesday. She waved him in.

It was not until hours later when Mrs. Crume's mother arrived at the apartment that the theft was discovered.

Dulles Will Fly To Paris Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles intends to get up from his hospital bed Friday to fly to Paris for critical Allied talks about Berlin and other problems.

The 70-year-old secretary has been confined to the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center since last Friday. His illness is diagnosed as diverticulitis, inflammation of the lower intestine. Doctors said it is not malignant and has no relation to Dulles' 1956 operation removing a cancerous part of his intestine.

Department press chief Lincoln White told a news conference Thursday:

"The secretary is showing continued improvement. His temperature is normal. He continues to work in preparation for the Paris meetings.

"It is fairly definite now that he will be leaving the hospital tomorrow . . . probably late tomorrow morning."

13 Accused Spies

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Athens military prosecutor Thursday charged 13 persons with being members of a Communist spy network. Conviction carries a sentence of death or life imprisonment.

The Greek Communist party has been outlawed since 1947.

Gotham Commuters Get News Via Slides

NEW YORK (AP)—The Long Island Daily Press Thursday set up a projection slide service in Pennsylvania Station for 100,000 Long Island Rail Road commuters.

The newspaper, in cooperation with the LIRR, used news bulletins, stock market reports and local news collected by staff members to provide a continuous flow of information for commuters unable to buy the nine struck New York newspapers, one of which is the Press.

WE Recalls 300

BALTIMORE (AP) — Western Electric Co. said it has rehired about 300 workers laid off earlier in the year and expects to call back about 200 more by Jan. 1.

Chamber Of Commerce Sees 5% Rise In Jobs, Production, Income Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a forecast built on favorable reports from seven key segments of business, the United States Chamber of Commerce Thursday predicted a 5 per cent rise in jobs, production and income in 1959.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, the chamber's chief economist, foresaw a gradual rise to a record national output of around 475 billion dollars next year.

"In 1960 we should, with ease, cross the 500-billion-dollar mark at today's prices," he said.

An auto industry spokesman hinted that Detroit shortly will issue a revised 1959 production forecast boosting its present 5½ million car estimate—a guess that was made before new models hit the market.

Two experts spoke of a steel work stoppage as possible next July, and Schmidt voiced concern over the possibility that strike and labor turbulence generally will increase, "particularly if recovery seems firm."

"Wage and fringe settlements are likely to exceed productivity improvements by a wider margin than in 1958, thus giving another thrust to cost-push wage inflation," he said.

Unanimous, but moderate, optimism marked the appraisals given by trade association executives in major industries at the chamber's annual business outlook conference here.

In addition to autos, the reports had this to say:

RETAILING—The country's biggest Christmas shopping binge is on. Sales will top last year's by 3 per cent. In first-half 1959 department and specialty store sales will show rising sales and profits.

FINANCE—Record business activity will generate heavy borrowing. Credit probably will tighten in second-half 1959 and interest rates may rise.

DURABLES — Appliance sales are increasing, business machines and electronics are advancing rapidly. Rising farm equipment sales are a particularly bright spot.

STEEL — Even the industry's pessimists forecast output of at least 105 million tons, up 20 million from 1958. Optimists expect 120 million tons, highest in history.

FOOD—Retail sales will be up about 6½ per cent from this year, with prices quite stable.

Sharp Earthquake Rocks 'Frisco Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A sharp earthquake swayed a 50-mile area around San Francisco early Thursday morning, awakening thousands of frightened residents but causing little physical damage.

The temblor was measured between 4.75 and 5 on the Richter scale by the University of California seismograph in Berkeley and was centered on the famed San Adreas fault in the San Francisco suburb of Daly City.

Intensity of the quake compared with a reading of 5.25 for a shake in the same area on March 22, 1957, that caused widespread damage and an estimated 8.25 for the 1906 earthquake that flatened San Francisco.

Scientists Get Bum Steer Instead Of Plum Pudding

LEATHERNECK, England (UPI) — A band of scientists Thursday carefully chiseled open the world's oldest known tin of preserved food and found a hoary slab of bully beef instead of the 135-year-old plum pudding it was supposed to contain.

"The "plum pudding" was to be the piece de resistance of a Christmas dinner with a history. The dinner was composed of four cans of preserved food, including the "pudding" canned in 1823.

White - coated scientists, newsmen, photographers and guests watched closely as the 135-year-old tin—which had survived two Arctic explorations and a shipwreck—was opened with hammer and chisel inside a sterile glass case.

But instead of plum pudding—which is said to improve with age—they found a foul-smelling greasy slab of beef which nobody cared to sample.

The other cans contained roast mutton dating from 1849; a 58-year-old plum pudding and chocolate sealed in 1915. All turned out to be all right and actually tasted rather good, according to those who sampled them.

The dinner was arranged by the British Food Manufacturers Industries Research Assn. in the cause of science—and not in the interest of good eating.

The 135-year-old can with the 1823 on it still legible was the last to be opened. When it proved to hold bully beef instead of pudding, Miss Joan McNeel Caird, donor of the tin exclaimed:

"Oh, horrids. I used it as a doorstop for years. I'm terribly disappointed but it's meat."

Rancher Dies In Bizarre Gas Murder-Suicide Plot

MILTON-FREWATER, Ore. (AP)—A 54-year-old ranch foreman who was "tired of working and fighting for a living," killed himself Thursday in what appeared to be a bizarre cyanide gas murder-suicide plot.

His son—apparently destined to become one of the victims—died in a futile attempt to rescue him. Two daughters also tried to rescue him but were restrained by police.

Police Chief Burton Lindsay said he received a telephone call from Alvin C. Gentry Thursday morning telling him to come to the Gentry home immediately.

Upon arriving there police found a crudely made sign on a stake in front of the house saying "poison gas." There also was an envelope with a message written on the outside: "Get this to a cop."

Police said they could smell cyanide gas and called to the house to see if anyone was inside. The three Gentry children—Ralph Lee, 19; Nita, 16, and Delores Ann, 12—came outside.

When police told them that the house was full of gas, all tried to get back to their father. Police managed to restrain the two girls but Ralph broke away. He collapsed at the bottom of the basement stairs near where his father had released the poison gas.

Police followed the boy in, but were driven back by the fumes.

Ava Gardner Returns To U.S. From Italy

NEW YORK (AP) — Film star Ava Gardner returned to the United States Thursday from a year and a half in Italy, accompanied by Walter Chiari, Italian comedian.

"No," she told newsmen at Idlewild Airport when asked if there were a romance.

She said Chiari would be in the United States only a few days on business before going back to Italy and that she was going to Australia to make a picture after Christmas.

Snow Falls In East, Southern Maryland

By The Associated Press

Snow dropped a light blanket Thursday night on the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland. The Weather Bureau said it would be 3 to 6 inches deep by Friday and the area could expect above-normal tides and gale-force winds.

Snow also was forecast for all the rest of the state, except the western tip.

Roads were reported slippery and covered with snow in Dorchester, Caroline, Talbot, Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester Counties on the Shore. More than an inch of snow was measured by 5:30 p.m. and it was still falling.

In Southern Maryland, only about ¼ inch was measured at the same time, but roads were covered and slippery in Charles, St. Marys, Calvert, Prince Georges and lower Anne Arundel counties.

UPI's Editors Rate Integration Top 1958 Story

NEW YORK (UPI) — The continuing struggle over the racial integration of schools was chosen by editors of United Press International Thursday as the biggest news story of 1958.

They noted that the battle was waged all the way from the Supreme Court of the United States to remote hamlets in the South. Integration confronted the American people with one of the most acute sociological problems since the days of reconstruction.

The other nine:

2. American and Russian probes into outers space, bringing within the range of possibility interplanetary travel by human beings.

3. The Democratic victory at the November polls, giving the party the biggest congressional majority since the high tide of the new deal.

4. Anglo- American intervention in Lebanon and Jordan.

5. The resignation of Sherman Adams and the indictment of Bernard Goldfine on charges of contempt of Congress.

6. The death of Pope Pius XII and the election of John XXIII.

7. The economic upturn in the United States.

8. The Red government's consolidation of its rule over the Chinese mainland, and the bombardment of Quemoy. It was a year in which Peiping appeared to have won equal status with Moscow in directing the strategy of world Communism.

9. The Chicago school fire.

10. The stabbing of Johnny Stompanato by Lana Turner's daughter.

Students Arraigned As KKK Organizers

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP) — Two freshmen at Jersey City Junior College were arraigned Thursday on charges they had tried to organize a Ku Klux Klan branch at the school.

James Lowe, 18, was held in $1,000 bail. Ronald Brown, 22, was released when he posted the same amount.

They are charged specifically with conspiracy to violate New Jersey's antidiscrimination law. They were immediately suspended by the school.

Police said they were continuing the investigation but would not say if more arrests are anticipated.

Two Arundel Co. Policemen Fired

FERNDALE, Md. (AP)—Two Anne Arundel County police accused of being drunk and disorderly during an off-duty visit to headquarters here were dismissed Thursday after a five-hour hearing before Chief Wilbur C. Wade.

The chief's 33-year-old son, Patrolman Warren Wade, resigned from the force rather than answer charges stemming from the same visit.

Charged with conduct unbecoming an officer were young Wade, Patrolman 1-c Charles Mace, 42, and Patrolman George Bartlett, 34.

The chief, who earlier this week had personally detailed the charges to newsmen, was obviously still distressed as he described the closed-door hearing to waiting reporters.

He said Mace and Bartlett had notified him they would appeal.

Intruder Robs, Rapes Woman At Baltimore

A rookie policeman arrested a suspect as he tried to leave the place.

The woman said the man entered the South Baltimore clothing store shortly after noon and demanded money. Given only $3, he demanded more and was told there was none.

Then, said the woman, the man dragged her to the second floor and attacked her.

The policeman, suspicious because he found the store door locked while clothing displays still hung outside, rattled the door. The woman opened it and, despite the bandit's threat to remain silent, blurted out an account of the robbery and rape.

The arrested man was 28 and was being questioned about a recent series of attacks on women in Northeast Baltimore.

Wall Street Journal Infers U.S. Is Santa

The business newspaper published a two-sentence editorial under the heading "There sure is."

It read:

"The United States government is estimated to have given away more than 60 billion dollars in foreign aid since World War II.

"Now then, Virginia, what was your question?"

Virginia was the child who wrote a letter to the Sun many years ago asking if there is a Santa Claus. In an editorial now historically famous, the Sun assured her there is.

"Ile de France" Will Be Sold For Scrap

PARIS (AP)—The French Line said Thursday it has decided to sell the 32-year-old passenger liner "Ile de France" to the breakers.

It said she has become too old and expensive to run. The decision to sell her for scrap followed a public demonstration at Le Havre by several hundred crew members against withdrawing her from the Atlantic run.

She was launched in 1926 and put into service a year later.

Couple Observes 80th Wedding Anniversary

FAIRVIEW, Utah (UPI) — An old iron gate swung open almost all day long Thursday as hundreds of visitors paid tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Peterson on their 80th wedding anniversary.

The Petersons, believed to be the nation's oldest living married couple, accepted well wishers throughout the day at their small home in this central Utah farming community.

Fanfani Rebuffed

Child Savagely Attacked By Three Dogs Improving

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three dogs which attacked a 6-year-old girl so savagely that her mother failed to recognize the child were under a veterinarian's observation Thursday.

Little Shirley Hubbard, the victim of the attack Wednesday night near her home just south of Baltimore, was admitted to a hospital in critical condition. Doctors said she was "much better" and was responding to treatment.

The girl was knocked down, bitten and scratched over her entire body and dragged down a 10-foot embankment into a drainage ditch. A piece of scalp about three inches square was almost torn from her head. The dogs ripped off all her clothing except her underpants, shoes and socks.

About 15 minutes later her sister Carol, 8, heard a faint rap on the door and looked out the window.

"Mommy" she screamed, "There's a little girl on the front porch with no clothes on but her panties, and she's all covered with blood."

Mrs. Edward Hubbard opened the door and failed to recognize the nearly nude child until she heard Shirley's voice say, "Mommy, I'm cold. Some dogs bit me."

Shirley was attacked on her way to a friend's house. Her parents said the three dogs were pets of neighbors and often had played with the girl and the five other Hubbard children, who have a dog of their own.

The three dogs were taken to a public pound to be observed for signs of rabies. Handlers at the pound said the animals seemed gentle and friendly.

Coast Guard Goes To Aid Of Hunters

FORT SMALLWOOD, Md. (AP) —The Coast Guard helped two duck hunters get their stranded boat off some rocks Thursday.

The hunters were about three miles offshore in the Chesapeake Bay when observers on shore noticed them waving and firing their guns.

Riviera Beach Volunteer Fire Company called Coast Guard headquarters, and a craft from Baltimore went to the scene and pulled the boat loose from two jutting rocks.

Names of the hunters were not learned.

Cult Bombing Probe Closed

CHATSWORTH, Calif. (UPI) — Investigation of the bombing which took 10 lives in a religious cult's monastery was "pretty well wrapped up" Thursday with positive identification of the two former members who hatched the murder-suicide plot, authorities reported.

Main target of the plot was the sect's leader, self-styled "messiah" Krishna Venta, 47, whose real name was Francis Pencovic. The former San Francisco man had a long record of arrests ranging from larceny to vagrancy before establishing the Fountain of the World religious colony some years ago, police and sheriff's deputies said.

The two bombers, both of whom were killed along with Venta and seven other persons, including two children, were positively identified Thursday as Ralph Muller, 33, and Peter Dumas Kamenof, 42, both of Joshua Tree, Calif.

Two hour-long tape recordings left by the two revealed they were dissatisfied with Venta, questioned his leadership and were determined to "bring the master (Venta) to justice."

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three dogs which attacked a 6-year-old girl so savagely that her mother failed to recognize the child were under a veterinarian's observation Thursday.

Little Shirley Hubbard, the victim of the attack Wednesday night near her home just south of Baltimore, was admitted to a hospital in critical condition. Doctors said she was "much better" and was responding to treatment.

The girl was knocked down, bitten and scratched over her entire body and dragged down a 10-foot embankment into a drainage ditch. A piece of scalp about three inches square was almost torn from her head. The dogs ripped off all her clothing except her underpants, shoes and socks.

About 15 minutes later her sister Carol, 8, heard a faint rap on the door and looked out the window.

"Mommy" she screamed, "There's a little girl on the front porch with no clothes on but her panties, and she's all covered with blood."

Mrs. Edward Hubbard opened the door and failed to recognize the nearly nude child until she heard Shirley's voice say, "Mommy, I'm cold. Some dogs bit me."

Shirley was attacked on her way to a friend's house. Her parents said the three dogs were pets of neighbors and often had played with the girl and the five other Hubbard children, who have a dog of their own.

The three dogs were taken to a public pound to be observed for signs of rabies. Handlers at the pound said the animals seemed gentle and friendly.

Coast Guard Goes To Aid Of Hunters

FORT SMALLWOOD, Md. (AP)—The Coast Guard helped two duck hunters get their stranded boat off some rocks Thursday.

The hunters were about three miles offshore in the Chesapeake Bay when observers on shore noticed them waving and firing their guns.

Riviera Beach Volunteer Fire Company called Coast Guard headquarters, and a craft from Baltimore went to the scene and pulled the boat loose from two jutting rocks.

Names of the hunters were not learned.

Cult Bombing Probe Closed

CHATSWORTH, Calif. (UPI) — Investigation of the bombing which took 10 lives in a religious cult's monastery was "pretty well wrapped up" Thursday with positive identification of the two former members who hatched the murder-suicide plot, authorities reported.

Main target of the plot was the sect's leader, self-styled "messiah" Krishna Venta, 47, whose real name was Francis Pencovic. The former San Francisco man had a long record of arrests ranging from larceny to vagrancy before establishing the Fountain of the World religious colony some years ago, police and sheriff's deputies said.

The two bombers, both of whom were killed along with Venta and seven other persons, including two children, were positively identified Thursday as Ralph Muller, 33, and Peter Dumas Kamenof, 42, both of Joshua Tree, Calif.

Two hour-long tape recordings left by the two revealed they were dissatisfied with Venta, questioned his leadership and were determined to "bring the master (Venta) to justice."

Students Arraigned As KKK Organizers

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP) — Two freshmen at Jersey City Junior College were arraigned Thursday on charges they had tried to organize a Ku Klux Klan branch at the school.

James Lowe, 18, was held in $1,000 bail. Ronald Brown, 22, was released when he posted the same amount.

They are charged specifically with conspiracy to violate New Jersey's antidiscrimination law. They were immediately suspended by the school.

Police said they were continuing the investigation but would not say if more arrests are anticipated.

Two Arundel Co. Policemen Fired

FERNDALE, Md. (AP)—Two Anne Arundel County police accused of being drunk and disorderly during an off-duty visit to headquarters here were dismissed Thursday after a five-hour hearing before Chief Wilbur C. Wade.

The chief's 33-year-old son, Patrolman Warren Wade, resigned from the force rather than answer charges stemming from the same visit.

Charged with conduct unbecoming an officer were young Wade, Patrolman 1-c Charles Mace, 42, and Patrolman George Bartlett, 34.

The chief, who earlier this week had personally detailed the charges to newsmen, was obviously still distressed as he described the closed-door hearing to waiting reporters.

He said Mace and Bartlett had notified him they would appeal.

Intruder Robs, Rapes Woman At Baltimore

A rookie policeman arrested a suspect as he tried to leave the place.

The woman said the man entered the South Baltimore clothing store shortly after noon and demanded money. Given only $3, he demanded more and was told there was none.

Then, said the woman, the man dragged her to the second floor and attacked her.

The policeman, suspicious because he found the store door locked while clothing displays still hung outside, rattled the door. The woman opened it and, despite the bandit's threat to remain silent, blurted out an account of the robbery and rape.

The arrested man was 28 and was being questioned about a recent series of attacks on women in Northeast Baltimore.

Wall Street Journal Infers U.S. Is Santa

The business newspaper published a two-sentence editorial under the heading "There sure is."

It read:

"The United States government is estimated to have given away more than 60 billion dollars in foreign aid since World War II.

"Now then, Virginia, what was your question?"

Virginia was the child who wrote a letter to the Sun many years ago asking if there is a Santa Claus. In an editorial now historically famous, the Sun assured her there is.

"Ile de France" Will Be Sold For Scrap

PARIS (AP)—The French Line said Thursday it has decided to sell the 32-year-old passenger liner "Ile de France" to the breakers.

It said she has become too old and expensive to run. The decision to sell her for scrap followed a public demonstration at Le Havre by several hundred crew members against withdrawing her from the Atlantic run.

She was launched in 1926 and put into service a year later.

Couple Observes 80th Wedding Anniversary

FAIRVIEW, Utah (UPI) — An old iron gate swung open almost all day long Thursday as hundreds of visitors paid tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Peterson on their 80th wedding anniversary.

The Petersons, believed to be the nation's oldest living married couple, accepted well wishers throughout the day at their small home in this central Utah farming community.

Fanfani Rebuffed

ROME (AP) — Italy's rebellious Parliament handed Premier Amintore Fanfani's shaky pro-Western coalition government a new defeat Thursday.

The Chamber of Deputies voted 274-270 to reject a government bill regulating wholesale food markets.

To fill its own domestic needs, Spain replaces the olive oil it ships to the world by large imports of other vegetable oils from the U. S.

ASK FOR MISSILES

SEOUL (UPI)—Lt. Gen. Kim Chang Kyu, new Air Force chief of staff, disclosed Thursday the Republic of Korea has asked the United States to furnish "sidewinder" air-to-air missiles for its Air Force. Kim told a news conference the missiles were needed "to boost our air defense power."

Yokefellows New Auxiliary Religious Force

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

A loosely linked but intensely dedicated "auxiliary force" is spreading through the ranks of American Christianity.

Adherents are called Yokefellows. And they've unleashed a strategy that is expanding rapidly among the churches.

"The idea is on the march," says Dr. D. Elton Trueblood, a noted philosopher and professor of religion who sparked the movement.

It cuts across denominational lines, and in the last two years, has drawn thousands of men and women of various religious affiliation into its orbit.

Their guiding rule comes from Jesus' words in Matthew 11:29: "Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me."

To participants, this means taking on extra effort in behalf of Christ, beyond the usual Sunday church-going.

"The movement is an expression of a new vitality within the churches of our time," said the Rev. Samuel Emerick, director of the Yokefellow Institute, Richmond, Ind.

"It is not an organization to draw people away from the church, but a reformation within the church that brings to the nominal member a new commitment and understanding of his participation in the Christian community."

People involved in the venture usually wear a lapel button or pin in the shape of an ox yoke.

No membership roster or statistics are kept, but the little insignia—and the activity it implies—have cropped up in communities across the country, among businessmen, workers, farmers, professionals and others.

Each one agrees to keep this minimum discipline of Christian practice:

1. To pray daily, preferably at the beginning of the day.
2. To read a Scripture passage at a set time each day.
3. To participate regularly in church worship.
4. To give a definite portion of annual income to promote Christianity.
5. To make an unapologetic witness for Christ, particularly in daily work.
6. To develop intellectual integrity by regular study of serious Christian books.

Mention Harry Truman And Ike Shows He's Still In Fighting Trim

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The champ has recovered. He can sit up and take political nourishment. He showed he also can dish it out since, without using the exact words, he called former President Truman a liar.

The champ, of course, is President Eisenhower, who has just held his first news conference in five weeks.

His last one had come on Nov. 5, before all the votes had been counted but not before it was obvious that from coast to coast the Republicans had taken a fearful beating.

Reporters hurried in to ask that awful question: 'What happened?"

The story of that conference read pretty much like all after-the-fight dressing room stories.

"What did he hit you with?" the reporters ask.

"I don't know," says the baffled warrior.

Political reporters, in reconstructing the Nov. 5 scene, said Eisenhower appeared puzzled. Fight writers, in describing similar scenes, usually use the word groggy.

Well, Eisenhower came in briskly Wednesday and immediately launched into a five-minute lecture on the necessity—indeed, the moral duty—for defending Berlin.

Then came the customary flow of questions.

It wasn't until Truman's name came up that Eisenhower showed he still was in fighting trim.

On Monday, you may remember Truman said Eisenhower had been mad at him since 1952, but "I don't give a damn."

There was nothing personal, Truman said. It was just that he had "raised hell" with Eisenhower six years ago "when he didn't knock (Sen. William) Jenner off the platform after he called Gen. Marshall a traitor."

"Is that good history?" Eisenhower was asked.

The President started out by saying everyone knows he has a little too much sense to get mad at anyone, but he looked at least a little mad as he said it.

He said he always has had the greatest respect for Gen. George C. Marshall, and if anyone says he ever stood still while any man, in his presence, reviled Gen. Marshall, it just is not true.

And if we still don't know what's good history, we do know that the gap between the President and his predecessor is now wider than ever.

Eisenhower also managed a quip or two.

Possibly the best example came while he was explaining that he hasn't become more conservative, that he still stands where he did in a speech made nine years ago.

"Not long ago someone brought a speech to me that I made on Sept. 3, 1949," he said, "just a year or so after I had written a letter that I thought would keep me out of politics forever, showing you how fallible I am."

Everyone laughed, including the fallible man.

Girl Kills Hawk With Food Cans

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI) — Most hawks are killed with guns but 16-year-old Peggy White is different. She uses cans of dog food.

Peggy recently investigated a noise in a neighbor's home and found a hawk thrashing about with a smaller bird in its claws. It had apparently flown into the house through an open window.

The girl immediately grabbed the first weapon handy to kill the hawk. And the weapon handiest was some cans of dog food.

South America Countries Deal Reds Hard Blow

By FRED L. STROZIER

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The Communist party and its friends have suffered a series of resounding election defeats in four South American countries.

Within three months Chile, Brazil, Uruguay and Venezuela have elected right-wing officials or turned thumbs down on candidates with direct Communist support.

These dealt international communism its worst setback in Latin America since the Red-tinged government of Col. Jacobo Arbenz was run out of Guatemala in 1954.

Chile, Brazil, Uruguay and Venezuela are generally supposed to harbor large and influential Communist parties. The Communist weakness comes as a relief to those in the Western world who have viewed with alarm and suspicion the campaign of the Soviet Union and its satellites to increase trade with South America.

The power of communism is a long way from being squelched, but happenings in these four countries show that Moscow's drive to grab Latin America or overcome Western and U.S. influence south of the border has a long way to go.

Uruguay is selling wool behind the Iron Curtain. A trickle of coffee from Brazil is on the way to the satellites. Argentina is getting some financial credits from the Soviets.

But most of the Soviet deals are still on paper. Except for their propaganda value, none has helped the local Communist.

Not all the election defeats for the Communists came about directly on the issue of pro or anti-Communist sentiment. A side factor in some of the campaigns was local issues. But the anti-Communist trend is there.

The trend started in Chile where the Communist party won legality after 10 years underground. A conservative, banker-economist Jorge Alessandri, was one of four candidates for president in September and won. This moved Chile's national government farther to the right than it had been in a generation.

Brazil then pulled an even bigger surprise. In the campaign for governor of the industrial state of Sao Paulo—prized as a stepping stone to the presidency—veteran politician Adhemar de Barros openly accepted Communist support.

De Barros was badly beaten—by Carvalho Pinto, a conservative economist, professor and former state secretary of finance.

In Uruguay, the right-wing Blanco party regained power from the moderate Colorado party, which had controlled the government for 93 years. The winning Blancos opposed wool sales to the Soviet Union.

Only three days ago in Venezuela the voters dealt a blow to the Communists in a clear-cut issue. Popular Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal, who helped overthrow dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez, was favored for the presidency. He accepted Communist support—though he did not openly solicit it—and was beaten by a militant anti-Communist, Romulo Betancourt, though a leftist himself, attacked Larrazabal's Communist support.

Boss Docks Trucker's Wages To Pay Fine

HAGERSTOWN (AP)—A truck driver who said his boss had already docked his pay to cover the penalty was fined $88 Wednesday for driving an overloaded vehicle.

Richard D. Ellison, 30, of Baltimore, told Magistrate William P. Kreykenbohm his boss had deducted sums from his October and November pay envelopes to make certain the fine would be paid.

Ellison was arrested in September on a charge of driving with an overload of 4,400 pounds on U. S. 40 near Hagerstown. His employer was not identified.

"The law doesn't give me any choice," Kreykenbohm said in levying the fine, "but your boss should be the one to pay."

Posters Warn Children; Beware Of Strangers

BALTIMORE (AP)—Pamphlets and posters warning young children against accepting rides or favors from strangers will soon be distributed to all Maryland elementary schools.

The campaign aimed at youngsters just beginning to read was adopted Wednesday at the quarterly meeting of the Maryland Law Enforcement Officers.

The group voted to distribute the literature monthly to combat criminal offenses involving children in the 6-12 age group.

"FLIPPERS" FATE AT STAKE

ROME (UPI) — Interior Minister Fernando Tambroni must decide by the end of the month whether pinball machines, or "flippers" as they are known here, are to be banned in Italy. Last August police decided not to renew licenses permitting operation of pinball machines in Italy's bars. The licenses expire Dec. 31.

THE LAST RIDE

FUKUOKA, Japan (UPI) — A crowded express train served as the "ride" for a Korean-born mobster. Thugs stabbed him to death before horrified passengers Monday night. Police identified the victim Tuesday as Takeo Matsumura, 31, a gang leader in Fukuoka, a major port city in Kyushu.

Flu Epidemic Rumors Spiked By Health Dept.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Health Department said Thursday that on the basis of recent reports there is nothing to indicate a high incidence of influenza in Maryland this winter.

Dr. Charlotte Silverman of the department said recent stories about flu "seem to have produced a mild degree of unfounded concern."

She said that in October the State Advisory Committee on Influenza studied reports which gave no reason to expect any "exceptionally high incidence" of the malady.

"Nothing has occurred since then to warrant changing this view," the statement added. "In fact, all the indications are that this is a normal year."

Dr. Silverman explained that the health department receives weekly communicable disease reports from the U.S. Public Health Service, which lists no unusual number of flu cases.

"Obviously," she said, "it is is impossible to predict with certainty the behaviour of virus diseases such as influenza, but on the basis of the information at hand there is no reason to expect anything other than the usual amount of influenza and many other types of respiratory illness which regularly occur at this season ..."

Man Who Slew Two Children Ruled Insane

BALTIMORE (AP) — Thomas J. Shanahan Jr., 30, has been adjudged innocent by reason of insanity in the murder of his two young children in their aBltimore home May 12, 1957.

Criminal Court Judge Anselm Sodaro made the ruling Thursday and committed the man to the Spring Grove State Hospital.

Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher, court psychiatrist, testified that he and Dr. B. W. Murphy agreed the man was a "paranoid, schizophrenic."

They said Shanahan could be considered dangerous. He had tried suicide previously, the court was told.

The state charged Shanahan murdered his son, Thomas Shanahan 3d, 4½ years old, and daughter Irene, 2½, on Sunday morning May 12, 1957 while his wife was asleep.

The man met police at the door with the remark:

"I killed my two children — put a bullet in me and end it all."

Hopkins May Limit Services To Indigent

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Johns Hopkins Hospital operated at a $1,502,018 loss during the 1957-58 fiscal year and as a result may have to limit its services to the indigent, Director Russell A. Nelson reported Thursday.

Dr. Nelson blamed the deficit almost entirely on insufficient compensation paid by the state, city and counties for the care of poor patients.

Operating expenses during the year reached $12,005,955 — the highest in the 69 year history of the institution. Income derived mostly from patients payment also reached a new high of $10,503,874.

Woman, Knife In Heart, Saved By Luck, Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 26-year-old woman put an 11 inch switch blade knife in her jewel box, placed it on the floor and threw herself onto the point.

This happened Thanksgiving eve. The story was told only Thursday when she was about ready to be discharged from District of Columbia General Hospital.

When the woman was found only the knife handle jutted from her breast. The blade was buried in her heart.

She was carried into the hospital's emergency room, the knife handle quivering with each breath.

Doctors said only one thing kept her alive. The knife had torn two holes in a sac inclosing the heart before plunging into the right ventricle. The sac leaked just enough blood so that mounting pressure didn't force the heart to stop.

The sac was pierced and the blood drained. The tears were were sewed together. Only then was the knife, its handle still pulsating, withdrawn. The hole in the ventricle was sewed up.

The job required four surgeons, three anesthesiologists, two cardiologists, three interns and three nurses.

Four days after the delicate operation the young woman was taken off the critical list. One surgeon commented:

"I'll never see it again in my lifetime."

Sailor Killed In Auto Crash

By The Associated Press

A series of automobile accidents on Maryland highways caused one fatality and injury to a number of other motorists.

A sailor identified as Jefferson Leroy Allen, 22, of Four Oaks, N.C. was killed and a passenger in his car, Paul Carwile, 34, was injured when the vehicle went off U.S. 13 near the Maryland-Virgia line Wednesday night.

The car overturned and skidded across an ice-covered creek into a bridge abutment.

Both Allen and Carwile were stationed at the Chincoteague Naval Air Station.

Six persons were injured in a three-car collision early Thursday on Falls road in Baltimore.

Police said a car operated by Richard James Engler, a University of Maryland student, sideswiped one northbound car and then rammed headon into a second vehicle.

Three persons were hurt early Thursday in a collision on a downtown Baltimore street.

The Eastern Shore fatality increased the highway death toll for Maryland this year to 458, or 69 less than on the same date in 1957.

Follick Dies

LONDON (UPI) — Dr. Nont Follick, a former Socialist member of Parliament who lost a lifelong fight to make English simpler to spell, died in a London hospital Wednesday. The 70-year-old educator had failed to achieve his goal—establishment of a new alphabet.

By-Pass To Be Opened

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Princess Anne by-pass on U.S. 13 will be opened to traffic at noon Friday.

The State Roads Commission said the $1,018,208 job was completed Aug. 15 by James Julian Inc.

The 3½ miles of new highway will be one lane of an ultimate dual highway planned in the SRC's 12-year improvement program.

SCHEDULE TRIALS

BELGRADE (UPI) — Twenty-three persons accused of activity against the state and Yugoslav people will be tried separately before the end of this month, informed sources said Thursday. The defendants were picked up last May while trying to cross the Yugoslav-Albanian frontier, it was reported.

Flu Epidemic Rumors Spiked By Health Dept.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Health Department said Thursday that on the basis of recent reports there is nothing to indicate a high incidence of influenza in Maryland this winter.

Dr. Charlotte Silverman of the department said recent stories about flu "seem to have produced a mild degree of unfounded concern."

She said that in October the State Advisory Committee on Influenza studied reports which gave no reason to expect any "exceptionally high incidence" of the malady.

"Nothing has occurred since then to warrant changing this view," the statement added. "In fact, all the indications are that this is a normal year."

Dr. Silverman explained that the health department receives weekly communicable disease reports from the U.S. Public Health Service, which lists no unusual number of flu cases.

"Obviously," she said, "it is is impossible to predict with certainty the behaviour of virus diseases such as influenza, but on the basis of the information at hand there is no reason to expect anything other than the usual amount of influenza and many other types of respiratory illness which regularly occur at this season ..."

Man Who Slew Two Children Ruled Insane

BALTIMORE (AP) — Thomas J. Shanahan Jr., 30, has been adjudged innocent by reason of insanity in the murder of his two young children in their aBltimore home May 12, 1957.

Criminal Court Judge Anselm Sodaro made the ruling Thursday and committed the man to the Spring Grove State Hospital.

Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher, court psychiatrist, testified that he and Dr. B. W. Murphy agreed the man was a "paranoid, schizophrenic."

They said Shanahan could be considered dangerous. He had tried suicide previously, the court was told.

The state charged Shanahan murdered his son, Thomas Shanahan 3d, 4½ years old, and daughter Irene, 2½, on Sunday morning May 12, 1957 while his wife was asleep.

The man met police at the door with the remark:

"I killed my two children — put a bullet in me and end it all."

Hopkins May Limit Services To Indigent

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Johns Hopkins Hospital operated at a $1,502,018 loss during the 1957-58 fiscal year and as a result may have to limit its services to the indigent, Director Russell A. Nelson reported Thursday.

Dr. Nelson blamed the deficit almost entirely on insufficient compensation paid by the state, city and counties for the care of poor patients.

Operating expenses during the year reached $12,005,955 — the highest in the 69 year history of the institution. Income derived mostly from patients payment also reached a new high of $10,503,874.

Woman, Knife In Heart, Saved By Luck, Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 26-year-old woman put an 11 inch switch blade knife in her jewel box, placed it on the floor and threw herself onto the point.

This happened Thanksgiving eve. The story was told only Thursday when she was about ready to be discharged from District of Columbia General Hospital.

When the woman was found only the knife handle jutted from her breast. The blade was buried in her heart.

She was carried into the hospital's emergency room, the knife handle quivering with each breath.

Doctors said only one thing kept her alive. The knife had torn two holes in a sac inclosing the heart before plunging into the right ventricle. The sac leaked just enough blood so that mounting pressure didn't force the heart to stop.

The sac was pierced and the blood drained. The tears were were sewed together. Only then was the knife, its handle still pulsating, withdrawn. The hole in the ventricle was sewed up.

The job required four surgeons, three anesthesiologists, two cardiologists, three interns and three nurses.

Four days after the delicate operation the young woman was taken off the critical list. One surgeon commented:

"I'll never see it again in my lifetime."

Sailor Killed In Auto Crash

By The Associated Press

A series of automobile accidents on Maryland highways caused one fatality and injury to a number of other motorists.

A sailor identified as Jefferson Leroy Allen, 22, of Four Oaks, N.C. was killed and a passenger in his car, Paul Carwile, 34, was injured when the vehicle went off U.S. 13 near the Maryland-Virgia line Wednesday night.

The car overturned and skidded across an ice-covered creek into a bridge abutment.

Both Allen and Carwile were stationed at the Chincoteague Naval Air Station.

Six persons were injured in a three-car collision early Thursday on Falls road in Baltimore.

Police said a car operated by Richard James Engler, a University of Maryland student, sideswiped one northbound car and then rammed headon into a second vehicle.

Three persons were hurt early Thursday in a collision on a downtown Baltimore street.

The Eastern Shore fatality increased the highway death toll for Maryland this year to 458, or 69 less than on the same date in 1957.

Follick Dies

LONDON (UPI) — Dr. Nont Follick, a former Socialist member of Parliament who lost a lifelong fight to make English simpler to spell, died in a London hospital Wednesday. The 70-year-old educator had failed to achieve his goal—establishment of a new alphabet.

By-Pass To Be Opened

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Princess Anne by-pass on U.S. 13 will be opened to traffic at noon Friday.

The State Roads Commission said the $1,018,208 job was completed Aug. 15 by James Julian Inc.

The 3½ miles of new highway will be one lane of an ultimate dual highway planned in the SRC's 12-year improvement program.

SCHEDULE TRIALS

BELGRADE (UPI) — Twenty-three persons accused of activity against the state and Yugoslav people will be tried separately before the end of this month, informed sources said Thursday. The defendants were picked up last May while trying to cross the Yugoslav-Albanian frontier, it was reported.

Mao Not Likely To Make Commune System Stick

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

People familiar with Chinese character and Chinese traditions are convinced that Mao Tse-tung will not make his new commune system stick indefinitely.

Stalin tried it with the Soviet peasants who were accustomed to being ground down by their landlords and the royal overseers, and he couldn't do it.

There is no reason to believe that Mao will fare any better with a highly individualistic people who for centuries have let the world revolve around the family and its garden plot, rather than vice versa.

Mao is trying to take millions of people away from their homes and villages and resettle them in barracks on the job. Wives work at assigned tasks, teams do the housekeeping, and there are no more private gardens.

"Individuality has absolutely no place," says the People's Daily, Communist party mouthpiece. "No longer does one find the phenomenon in which workers are members of the working class only when they are working and free people when they are off duty, now there is all-round party leadership over the production, life and education of the worker masses."

That does not sound like the end of individualism in China, but the beginning of the end of Mao and the Communists.

Chinese Nationalists believe that nothing the Communists could have done would have built up so much revulsion—and eventually so much revolution.

Stalin and his successors had to yield in the matter of garden plot ownership and turn progressively toward more "capitalistic" practices.

Mao had to do the same thing several years ago with regard to private loans for farming and home development. Why his party now reverses itself again, ignoring both its own and the Soviet Union's lessons, is not clear.

Signs Indicate Soviet Hierarchy Split Over Premier's Tough Berlin Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American officials said on Wednesday there were signs indicating a split in the Russian hierarchy over Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's tough Berlin policy and his handling of some other foreign policy issues.

Intelligence reports reaching Washington suggest that some members of the Politburo are challenging the wisdom of Khrushchev's action in forcing the Berlin crisis. This includes his ultimatum to the Western Allies to quit the city in six months.

The U.S. authorities reported some evidence that the two Russian delegations discussing disarmament with the West at Geneva were not receiving clear-cut directions from the Kremlin now.

A power struggle within the Kremlin could explain the sudden removal of Gen. Ivan A. Serov as chairman of Russia's State Security Committee, the top Soviet police job.

Leadership Still Collective

Serov may have been a casualty as Khrushchev and his opponents jockeyed for position in preparation for a policy showdown. In power contests among leaders of an authoritarian country, the chief of the secret police often topples because one of the disputants doubts his loyalty.

There still is a considerable degree of collective leadership at the top in the Soviet Union, officials said, despite some appearances that Khrushchev is running a one-man show. The possibility of a shakeup in the Kremlin never is ruled out.

Officials said evidence indicated some Politburo members felt that some recent Khrushchev actions, including his tough attitude on Berlin, were strengthening the anti-Communist front.

There are indications some of Khrushchev's colleagues fear he is courting the possibility of war if he goes through with his threat to turn East Berlin over to the German Communists and force the Allies to deal with the East Germans or fight their way into the Western sectors of the encircled city.

Proposal Better Than Rejection

British and American officials see the possibility that Khrushchev eventually may seek some face-saving way to retreat from his tough Berlin position.

This is one of the reasons they favor a counter-proposal for a Big Four meeting on the entire problem of German reunification instead of merely a flat rejection of the Russian demand.

However, they still must reconcile their differences with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's West German government. It insists that the Kremlin must be slapped down decisively on the Berlin question before there is any discussion of German reunification and European security in general.

The irony in the situation, as officials here view it at present, forts to divide the Western Allies, has united them in their determination to stay in Berlin and may have divided his own leadership.

PLANE SETS RECORD

ZURICH, Switzerland (UPI) — Swiss Airlines said Thursday one of its Douglas DC7C passenger planes trimmed 26 minutes off the record time for a flight between New York and a Swiss airport. The flight time to Zurich was 9 hours 29 minutes.

SELL BUSES

LONDON (UPI)—London transport officials have sold some of the 500 old double-decker buses which have been declared surplus after recent service cuts. The 140 went to Ceylon and a private dealer and the Atomic Energy Authority bought another 21.

MODERN FOSSILS

LONDON (UPI)—A claim by geological survey officials to have discovered fossils 130 million years old on the route of a new superhighway in northern England "comes as no surprise to those motorists who have found themselves trying to pass some of them," said Daily Telegraph columnist Peter Simple Thursday.

Quill pens were in common use well into the 19th century.

Year Of The Eskimo

Shots of Eskimos standing around applauding a balancing act inside the Arctic Circle represents another distinguished first for Ed Sullivan. Sullivan has been credited with being the first man to recognize the entertainment value of a camera shot of an audience applauding an entertainer and making the audience Eskimos adds a note of piquance that we will not soon forget.

It's been a big year for Eskimos. Garry Moore had a blanket toss on his first show featuring Eskimos. Sullivan had a camera shot of a polar bear chasing an arctic seal and losing it. It sounds a little as if desperation had struck the variety shows. Actually, the Sullivan show, which was the first variety show to emanate from Alaska since it became a state, was a pretty good show. Jack Carter, who does an hilarious imitation of Sullivan, promised the Civil War with the original cast next week and I wouldn't be at all surprised.

I never thought I'd live to see the day when "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" would be offered as serious — well, reasonably serious—entertainment on nighttime television. It was a triumphant recital by Dick Buckley and I was particularly struck by Jill Corey who listened to it with every evidence that she was hearing it for the first time, no small feat of acting. Also, I liked Philip Ford and Mimi Hines, a pair of gifted and distinctive clowns, whose act is hard to describe.

Sid Caesar's second Chevvy show was not such a happy occasion as his first one but it had moments of great truth. The opening sketch with Paul Douglas and Audrey Meadows, for instance, was dedicated to the proposition that you should never pay for anything. Playing a big shot, Paul Douglas boasts that he owes $150,000. "I didn't know that you were doing that well," murmurs Caesar in great admiration. To his wife, he explains: "He's in debt for $150,000. That's success!"

I bring it up for the edificaiton of any economists among you because this is getting to be a well-travelled, rather bitter joke. Just the other day Danny Thomas delivered a personal monologue with much the same joke. Once, he said, he worked for $150 a week and didn't owe anyone. But after ten years in which he never dipped under $3,000 a week, he had risen to the eminence of owing $280,000.

It wasn't the funniest Caesar sketch I've ever seen but it had the bite of truth. After several years of pretty bland humor, it does seem to me that wit is again beginning to cut deep, to deal with the facts of life. Caesar did two other sketches — one a satire on those outer-space horror movies called "The Mess," the other a parody on all the adult Westerns. Neither of them quite came off but I'm so glad this sort of humor is being tackled on the air again.

As for "The Empty Chair," an adaptation by Peter Ustinov of his own play, I suppose we can call it a distinguished disappointment. It was distinguished in that any study of the patterns of power in a revolution, particularly the French Revolution, is an ambitious and laudable and certainly an unusual theme for a TV drama.

I find written on my notes the notation "awful with flashes of genius," and I'm afraid that sums it up about as well as I know how. Right at the outset a narrator walks out and discourses on the course of the Revolution and this had some wonderful flashes of wit about it. After talking about Danton, Robespierre, Hebert, and others, the narrator, Mouche, says: "Well, there were other characters I seem to have forgotten. Oh, yes, the People . . ." That tells a lot about the French revolution, that little burst of forgetfulness.

Unfortunately, most of the dialogue was of the self-consciously I-am-speaking-for-history sort, like: "You would kill your mother for the revolutoin" — "And, you, sir, would kill the revolution for your mother." The actors, Mr. Ustinov included, strode about declaiming rather than speaking, striking attitudes rather than acting. I expect in print Mr. Ustinov had a good many pertinent things to say about revolutions and power and such all, but in performance it was hard to unscramble the sense of it.

Just the same I hope this won't discourage him from our TV screen. He's a charming and gifted gentleman. And not only as an actor and playwright.

Voters Choose 'Security' Over Freedom

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 11—As I look back over my sixty-odd years as a voter and try to interpret the Democratic landslide of the last election, which happened while I was in Africa, I am forced to this conclusion: The average voter today is more interested in seeking "security" than he is in keeping "freedom." Now the only real security which I have been able to discover is spiritual security. This is confidence in one's God and in oneself so that, come what may, one can, and will, not only survive but meet competition successfully So the thing that disturbs me most about the present wholesale desire for security, particularly in a time of plenty, is that it suggests a senile civilization, not the youthful, fearless men that made this nation great.

The Democratic landslide was a tremendous rebuff not only to the present Administration's "pay-as-you-go" domestic policy, but also to its foreign-aid policy. The voters seem to be saying, "We want peace, but we are unwilling to sacrifice for it." Our fathers knew that freedom and peace were conditions that had to be cultivated by each generation. Life, for our forefathers, was full of hazards. They were in danger of being scalped by the Indians, were often cold and hungry and without material comforts; but they were free men. Today we are slowly, but certainly, surrendering those hard-won freedoms as we move in the direction of a welfare state.

Soak The Rich!

Subsidies and guaranteed "womb-to-tomb" economic aids of every variety have to be paid for by someone. Uncle Sam has no mystical source of revenue. Money for your unemployment security or old-age pension comes out of your pocket, not Uncle Sam's. He has no pockets; and if he did, I am afraid they would be full of holes! When you put a ceiling on a man's earnings by taxing his initiative, man tends to give up. And when you soak business and industry, you begin to destroy those financial sources that built our great educational institutions, hospitals, research centers, and libraries. You then begin to scare away private risk capital because the return is just not worth the risk. Then government steps into the breach to subsidize those projects which private capital formerly undertook. This means that more money has to be collected from your pay check in the form of taxes. Furthermore, as government takes on these responsibilities, it also assumes control over them. Thus, the individual, little by little, surrenders certain aspects of his freedom in exchange for what he thinks is security.

In my humble opinion, it then becomes but a matter of time before national bankruptcy sets in; in that event, all of our economic legislation may not be worth the paper the laws are written on. It may not happen in your lifetime, or perhaps even in your children's life span; but it can happen sometime. The history books will look back upon such a period as an era of economic leaches. I have long said that the next sizable depression will be brought about by organized labor's over-reaching itself. While we should be grateful for labor's watchful eye, we should at the same time be concerned about strikes and about any of labor's actions which result from its being exempt from the Anti-Trust laws.

Our Founding Fathers

Our founding fathers expressed their freedom in terms of responsibility. Each, indeed, was his brother's keeper. Men were close to one another. If there was a fire, they had to work together to put it out; if roads were to be built, the building became a community project; and the laggards were chastised by their neighbors.

One trouble today is that the average citizen has become so far removed from community responsibility that he has really lost touch with democracy in action. Too often the average man gives little thought to much of anything beyond the evening TV programs. It is almost as if he were unaware that freedom in our U.S.A. is fighting for its very life.

Footsore Yule Shoppers Should Try Bouncy Shoes

By MARY PRIME
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Feet has some balm for footsore Christmas shoppers.

It's being dispensed now, according to Harry Palter, because too many of Santa's helpers are wearing pained expressions.

Palter, who is executive director of the society, waxed simply eloquent about the cause of pain, saying:

"Too many long - narrows are wearing short - wides and short-wides, long - narrows. So many women — and some men — buy and wear shoes that fit eyes and feet last, if at all."

"For feet's sake," said Palter, "shoppers should insist on foot rest centers in commercial districts. They need the chance to retreat to a place where they can kick off their shoes and walk around in stocking feet — without embarrassment."

The expert also said that tootsies wouldn't tire so quickly if folks would hip-walk. Said he:

Swing Knee Joints

"We tend to do too much knee-walking—that is, swing from the knee joints rather than the hip joints. To get twice as far in half the effort, we should keep knee joints semi-rigid and swing or glide from the hips."

Shopping shoes, says the foot expert, means shoes that don't pinch and do allow room for wiggling toes.

"It's a matter of each to his own comfort," said he, adding:

"Quickie shoppers might, for example, fare best in something like track shoes. Good stopping and starting power, plus bounce."

For the less nimble of foot who are pained about being tread upon in crowds, he suggested Oxfords with crush-resistant toes.

"Maybe these things aren't fashionable, but in Christmas shopping, if you're going to be kind to your feet, fashion be hanged. Comfort's the thing."

For all, he suggested shopping in shoes with bouncy soles. Sidewalks are the reason. He said:

No Resemblance to Earth

"The human foot wasn't engineered for cement and other hard surfaces. Bouncy soles act like a shock absorber, protecting feet from insults heaped upon them by treading surfaces that don't resemble the good earth."

To prove the point, Palter brought up Indians. Said he:

"Indians didn't know foot troubles. Sidewalks either. It's obvious that sidewalks have something to do with foot aches."

Palter, who's been in shoes for 46 years, has been poet laureate of the ASPCF for 26 years.

But before he was born, other poets had something to say about pain that develops from, for example, man's inhumanity to feet.

Dryden put it this way:

"Sweet is pleasure after pain."

Today we are slowly, but certainly, surrendering those hard-won freedoms as we move in the direction of a welfare state.

Soak The Rich!

Subsidies and guaranteed "womb-to-tomb" economic aids of every variety have to be paid for by someone. Uncle Sam has no mystical source of revenue. Money for your unemployment security or old-age pension comes out of your pocket, not Uncle Sam's. He has no pockets; and if he did, I am afraid they would be full of holes! When you put a ceiling on a man's earnings by taxing his initiative, man tends to give up. And when you soak business and industry, you begin to destroy those financial sources that built our great educational institutions, hospitals, research centers, and libraries. You then begin to scare away private risk capital because the return is just not worth the risk. Then government steps into the breach to subsidize those projects which private capital formerly undertook. This means that more money has to be collected from your pay check in the form of taxes. Furthermore, as government takes on these responsibilities, it also assumes control over them. Thus, the individual, little by little, surrenders certain aspects of his freedom in exchange for what he thinks is security.

In my humble opinion, it then becomes but a matter of time before national bankruptcy sets in; in that event, all of our economic legislation may not be worth the paper the laws are written on. It may not happen in your lifetime, or perhaps even in your children's life span; but it can happen sometime. The history books will look back upon such a period as an era of economic leaches. I have long said that the next sizable depression will be brought about by organized labor's over-reaching itself. While we should be grateful for labor's watchful eye, we should at the same time be concerned about strikes and about any of labor's actions which result from its being exempt from the Anti-Trust laws.

Our Founding Fathers

Our founding fathers expressed their freedom in terms of responsibility. Each, indeed, was his brother's keeper. Men were close to one another. If there was a fire, they had to work together to put it out; if roads were to be built, the building became a community project; and the laggards were chastised by their neighbors.

One trouble today is that the average citizen has become so far removed from community responsibility that he has really lost touch with democracy in action. Too often the average man gives little thought to much of anything beyond the evening TV programs. It is almost as if he were unaware that freedom in our U.S.A. is fighting for its very life.

Footsore Yule Shoppers Should Try Bouncy Shoes

By MARY PRIME
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Feet has some balm for footsore Christmas shoppers.

It's being dispensed now, according to Harry Palter, because too many of Santa's helpers are wearing pained expressions.

Palter, who is executive director of the society, waxed simply eloquent about the cause of pain, saying:

"Too many long - narrows are wearing short - wides and short-wides, long - narrows. So many women — and some men — buy and wear shoes that fit eyes and feet last, if at all."

"For feet's sake," said Palter, "shoppers should insist on foot rest centers in commercial districts. They need the chance to retreat to a place where they can kick off their shoes and walk around in stocking feet — without embarrassment."

The expert also said that tootsies wouldn't tire so quickly if folks would hip-walk. Said he:

Swing Knee Joints

"We tend to do too much knee-walking—that is, swing from the knee joints rather than the hip joints. To get twice as far in half the effort, we should keep knee joints semi-rigid and swing or glide from the hips."

Shopping shoes, says the foot expert, means shoes that don't pinch and do allow room for wiggling toes.

"It's a matter of each to his own comfort," said he, adding:

"Quickie shoppers might, for example, fare best in something like track shoes. Good stopping and starting power, plus bounce."

For the less nimble of foot who are pained about being tread upon in crowds, he suggested Oxfords with crush-resistant toes.

"Maybe these things aren't fashionable, but in Christmas shopping, if you're going to be kind to your feet, fashion be hanged. Comfort's the thing."

For all, he suggested shopping in shoes with bouncy soles. Sidewalks are the reason. He said:

No Resemblance to Earth

"The human foot wasn't engineered for cement and other hard surfaces. Bouncy soles act like a shock absorber, protecting feet from insults heaped upon them by treading surfaces that don't resemble the good earth."

To prove the point, Palter brought up Indians. Said he:

"Indians didn't know foot troubles. Sidewalks either. It's obvious that sidewalks have something to do with foot aches."

Palter, who's been in shoes for 46 years, has been poet laureate of the ASPCF for 26 years.

But before he was born, other poets had something to say about pain that develops from, for example, man's inhumanity to feet.

Dryden put it this way:

West Virginia Board Of Public Works Seeks To Safeguard Surplus Food Distribution Program

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Board of Public Works has agreed to look into the possibility adopting certain recommendations of the federal government which would prevent a loss of surplus food commodities to 478,398 West Virginians.

State Public Assistance Director Thomas Egbert proposed a change in operation of the program to the board during an appearance to discuss the DPA's proposed 1959-60 budget.

Egbert suggested, in line with a recommendation of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, that the surplus commodities program be transferred from his department to that of the State Department of Agriculture.

He said reasoning for this was contained in the fact the surplus commodities program on the federal level originates with the U.S. Department of Agriculture and it would make for better uniformity if similar departments at lower levels worked with the federal distributing agency.

Federal officials notified West Virginia last week the supply of surplus food items would be cut off effective March 31, 1959, unless certain changes in the certification of recipients and distribution program were changed.

Egbert said of the number of West Virginians receiving the food, only 18 per cent — about 86,800 — were DPA clients. He said if jurisdiction of the program were transferred to the Agriculture Department, then he would work with the new agency in certifying his department's clients.

The board postponed further consideration of the matter until it reached the surplus commodities account later this month during actual preparation on the budget for submission to the Legislature. It directed Egbert to be available for further discussions on the subject at that time.

The DPA and five other state agencies and commissions appeared before the board Wednesday in support of budget requests for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. It was the final day of hearings on the proposed budgets. Thursday the board will begin actual preparation of the budget document.

Egbert told the board that the main needs of his department involved personnel.

He said higher salaries were needed and asked for a 10 per cent wage hile.

He also said more personnel was needed to conduct the program as it should be conducted," he said.

"We also need enough money to provide for 100 per cent of need for our clients," he added.

Egbert said the DPA was presently paying clients only 82 per cent of ned and the 5 per cent cut in spending ordered by the Board Tuesday would mean a substantial reduction in this amount.

Opening lead: Three of ♠.

South did not give himself every chance today. The solution to his problem merely involved the use of proper technique, but the correct play escaped his notice and the result was a severe loss.

There was very little lost motion in the bidding. South took inventory after North's raise of his three spade takeout, and found that the partnership assets amounted to a slam.

West, unwilling to commit himself in the choice of a lead, elected to open fire with a trump. Declarer won in his own hand and drew the remaining trump. Before taking a discard on dummy's king of diamonds he first tested the club suit by cashing the ace and king. If the queen fell the contest would be over, for a heart could be discarded and the heart finesse would prove to be a mere formality in an effort to score the overtrick. But the queen was obstinate so declarer discarded his losing club and led a heart from dummy. When the queen lost to West's king declarer had still another heart to lose and a slam contract had slipped through his fingers.

South had started out on the right foot but unfortunately had cracked in the middle of the proceedings. Cashing the clubs and the ace and king of diamonds was sound tactics.

But declarer should have discarded the 3 of hearts and ruffed out the 3 of diamonds. Then he leads the jack of clubs. If it is taken by East then declarer must rely on the heart finesse. But when East follows with a low club the slam contract is assured regardless of the location of the cards. West is welcome to the trick. By taking it he handcuffs himself into leading a heart, or giving declarer a ruff and a discard.

Adventists Hold Family Dinner

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Seventh-day Adventist Church held its annual Christmas party and supper at the LaVale Fire Hall last Sunday evening. Each family was asked to bring a dish of food which was placed on a long table and served cafeteria style.

One of the main purposes of the social was to give the church building fund a boost. A large tree was lighted at the front of the auditorium, and money was pinned to the tree. Children came forward with $59 and adults contributed $83, making a total of $142.

Gifts for boys, girls, men and women were given at the close of the supper. Christmas carols were sung.

The evening was climaxed by a 15-voice chorus from Church of God and Saints of Christ Church which sang a number of Negro spirituals. The occasion was closed with members singing "What A Friend We Have in Jesus," and a prayer by Rev. F. J. Kinsey, Parkersburg.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Know Your Color

Men love color. And there is no facet of fashion which projects your individuality as well as color.

With the most brilliant of all seasons coming up there is a whirl of festivities on the many-splendored calendar which gives color its cue. So you can be as colorful as you like.

To look sparkling for this Christmastime be sure when you choose a color that you understand it, and it understands you. Of course, be sure to distinguish the brilliant from the garish. In order to choose and use the right color properly, you must be familiar with its traits, and you must enjoy them. Each season new colors are introduced. Often they have misleading names. The trick is to cultivate the ability to see a hue as it is; for instance, if you hear a color described as bronze green — to have a mental picture of how it looks immediately.

Before you can choose what shades to wear and know which are most flattering to your face, it's imperative to realize your color type. Then the clothing shades that heighten its beauty can be unerringly recognized. Because of its importance we have collected all this information in a 14-page booklet called "Your Color Type." The shades given for each "Personal Colorscope" were selected according to three laws of color. The booklet is 25 cents and may be ordered by writing to John Robert Powers, c/o this newspaper. Be sure and enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Whether you're a cool or warm blonde, brunette, titian or gray, or an "intermediate," you will find the sure way to discover the colors that are most pleasing to you.

After you choose a color, be careful to match your make-up—since your face is usually the center of interest in any personal design. And be sure the make-up is appropriate for the time of day. If you have an early evening engagement, select make-up in a color suitable for both sunlight and moon glow.

Group Studies Yule Decorations

FROSTBURG—The Young Women's Study Group of the AAUW met a recent evening at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Hughes Jr. The theme was "Christmas Decorations." Each member brought materials and made creative and novel decorations to be used in the home at Christmas.

Fawcett, 103 Frost Avenue, January 12 with Mrs. William Huckins serving as co-hostess. The annual spring project to be presented at the April meeting will be discussed at this session.

Balls from sycamore trees make lovely ornaments for the Christmas tree. They are especially pretty if painted with either silver or gold paint but are nice in natural form.

Social Welfare Club Has Yule Party

A mixed chorus from Bruce High School, directed by Miss Betty Jean Withrow, vocal instructor, presented several Christmas carols. Mrs. Jean Williams was received as a new member.

The club authorized a donation of $25 to the Allegany-Garrett County Tuburcular Association. Jingle gifts were exchanged and refreshments served by Mrs. Edith Rowan, chairman; Mrs. Mary Lou Barcase, co-chairman and their committee.

Natives of South America eat the eggs of the lizard known as the iguana. These eggs are considered a great delicacy.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West

4 ♠	Pass	6 ♠	Pass

Opening lead: Three of ♠.

South did not give himself every chance today. The solution to his problem merely involved the use of proper technique, but the correct play escaped his notice and the result was a severe loss.

There was very little lost motion in the bidding. South took inventory after North's raise of his three spade takeout, and found that the partnership assets amounted to a slam.

West, unwilling to commit himself in the choice of a lead, elected to open fire with a trump. Declarer won in his own hand and drew the remaining trump. Before taking a discard on dummy's king of diamonds he first tested the club suit by cashing the ace and king. If the queen fell the contest would be over, for a heart could be discarded and the heart finesse would prove to be a mere formality in an effort to score the overtrick. But the queen was obstinate so declarer discarded his losing club and led a heart from dummy. When the queen lost to West's king declarer had still another heart to lose and a slam contract had slipped through his fingers.

South had started out on the right foot but unfortunately had cracked in the middle of the proceedings. Cashing the clubs and the ace and king of diamonds was sound tactics.

But declarer should have discarded the 3 of hearts and ruffed out the 3 of diamonds. Then he leads the jack of clubs. If it is taken by East then declarer must rely on the heart finesse. But when East follows with a low club the slam contract is assured regardless of the location of the cards. West is welcome to the trick. By taking it he handcuffs himself into leading a heart, or giving declarer a ruff and a discard.

Adventists Hold Family Dinner

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Seventh-day Adventist Church held its annual Christmas party and supper at the LaVale Fire Hall last Sunday evening. Each family was asked to bring a dish of food which was placed on a long table and served cafeteria style.

One of the main purposes of the social was to give the church building fund a boost. A large tree was lighted at the front of the auditorium, and money was pinned to the tree. Children came forward with $59 and adults contributed $83, making a total of $142.

Gifts for boys, girls, men and women were given at the close of the supper. Christmas carols were sung.

The evening was climaxed by a 15-voice chorus from Church of God and Saints of Christ Church which sang a number of Negro spirituals. The occasion was closed with members singing "What A Friend We Have in Jesus," and a prayer by Rev. F. J. Kinsey, Parkersburg.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Know Your Color

Men love color. And there is no facet of fashion which projects your individuality as well as color.

With the most brilliant of all seasons coming up there is a whirl of festivities on the many-splendored calendar which gives color its cue. So you can be as colorful as you like.

To look sparkling for this Christmastime be sure when you choose a color that you understand it, and it understands you. Of course, be sure to distinguish the brilliant from the garish. In order to choose and use the right color properly, you must be familiar with its traits, and you must enjoy them. Each season new colors are introduced. Often they have misleading names. The trick is to cultivate the ability to see a hue as it is; for instance, if you hear a color described as bronze green — to have a mental picture of how it looks immediately.

Before you can choose what shades to wear and know which are most flattering to your face, it's imperative to realize your color type. Then the clothing shades that heighten its beauty can be unerringly recognized. Because of its importance we have collected all this information in a 14-page booklet called "Your Color Type." The shades given for each "Personal Colorscope" were selected according to three laws of color. The booklet is 25 cents and may be ordered by writing to John Robert Powers, c/o this newspaper. Be sure and enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Whether you're a cool or warm blonde, brunette, titian or gray, or an "intermediate," you will find the sure way to discover the colors that are most pleasing to you.

After you choose a color, be careful to match your make-up—since your face is usually the center of interest in any personal design. And be sure the make-up is appropriate for the time of day. If you have an early evening engagement, select make-up in a color suitable for both sunlight and moon glow.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — When MGM made "Tarzan, the Ape Man", with Johnny Weissmuller as the hero of the jungle and Maureen O'Sullivan as Jane, author Edgar Rice Burroughs sold the rights to this specific tale to the studio. It's now to be revived with handsome, stalwart Denny Miller, former UCLA basketball player, in the Weissmuller role. And two pretty newcomers, Claire Kelly and Joanne Moore, are vying for the chance to play Tarzan's girlfriend, producer Al Zimbalist tells me.

This probably will be very upsetting to Sy Weintraub who is already in Africa shooting his "Tarzan" series with Gordon Scott.

But on second thought the "Tarzan" movies have always been so popular, the world market can well stand two more of them. Before the cultural exchange pact admitted other pictures, the "Tarzans" were the only American movies shown in Russia.

The very pretty girl lunching with director Ton Mann at Universal - International was Sarita Monteil, his actress-wife. Sarita says she's leaving for Spain at the New Year to star in a new film version of "Carmen" for her own company. This comes as a result of her reception on her South American tour from which she has just returned.

Sarita needs no introduction in Mexico where one of her pictures, "The Lost Song," has been running in one theatre for a year and a half.

Next year she will be directed by Tony in the John MacPartland novel, "Ripe Fruit," which Phil Yordan as adapted. "Ripe Fruit" received a lot of publicity at the time of MacPartland's death when all his unknown wives and many children were revealed.

And still they come along, these talented second generation youngsters. Juliette Payne, 18-year-old daughter of John Payne and Anne Shirley, makes her professional bow on Monday night on Collier Young's TV show. I, for one, will be looking in to cheer Juliette on in her career. She could hardly help being a beauty with such handsome parents as John and Anne. They must be very proud of her even though their marriage broke up years ago and they are not together and have other marital mates.

I was well repaid fo the hour I spent with Euan Lloyd, British producer - director - writer, looking at his movie "Invitation to Monte Carlo". I was more than "royally" entertained in this CinemaScope and Technicolor picture which presents the royal family of Monaco in a warm, pleasing manner.

Lloyd has pegged this tribute to the royal family of Monaco on the adventures of a little English orphan who goes to the palace to present a gift to Princess Caroline. Through the eyes of the orphan, a charming child, and her chaperone, you see all the glitter of Monte Carlo, the palace at Monaco, magnificent scenery, plus such delightful human interest touches as Princess Caroline kissing the child, the chaperone and the gift kitten.

Euan tells me that the little princess acted spontaneously. Prince Rainier proves to be a good "actor", too, in his skin diving expeditions and his scenes with wild animals in his zoo. As for Princess Grace, we all know how beautiful she is as an actress. This feature, narrated by Leo Genn and Nicole Maurey, should be an asset to any program.

I very much like Lew Ayres' philosophy and his courage. He hasn't let it get him down that he lost a fortune when his house burned down in the fire in Malibu Canyon, with all his religious books and art treasurers plus the painting, "Venus, Bringer of Peace", which took him seven years to finish.

He plans to restore the house because he likes the area. But this time he's going to build it of stone. He's skilled in masonry and stone work and he's going to start building the house as soon as the grounds are cleared.

PRICE SUPPORTS

The government's investment in price-supported farm commodities rose more than 386 million dollars in October under the impact of heavy loans on 1958-crop wheat, cotton and grain sorghums. The hike in investment followed an increase of more than 356 million dollars in September, chiefly for loans on wheat and cotton.

CARLOADINGS

Freight loadings by the nation's railroads for the week ended Dec. 6 totaled 594,476 cars, up 10.3 per cent from the preceding holiday week and down 3.8 per cent from the corresponding week of last year, the Assn. of American Railroads reported. For the year through Dec. 6 loadings are running 15.6 per cent below the corresponding '957 figure.

HEAVY CONSTRUCTION

Heavy construction contracts have picked up speed in December, Engineering News-Record reported. Contracts in the week ended Dec. 11 totaled $353,298,000, against $399,132,000 the week before and $226,549,000 a year ago. The magazine said the stronger trend this month may mean reversal of a sharp three-month slide.

AUTO OUTPUT

Production shutdowns caused by a strike by Chrysler employes at the Dodge main plant in Detroit will drop output of the auto industry below last week's level, Automotive News reported. The trade paper said Chevrolet and Rambler, however, will establish new highs for production this week.

SILVER DOWN

Handy & Harman, bullion dealers, quoted the price of silver at 89⅞ cents a fine ounce, off ¼-cent from Wednesday, and the first price change since Nov. 3. The reduction reflects a let-up in demand, the firm said.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

WASHINGTON—My friend Jack Logan, representative of "creeping capitalism," has opened a supermarket in Zabrze, Poland. The peaceful revolution there is now complete.

Handsome Jack, often the squire of Perle Mesta, who helped to democratize Luxemenbourg (which wasn't hard), heads up something called the National Association of Food Chains. Lately it has become an international cracker-barrel operation, with overtones of smart diplomacy.

Apparently, the peoples of foreign lands take more readily to our supermarkets than any other American importation, including dynamic boll-weevil reports and reports on the outcome of knitting contests on the Voice of America. Matter of fact, we have at hand an exclusive understatement from Mr. Logan: "The supermarket is one American custom and system the people of other countries like, adopt and use without envy or restraint."

Reminds us of the curiosity shown by two delightful U.S. visitors of a year and more ago, Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip. They repaired immediately to a supermarket in a Washington suburb shortly after being released from the abominable boredom of a football game involving the Universities of Maryland and North Carolina. It had been a hard day for both, what with Governors McKeldin and Hodges all but clapping them on their backs, in their hammy enthusiasm over the course of the game.

Her Majesty seemed to be saying, over and over again through the long afternoon, "Thank the Lord we lost the Revolution, else these might be my governors general."

Anyway, there they were, safe in their first supermarket, the agony gone. The manager had locked the door, imprisoning with the royal couple a lot of earnest young housewives bent on filling their wire baskets with the old man's meal. The manager advanced on the Queen with a plate of diced American cheese, mit crackers. She nibbled daintily. "Delicious," she said. Philip took a bite. "Good for mice," he said wryly. Anglo - American relations teetered on the brink, but a young housewife in slacks intended for a younger and small sister saved the situation.

"Say," she said to the Duke of Edinburgh, "what are you doing standing at the Queen's side? Aren't you supposed to stand one foot behind her, or something?"

Philip regarded the lady with glacial wit and replied, "You're quite right, Madam. I am expected to stand behind her majesty. But we went to a football match today and became real chummy."

Getting back to the institution of these gigantic smorgasbords we call supermarkets, and the latest opening, seems that the big impetus has been demonstrations of same at various fairs through the world. Yugoslavia liked the supermarket plan so much, after being exposed to it in the Zagreb Grand Fair of 1957, that it plans 60 of them. West Germany now has 3,100 such markets, 200 of them in West Berlin alone. East Berlin has one. England and France have yielded slowly—tradition, you know — but surely. Seventy such markets have bloomed in Italy, another tough nut to crack, in the wake of the model exhibit which Logan's group and the Department of Agriculture set up in Rome.

The Iron Curtain countries like supermarkets for a different reason than you do. It builds the ego of their oppressed peoples. The report from Zabrze is that the store is popular because "it gives the customer the feeling that he counts." Pathetic, isn't it? But liberty to select what one wants, freedom of choice, comes in many different sizes. In Zabrze and elsewhere behind the curtain, a modicum of freedom emerges from such rights. It isn't much. But it is better than what went before. We never thought of a supermarket as a tool in American diplomacy, but that's precisely what it is becoming.

Quit shoving.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — When MGM made "Tarzan, the Ape Man", with Johnny Weissmuller as the hero of the jungle and Maureen O'Sullivan as Jane, author Edgar Rice Burroughs sold the rights to this specific tale to the studio. It's now to be revived with handsome, stalwart Denny Miller, former UCLA basketball player, in the Weissmuller role. And two pretty newcomers, Claire Kelly and Joanne Moore, are vying for the chance to play Tarzan's girlfriend, producer Al Zimbalist tells me.

This probably will be very upsetting to Sy Weintraub who is already in Africa shooting his "Tarzan" series with Gordon Scott.

But on second thought the "Tarzan" movies have always been so popular, the world market can well stand two more of them. Before the cultural exchange pact admitted other pictures, the "Tarzans" were the only American movies shown in Russia.

The very pretty girl lunching with director Ton Mann at Universal - International was Sarita Monteil, his actress-wife. Sarita says she's leaving for Spain at the New Year to star in a new film version of "Carmen" for her own company. This comes as a result of her reception on her South American tour from which she has just returned.

Sarita needs no introduction in Mexico where one of her pictures, "The Lost Song," has been running in one theatre for a year and a half.

Next year she will be directed by Tony in the John MacPartland novel, "Ripe Fruit," which Phil Yordan as adapted. "Ripe Fruit" received a lot of publicity at the time of MacPartland's death when all his unknown wives and many children were revealed.

And still they come along, these talented second generation youngsters. Juliette Payne, 18-year-old daughter of John Payne and Anne Shirley, makes her professional bow on Monday night on Collier Young's TV show. I, for one, will be looking in to cheer Juliette on in her career. She could hardly help being a beauty with such handsome parents as John and Anne. They must be very proud of her even though their marriage broke up years ago and they are not together and have other marital mates.

I was well repaid fo the hour I spent with Euan Lloyd, British producer - director - writer, looking at his movie "Invitation to Monte Carlo". I was more than "royally" entertained in this CinemaScope and Technicolor picture which presents the royal family of Monaco in a warm, pleasing manner.

Lloyd has pegged this tribute to the royal family of Monaco on the adventures of a little English orphan who goes to the palace to present a gift to Princess Caroline. Through the eyes of the orphan, a charming child, and her chaperone, you see all the glitter of Monte Carlo, the palace at Monaco, magnificent scenery, plus such delightful human interest touches as Princess Caroline kissing the child, the chaperone and the gift kitten.

Euan tells me that the little princess acted spontaneously. Prince Rainier proves to be a good "actor", too, in his skin diving expeditions and his scenes with wild animals in his zoo. As for Princess Grace, we all know how beautiful she is as an actress. This feature, narrated by Leo Genn and Nicole Maurey, should be an asset to any program.

I very much like Lew Ayres' philosophy and his courage. He hasn't let it get him down that he lost a fortune when his house burned down in the fire in Malibu Canyon, with all his religious books and art treasurers plus the painting, "Venus, Bringer of Peace", which took him seven years to finish.

He plans to restore the house because he likes the area. But this time he's going to build it of stone. He's skilled in masonry and stone work and he's going to start building the house as soon as the grounds are cleared.

PRICE SUPPORTS

The government's investment in price-supported farm commodities rose more than 386 million dollars in October under the impact of heavy loans on 1958-crop wheat, cotton and grain sorghums. The hike in investment followed an increase of more than 356 million dollars in September, chiefly for loans on wheat and cotton.

CARLOADINGS

Freight loadings by the nation's railroads for the week ended Dec. 6 totaled 594,476 cars, up 10.3 per cent from the preceding holiday week and down 3.8 per cent from the corresponding week of last year, the Assn. of American Railroads reported. For the year through Dec. 6 loadings are running 15.6 per cent below the corresponding '957 figure.

HEAVY CONSTRUCTION

Heavy construction contracts have picked up speed in December, Engineering News-Record reported. Contracts in the week ended Dec. 11 totaled $353,298,000, against $399,132,000 the week before and $226,549,000 a year ago. The magazine said the stronger trend this month may mean reversal of a sharp three-month slide.

AUTO OUTPUT

Production shutdowns caused by a strike by Chrysler employes at the Dodge main plant in Detroit will drop output of the auto industry below last week's level, Automotive News reported. The trade paper said Chevrolet and Rambler, however, will establish new highs for production this week.

SILVER DOWN

Handy & Harman, bullion dealers, quoted the price of silver at 89⅞ cents a fine ounce, off ¼-cent from Wednesday, and the first price change since Nov. 3. The reduction reflects a let-up in demand, the firm said.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

WASHINGTON—My friend Jack Logan, representative of "creeping capitalism," has opened a supermarket in Zabrze, Poland. The peaceful revolution there is now complete.

Handsome Jack, often the squire of Perle Mesta, who helped to democratize Luxembourg (which wasn't hard), heads up something called the National Association of Food Chains. Lately it has become an international cracker-barrel operation, with overtones of smart diplomacy.

Apparently, the peoples of foreign lands take more readily to our supermarkets than any other American importation, including dynamic boll-weevil reports and reports on the outcome of knitting contests on the Voice of America. Matter of fact, we have at hand an exclusive understatement from Mr. Logan: "The supermarket is one American custom and system the people of other countries like, adopt and use without envy or restraint."

Reminds us of the curiosity shown by two delightful U.S. visitors of a year and more ago, Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip. They repaired immediately to a supermarket in a Washington suburb shortly after being released from the abominable boredom of a football game involving the Universities of Maryland and North Carolina. It had been a hard day for both, what with Governors McKeldin and Hodges all but clapping them on their backs, in their hammy enthusiasm over the course of the game.

Her Majesty seemed to be saying, over and over again through the long afternoon, "Thank the Lord we lost the Revolution, else these might be my governors general."

Anyway, there they were, safe in their first supermarket, the agony gone. The manager had locked the door, imprisoning with the royal couple a lot of earnest young housewives bent on filling their wire baskets with the old man's meal. The manager advanced on the Queen with a plate of diced American cheese, mit crackers. She nibbled daintily. "Delicious," she said. Philip took a bite. "Good for mice," he said wryly. Anglo - American relations teetered on the brink, but a young housewife in slacks intended for a younger and small sister saved the situation.

"Say," she said to the Duke of Edinburgh, "what are you doing standing at the Queen's side? Aren't you supposed to stand one foot behind her, or something?"

Philip regarded the lady with glacial wit and replied, "You're quite right, Madam. I am expected to stand behind her majesty. But we went to a football match today and became real chummy."

Getting back to the institution of these gigantic smorgasbords we call supermarkets, and the latest opening, seems that the big impetus has been demonstrations of same at various fairs through the world. Yugoslavia liked the supermarket plan so much, after being exposed to it in the Zagreb Grand Fair of 1957, that it plans 60 of them. West Germany now has 3,100 such markets, 200 of them in West Berlin alone. East Berlin has one. England and France have yielded slowly—tradition, you know — but surely. Seventy such markets have bloomed in Italy, another tough nut to crack, in the wake of the model exhibit which Logan's group and the Department of Agriculture set up in Rome.

The Iron Curtain countries like supermarkets for a different reason than you do. It builds the ego of their oppressed peoples. The report from Zabrze is that the store is popular because "it gives the customer the feeling that he counts." Pathetic, isn't it? But liberty to select what one wants, freedom of choice, comes in many different sizes. In Zabrze and elsewhere behind the curtain, a modicum of freedom emerges from such rights. It isn't much. But it is better than what went before. We never thought of a supermarket as a tool in American diplomacy, but that's precisely what it is becoming.

Quit shoving.

Democrats To Make Appointments

Two appointments from the now-limited "green bag" of county jobs must be made soon—county tax collector, and member of the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners.

The new collector comes under the central tax collection system which was passed by the General Assembly during the last three-month session.

The first head of the department which will be established in Cumberland will be nominated from a list submitted by the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee.

The appointment must be made by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners during the first week in January.

Then the collector must take office in April and the employes in his office must be named the first week in April.

Prominently mentioned as having the tax collector job pinned down is William B. Orndorff, this city, who has been prominent in Young Democratic circles in both the Allegany County and Maryland organizations.

He is an employe of the Wilson Hardware Company and formerly was associated with the Maryland Department of Employment Security.

Reported to have the inside track on the liquor board appointment is Edward J. Ryan, of Frostburg.

Estel C. Kelley, who resigned from the General Assembly as a delegate two years ago to accept a liquor board appointment, was elected a delegate and must resign the county alcoholic beverage post before the legislature convenes in January. The term would run four and one half years.

The law on the appointment states that the job goes to a member of the party which tallied the most aggregate votes for county commissioner in the most recent election.

The governor will make the appointment on the recommendation of the Democratic State Central Committee as two Democrats scored the most votes in the county commissioner race.

Other members of the liquor board are Stanley Hamilton, Republican whose appointment expires in May, and Howard W. Vandegrift, Democrat who has until 1961 to serve.

There has been some speculation that Kelley's successor would be a Republican, so that the Democrat would get the six-year term as Hamilton's replacement.

Baby Sitting Project Finally Gets Customers

Members of the Junior Women's Civic Club have been baby sitting in vain at the Union Street Building, and it is proving a little "costly" for the mothers.

The group decided to sponsor the project for the convenience of shoppers who have young children.

However, only two mothers have taken advantage of the project, one Wednesday and one yesterday. Yesterday Randee Smith of 519 Washington Street spent several enjoyable hours at the toyland, and today little Johnny Powers, 606 Washington Street, was being well taken care of by two mothers.

The service is being supervised by mothers who are members of the civic group, and who have been hiring sitters to watch their children while they babysit at the center.

Yesterday the little youngster from the West Side was really having a big time at the center. A local company sent over a movie projector and films, and it looked like Johnny was going to have his own private show.

The civic group also went to the trouble of seeing that plenty of milk and cookies were on hand for the youngsters.

The services will be offered again today from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. and from 6 to 9 p. m. It is hoped that more parents will take advantage of the project today.

Japanese Insist On Civil Rights

Japan has proved that it is a democracy in fact as well as in name in the past few weeks. It has done so in some eyebrow-raising ways—with fists, words, placards, parades and strikes. And the issue so vigorously fought in the name of democracy will probably have to prevail sooner or later anyway. But for now democracy prevails.

Involved was a government-sponsored bill to give the police considerably increased authority over the people. Opposed to Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and his ruling Democratic-Liberal Party were organized labor, the press and a large segment of the articulate public.

The government insisted it must have stronger police powers to combat the rising crime rate, particularly among teen-age gangs.

But many Japanese could bitterly recall the days before the defeat of Japan when the police controlled not only their actions but their thoughts. A Japanese who stopped to ask a policeman directions had to take off his hat, bow and stand at attention.

The Japanese didn't want that again.

Objective observers, including the foreign press, don't think liberty as such was at stake. And they suspect that the government will eventually get what it wants, because it must have it to protect life and property.

But the battle inside and outside the Japanese Diet (parliament) showed that public opinion does count in Japan. All concede that it was public opinion and not leftwing labor that defeated the police bill.

The public showed itself as more democratic-minded than its leaders suspected. And public and press were shown as willing to fight for their liberties.

Democracy is still a tender plant in Japan and its future is by no means assured. But the country is far from the autocratic state it was only 13 years ago.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Free Press

The first essential of a free press is the ability for publications to earn expenses without depending upon subsidies. The moment a newspaper is forced to accept a subsidy from a political party or a government or a group of rich men for continued existence, then it ceases to be free. Except in those countries where the press depends upon advertising can it be politically and socially free, not because advertisers are idealists but because they cannot afford to mix their business with their product. Just as many Democrats use soap as Republicans and just as many Republicans use automobiles as Democrats. In fact, even Socialists wash their faces.

Thus, the logic of the situation rather than the virtue either of the advertiser or the newspaper publisher has kept our press singularly free of outside control. The great editors of the 19th and early 20th centuries, before the press faced radio and TV competition, William Randolph Hearst, Joseph Pulitzer, William Allen White, Henry Watterson and I could list dozens of others, would just as soon tell a heavy advertiser to jump into a lake as to take his check. They were men of singular independence and ran their newspapers as they chose without regard for official approval or social relationships.

Also, they were members of a proud calling, important in the affairs of the country and surprisingly unafraid. Their principal task was that of being a constant critic of the government. It was the newspapers which performed many of the tasks which Congressional committees do today. Unafraid, their reporters were out to catch the thieves in public office and it was newspaper editors and newspaper cartoonists who exposed the sanctimonious stuffed-shirts who posed as saints and robbed the poor. Tom Nast and F. B. Opper, to mention two great names, served America as any soldier in the field. Lincoln Steffens, Charles Edward Russell, Upton Sinclair and dozens of other daring men freely spoke their minds and saved human beings and the country.

That was a wholesome function of the press and still is, but to maintain this strong position the press must be financially independent. It must be able to say to an advertiser that if he does not care for the way the paper is managed, he can take his wares elsewhere. It must be possible for newspaper editors and publishers to avoid entangling friendships. It means that each newspaper group is a fraternity of men who respect each other's integrity and work for something more than their money pay.

If American newspapers do not seem to be as courageous as they used to be, there are reasons and the reasons are not far to seek:

1. The cost of operations of a newspaper has gone up beyond reason, principally because of labor costs and the cost of paper. Labor costs rise as the press is increasingly proletarized by labor unions which now dominate the working staff in all departments, including the editorial. Also, it has become increasingly difficult to fire employes which means that dead-heads can continue to hold positions not because of ability but because of union protection. One of the most severe difficulties of current newspaper management is the inability of management to tell a reporter to go to some other newspaper where his wares would be more welcome.

Perhaps that is why there are no newspaper writers of the brilliance of Edgar Allan Poe and O. Henry who did find editorial refuge in the old "New York Sun." Today, such men would take their union pay, work 40 hours a week on a newspaper and spend the rest of the day being a press agent for some restaurant or a presumptive star.

2. Another difficulty is government censorship of news. Were there no columnists, daring, not afraid to be called liars, government officials would find ways of so manipulating the news as to make all publications, newspapers, magazines, radio and TV, creatures of government press agents. The columnists still break through this very tight band which the government has set about the truth. This difficulty arises out of the permanent war during which government officials take advantage of public nervousness to protect their own errors and their own lies.

As long as this is possible, the danger is that the press loses its social value as the protector of the people.

'I Prefer The Good Old Russian-Type Election'

Republican Administration Lacking In Unity

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — What the Republican Administration needs more than anything else nowadays is some serious deliberation on how to maintain unity within its own ranks — starting with the Cabinet itself. For, unless the top men of the Administration have a clear idea of what alienates large segments of Republican voters, the 1960 election might as well be written off as a hopeless proposition for the Republican Party.

Three instances of lack of teamwork and of understanding of public sentiment can be cited. They involve Attorney General William P. Rogers, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Arthur Flemming, and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell — all able and honorable men.

The Attorney general made a speech the other day which aroused the ire of many Northern Republicans. He may not have intended it as a threat of governmental blackmail, but it hardly behooves the head of the Department of Justice — which is charged only with law enforcement — to be issuing veiled warnings that the national government might withhold certain "favors," such as the location or expansion of federal facilities, from areas where there are "community tensions resulting from racial prejudices." The Department is supposed to win its cases in court, not on the stump.

To exploit fears of loss of industrial development by certain states on account of the school "integration" controversy is to add fuel to the flames. Theoretically, it is the Southern vote — forfeited by the Republicans, anyhow — which is affected, but actually there is a substantial number of Republicans outside the South who are deeply concerned about the Administration's use of military force in the South.

A poll taken by a reputable and unbiased organization during the recent political campaign in California showed that "integration" was the top issue with the voters in that state. This means there was considerable opposition to the Administration's handling of the school problem, especially the use of troops in Little Rock.

This correspondent's mail indicates that in the North and West there is about a 50-50 division on the "integration" question and that many Republicans stay away from the polls to express their protest on this issue. Certainly, so far as the Negro wards in the big cities are concerned, the Administration is not getting much mileage out of the issue. Nearly all went Democratic, as usual, in the elections last month.

Secretary Flemming may not have intended it that way, but his hint, in a public statement last week on federal aid for schools, that such aid might be withheld in a way to influence the outcome of the "integration" controversy did not make a good impression on those Republicans in the North and West who do not believe the taxpayers' money should be manipulated arbitrarily by any Administration. They believe the sole criterion should be the purposes set forth in the legislation passed by Congress, which specifies the nature of any federal subsidies or grants to be made to schools, public and private. The announcement said that the U. S. Office of Education "will consider each application for such loans on its merits," and then went on to say flatly, even without a hearing, that the private schools at Little Rock "would not be likely to meet the conditions indicated above which are required for a sound loan."

Last but not least is the spectacle of a Secretary of Labor defying the principle laid down by the President and Vice President when they told the voters of California that "right to work" laws constitute a "local" issue and that the Eisenhower Administration would take no part either way. Whenever the top men in a party set a strategy, it might be assumed that all members of the Cabinet would follow it. But, in speeches in Minnesota during the recent campaign, Mr. Mitchell publicly denounced as "phony" the "right to work" laws of the states. These are the laws that prohibit compulsory unionization and protect the civil rights of the worker. Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield last week made an excellent speech in New York City before the National Association of Manufacturers which pleased the Conservatives. He warned against a labor-bossed Congress in January. But the question is: did he speak for the Administration?

As a postscript, it might be noted that Mrs. Ruth Murray resigned as Vice Chairman of the Republican Party in Wisconsin this week because, she says, she would rather not work in the next two years for a party which might be turned over to "modern" Republicans. She charges that the Republican Party in the state and nationally has abandoned Conservative Republican principles.

The Republican Party needs some kind of unity at the top. It can hardly win any "left wing" votes, as these are on the Democratic Party side nowadays anyway. So, it might be asked, what is the sense of alienating the anti-radical and conservative votes? The answer heard often is that 't'hey have nowhere else to go." Sometimes they don't go anywhere — they just stay at home, and the Republican Party in 1960 will need every Republican voter it can persuade to go to the polls.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

Free medical service will be offered British skiers who happen to get banged up while sailing down and off the peaks of Norway, it's announced. So, if they break a leg it'll be "on the house" as well as the mountain.

A lady baboon, escaped from the Frankfurt, Germany, zoo, was caught after she climbed a church steeple. The critter had a high time—while it lasted.

Forty-seven of 60 political prisoners who escaped from a detention camp in Ireland were quickly recaptured. Maybe it was just too cold outside.

Two men flying across a Rhodesian jungle report they spotted a herd of 20 pink-hued elephants. We believe they really did—because it wasn't Saturday night and there wasn't a saloon within 100 miles.

Things are getting hot down in Brazil. Not politically—the temperature. The mercury soared to 104 degrees in the shade!

Two persons split a record $840,744 British soccer pool payoff. There's a case of both parties getting the lion's share!

It's only natural that those two lucky Britons would wind up even-stephen. Each picked five games to end in ties—and they did!

The Soviet government has decreed that hereafter Saturday, not Sunday, is to be the Russian day of rest. A sort of Red red-letter day?

Blood Typing Still Needs Much Research

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The blood type is inherited and the number of persons with O, A, B, or AB depends upon the racial mixtures in a community. One type will be commoner in small, isolated villages where whole families belonging to the same blood group have intermarried for years.

The distribution follows the usual pattern in areas where people of various origins have intermarried throughout generations. Thus, in the United States 39.2 per cent of the whites are A, 13.5 per cent are B, 42.2 per cent are O, and 4.1 per cent are AB. Among Negroes the percentages are 29.5, 15.5, 51.5, and 3.5. Utah Indians were tested; 2.6 per cent were A and 97.4 were O.

Despite these over-all averages the percentage varies considerably in populations of the four corners of any country. Differences of between 5 and 10 per cent in each group are not unusual. The same can be said of other human characteristics, such as head shape, nose size, and ear protrusion.

How accurate is our method of typing blood? Errors due to technic and to chance are more likely to occur in field sampling studies than in well run laboratories. Examples of mistakes were mentioned recently by Dr. Alexander Manuila, of Geneva, Switzerland. Errors as high as 8.8 per cent occurred in testing a series of 2,050 men in the armed services. In another study, 10 per cent of infants of blood type AB were classified as B.

Blook banks in Illinois were asked to test a sample belonging to type AB and 45 out of 205 banks failed to identify it correctly, classifying it as B.

An international debate is going on over the question of whether persons belonging to different blood groups differ in their susceptibility to certain diseases of adult life. On one side of the argument are scientists who find an association between blood types A, B, and O and certain diseases such as cancer of the stomach, peptic ulcer, pernicious anemia diabetes, or the toxemias of pregnancy.

On the other side is a group of statisticians, anthropologists, and physicians who question the validity of this evidence. The answer reverts to the accuracy of blood tests done on large numbers of people.

SMARTING TONGUE

G. J. writes: What causes the tongue to feel as if it were burned? Smarting is worse after eating cold food such as ice cream.

REPLY

Inflammation and irritation are the most common causes in persons who otherwise are healthy. Burning tongue also occurs in pernicious anemia, vitamin B deficiencies, and gastro-intestinal disorders.

STOP PRESSING

G. S. writes: When I press my neck below the ears, I become real dizzy. What's wrong?

REPLY

Pressure on certain blood vessels and nerves in the neck is capable of doing this in certain persons, through alteration of the circulation.

EPILEPSY AND SHOCK

G. F. writes: Could a severe emotional shock cause epilepsy?

REPLY

The cause of epilepsy is not known but the majority of victims develop the disease without encountering an emotional upheaval.

NEURITIS AND B

F. B. writes: Why is vitamin B advised in neuritis?

REPLY

Because this vitamin complex, especially B1, improves normal nerve function. It is most effective when neuritis is due to vitamin B deficiency.

TOMORROW: Browsing.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Clinton School Paper Expresses The Vitality Of American Youth

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — In the entrance hall of the bombed-out Clinton (Tenn.) high school when I visited it last October was a placard which read: "Welcome freshmen! The Dragon's Tale! 10 cents."

Surrounded by broken glass, twisted lockers, and shattered plaster, that sign still stood, announcing the beginning of the new year for the school paper. Publication of The Dragon's Tale was necessarily suspended after the October 5 explosion, but recently a new issue hit the newsstands of Oak Ridge and Clinton.

That issue is symbolic—symbolic of the determination of youth, the teachers and the school board of Clinton not to be deterred by hate. The new Dragon's Tale is replete with cartoons, photos of sports events, and such snappy headlines as "Seniors Swoon Over Class Rings." It also tells in a front-page editorial the story of the school's comeback.

In these days when the American people face a battle of wits from the toughest competitor we have ever known, the editorial is worth noting:

"Once again our school and community have found themselves in the nation's spotlight . . . Two years ago emotions and prejudices were so strong that this paper did not make any attempt to cover the story. Today's story is different.

"During the past two weeks no inner turmoil was evident inside the school. Upper classmen and faculty felt very hopeful of the coming year. Class and clubs were meeting; activities were being planned; seniors were inquiring about the arrival of their rings. Juniors were talking about their play, and freshmen were becoming an integral part of our big family of 870 students. Sunday, October 5, changed that.

After The Bombing

"At 7:45 a. m. Monday, October 6, the faculty met in a dark and cold gymnasium—a gymnasium left that way as a result of the bombing. Unanimously the faculty agreed to carry on. When the student body poured in at the regular school hour, spirits were never higher; the student body was never stronger. Somehow we got through the next three hours."

The editor of The Dragon's Tale then recounts in detail the finding of another temporary school at Oak Ridge, 10 miles away, cleaning it out, assigning rooms, finding desks, and opening it in three short days.

"At 9:15 a. m. Thursday, October 9, Clinton High School on wheels moved into Oak Ridge. Mixed emotions of sadness and thankfulness were reflected in the faces of those present. For the first time in history (probably) students were delighted to have their books. By Friday, every nook and corner having been inspected, school became school again.

"Perhaps time will erase the initial feeling of loss, the feeling of physical sickness that one or several persons could have so much hate and venom that it would destroy reason and, therefore, valuable property. Out of evil does come good strong school spirit, a feeling of oneness . . . Whoever we are or wherever we may be, as long as there are CHS students to remember, to reminisce and to carry on, the traditions, the spirit, and the real Clinton High School will live forever."

So wrote the editor of The Dragon's Tale, describing a disaster on October 5, 1958, perhaps as serious as the disaster of sputnik on October 4, 1957. For, on October 5, 1958, fear and hate had crept into the hearts of the free American people.

New High School

There is another chapter to the Clinton school bombing which The Dragon's Tale hasn't had a chance to cover, but which will be concluded this Sunday, December 14, when Billy Graham holds a big mass meeting in the only high school building left by the dynamiters—the gymnasium.

This chapter is how thousands of other children in other schools throughout the country contributed nickels and dimes to help rebuild the Clinton schoolhouse. That story has been partly told in this column. It could never be fully told, however, partly for lack of space, partly through inability to describe the outpouring of generosity and sympathy from so many people.

Thanks to this outpouring, and thanks especially to the generosity of the building trades unions which have given the largest contribution of all, and thanks in part to the fact that the government has finally been jogged into parting with some cash, the Clinton schoolhouse will not be rebuilt.

And historians may record that this American determination to continue education in a little town in the mountains of Tennessee was one of the great victories of the cold war. For whereas people cannot build satellites to compensate for the sputnik defeat of October 4, 1957, they can and will build a school to compensate for the hate defeat of October 5, 1958.

Lame Ducks

Jonathan Daniels, aide to Harry Truman and now editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, once said: "They never go back to Pocatello." . . . Ex-Sen. "Molly" Malone of Nevada will now live in Washington, D. C., not Nevada . . . Defeated Congressman Errett P. Scrivner of Kansas City, Kans., tells friends at Burning Tree Country Club (where Ike golfs) that he is mulling over two or three administration jobs that are to be filled . . . Cliff Clevenger of Bryan, Ohio, long known as the leading sourpuss on Capitol Hill, in private life is living up to his Congressional reputation. He has moved out of his home district to Tiffin, Ohio. His successor, Delbert Latta, also a Republican, who beat Clevenger's endorsed candidate, has never received a word of congratulation from crusty Cliff . . . Jonathan is right—whether it be Bryan, Ohio, or Pocatello—they don't go home. Maybe that's why incoming Congress find housing so expensive in Washington.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The intern stood at the foot of the bed with the nurse. He looked young and handsome in his starched whites. The nurse was plump. She held the chart and looked at the old lady in the bed. "It's strange," the intern said. "She's 84. She responded to dicumerol. She's well, but she's not well." The old lady stared at the ceiling. She had a glass eye and she could see only one side of the room.

The little house was bright with lights. In the kitchen, the young women arranged the sweet buns on a big platter and put up some rolled ham and seeded rolls. The smell of coffee seeped through the rooms. "Come on," Lois yelled to the men, "sit down."

The husbands came out to the kitchen slowly, looking for places to sit, dragging the chairs around the big kitchen table. The women sat with them and Lois poured the steaming coffee and set her silver creamer and sugar bowl to impress her brothers. There was some stirring and big hands reached for the buns and small conversation.

Lois sat her coffee on the drainboard and sat on the small ladder stool. "We have to think of something for momma," she said. "Joe said I should call all of us together for a talk."

The eating slowed. Nobody wanted to be the first to talk. Joe coughed. "We'd take her," he said, "but Lois says we ain't got the room."

"Well," Lois said, "I have to consider my own family, too. Joe never got along good with momma." The sentence hung in air. Joe, a big man who sat spread-legged and who wheezed, tried to look defensive. The oldest son, Robbie, flicked his thinning hair. "She loaned him three hundred once," he said.

"We're not going to bring that up forever," said Joe. "She got her money." The second son, Timothy, smiled vaguely. "This is no place for arguments," he said. "We're all in the same boat. Momma is in the hospital and they want to send her home. Now what? We have a big house, but we got four children, too. If Helen and me has to take care of Momma too—and believe me, she's going to take a lot of care— then we're sunk." His wife, a tiny, skinny blonde, looked up from her coffee. "I'd quit," she said, "I couldn't take it."

Johnny was the youngest and he said that he didn't make enough money. Beesides, his wife worked and, even though they have no children, who would be there to watch momma all day. Lois was always the strongest of the four and she said that it was obvious that no one could take care of momma, and she wasn't going to argue about it, but what could they do with her?

"I don't like to talk about institutions," said Robbie, as he wiped the powdered sugar from the corners of his mouth, "but what else is left? Friend of mine works for the county and he says the old folks get the best of care. They even have movies that we don't see."

"Life is life," Joe said, his hands outspread. "We all have to face it. If there's no place for momma, then there's no place. She can't walk with phlebitis. Her mind wanders. Half the time, she doesn't know what she's doing. She's better off in a place where she'll get good care."

"Do they charge?" Helen said. She and Timothy were paying off a mortgage. Robbie shook his head. "All we have to do is to get momma to take a pauper's oath and the county does the rest."

They sat around the table, agreeing with one another. They finished the buns, and Johnny's wife said she had to be up at six, and the group broke up slowly. "Anyway," said Lois, "we're all thinking of momma's own good. Maybe we all ought to go up and see her Saturday. I don't want to have to be the one to do the dirty work."

Joe said that they could all meet in the hospital lobby at one o'clock. Timothy saw the Christmas wreath in the hall and he asked Lois when it was going to be hung. "That Joe," she said in fatigue. "I asked him a dozen times to nail it on the front door."

They kissed goodbye and hunched into the collars of their coats. The four children and their mates had come to a decision without an argument.

In the hospital, the intern checked the old lady's chart and smiled down at the nurse. "I learn something every day," he said. "I just found out that a glass eye doesn't cry." . . .

Japanese Insist On Civil Rights

Japan has proved that it is a democracy in fact as well as in name in the past few weeks. It has done so in some eyebrow-raising ways—with fists, words, placards, parades and strikes. And the issue so vigorously fought in the name of democracy will probably have to prevail sooner or later anyway. But for now democracy prevails.

Involved was a government-sponsored bill to give the police considerably increased authority over the people. Opposed to Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and his ruling Democratic-Liberal Party were organized labor, the press and a large segment of the articulate public.

The government insisted it must have stronger police powers to combat the rising crime rate, particularly among teen-age gangs.

But many Japanese could bitterly recall the days before the defeat of Japan when the police controlled not only their actions but their thoughts. A Japanese who stopped to ask a policeman directions had to take off his hat, bow and stand at attention.

The Japanese didn't want that again.

Objective observers, including the foreign press, don't think liberty as such was at stake. And they suspect that the government will eventually get what it wants, because it must have it to protect life and property.

But the battle inside and outside the Japanese Diet (parliament) showed that public opinion does count in Japan. All concede that it was public opinion and not leftwing labor that defeated the police bill.

The public showed itself as more democratic-minded than its leaders suspected. And public and press were shown as willing to fight for their liberties.

Democracy is still a tender plant in Japan and its future is by no means assured. But the country is far from the autocratic state it was only 13 years ago.

These Days

The Free Press

The first essential of a free press is the ability for publications to earn expenses without depending upon subsidies. The moment a newspaper is forced to accept a subsidy from a political party or a government or a group of rich men for continued existence, then it ceases to be free. Except in those countries where the press depends upon advertising can it be politically and socially free, not because advertisers are idealists but because they cannot afford to mix their business with their product. Just as many Democrats use soap as Republicans and just as many Republicans use automobiles as Democrats. In fact, even Socialists wash their faces.

Thus, the logic of the situation rather than the virtue either of the advertiser or the newspaper publisher has kept our press singularly free of outside control. The great editors of the 19th and early 20th centuries, before the press faced radio and TV competition, William Randolph Hearst, Joseph Pulitzer, William Allen White, Henry Watterson and I could list dozens of others, would just as soon tell a heavy advertiser to jump into a lake as to take his check. They were men of singular independence and ran their newspapers as they chose without regard for official approval or social relationships.

Also, they were members of a proud calling, important in the affairs of the country and surprisingly unafraid. Their principal task was that of being a constant critic of the government. It was the newspapers which performed many of the tasks which Congressional committees do today. Unafraid, their reporters were out to catch the thieves in public office and it was newspaper editors and newspaper cartoonists who exposed the sanctimonious stuffed-shirts who posed as saints and robbed the poor. Tom Nast and F. B. Opper, to mention two great names, served America as any soldier in the field. Lincoln Steffens, Charles Edward Russell, Upton Sinclair and dozens of other daring men freely spoke their minds and saved human beings and the country.

That was a wholesome function of the press and still is, but to maintain this strong position the press must be financially independent. It must be able to say to an advertiser that if he does not care for the way the paper is managed, he can take his wares elsewhere. It must be possible for newspaper editors and publishers to avoid entangling friendships. It means that each newspaper group is a fraternity of men who respect each other's integrity and work for something more than their money pay.

If American newspapers do not seem to be as courageous as they used to be, there are reasons and the reasons are not far to seek:

1. The cost of operations of a newspaper has gone up beyond reason, principally because of labor costs and the cost of paper. Labor costs rise as the press is increasingly proletarized by labor unions which now dominate the working staff in all departments, including the editorial. Also, it has become increasingly difficult to fire employes which means that dead-heads can continue to hold positions not because of ability but because of union protection. One of the most severe difficulties of current newspaper management is the inability of management to tell a reporter to go to some other newspaper where his wares would be more welcome.

Perhaps that is why there are no newspaper writers of the brilliance of Edgar Allan Poe and O. Henry who did find editorial refuge in the old "New York Sun." Today, such men would take their union pay, work 40 hours a week on a newspaper and spend the rest of the day being a press agent for some restaurant or a presumptive star.

2. Another difficulty is government censorship of news. Were there no columnists, daring, not afraid to be called liars, government officials would find ways of so manipulating the news as to make all publications, newspapers, magazines, radio and TV, creatures of government press agents. The columnists still break through this very tight band which the government has set about the truth. This difficulty arises out of the permanent war during which government officials take advantage of public nervousness to protect their own errors and their own lies.

As long as this is possible, the danger is that the press loses its social value as the protector of the people.

Clinton School Paper Expresses The Vitality Of American Youth

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — In the entrance hall of the bombed-out Clinton (Tenn.) high school when I visited it last October was a placard which read: "Welcome freshmen! The Dragon's Tale! 10 cents."

Surrounded by broken glass, twisted lockers, and shattered plaster, that sign still stood, announcing the beginning of the new year for the school paper. Publication of The Dragon's Tale was necessarily suspended after the October 5 explosion, but recently a new issue hit the newsstands of Oak Ridge and Clinton.

That issue is symbolic—symbolic of the determination of youth, the teachers and the school board of Clinton not to be deterred by hate. The new Dragon's Tale is replete with cartoons, photos of sports events, and such snappy headlines as "Seniors Swoon Over Class Rings." It also tells in a front-page editorial the story of the school's comeback.

In these days when the American people face a battle of wits from the toughest competitor we have ever known, the editorial is worth noting:

"Once again our school and community have found themselves in the nation's spotlight . . . Two years ago emotions and prejudices were so strong that this paper did not make any attempt to cover the story. Today's story is different.

"During the past two weeks no inner turmoil was evident inside the school. Upper classmen and faculty felt very hopeful of the coming year. Class and clubs were meeting; activities were being planned; seniors were inquiring about the arrival of their rings. Juniors were talking about their play, and freshmen were becoming an integral part of our big family of 870 students. Sunday, October 5, changed that.

After The Bombing

"At 7:45 a. m. Monday, October 6, the faculty met in a dark and cold gymnasium—a gymnasium left that way as a result of the bombing. Unanimously the faculty agreed to carry on. When the student body poured in at the regular school hour, spirits were never higher; the student body was never stronger. Somehow we got through the next three hours."

The editor of The Dragon's Tale then recounts in detail the finding of another temporary school at Oak Ridge, 10 miles away, cleaning it out, assigning rooms, finding desks, and opening it in three short days.

"At 9:15 a. m. Thursday, October 9, Clinton High School on wheels moved into Oak Ridge. Mixed emotions of sadness and thankfulness were reflected in the faces of those present. For the first time in history (probably) students were delighted to have their books. By Friday, every nook and corner having been inspected, school became school again.

"Perhaps time will erase the initial feeling of loss, the feeling of physical sickness that one or several persons could have so much hate and venom that it would destroy reason and, therefore, valuable property. Out of evil does come good strong school spirit, a feeling of oneness . . . Whoever we are or wherever we may be, as long as there are CHS students to remember, to reminisce and to carry on, the traditions, the spirit, and the real Clinton High School will live forever."

So wrote the editor of The Dragon's Tale, describing a disaster on October 5, 1958, perhaps as serious as the disaster of sputnik on October 4, 1957. For, on October 5, 1958, fear and hate had crept into the hearts of the free American people.

New High School

There is another chapter to the Clinton school bombing which The Dragon's Tale hasn't had a chance to cover, but which will be concluded this Sunday, December 14, when Billy Graham holds a big mass meeting in the only high school building left by the dynamiters—the gymnasium.

This chapter is how thousands of other children in other schools throughout the country contributed nickels and dimes to help rebuild the Clinton schoolhouse. That story has been partly told in this column. It could never be fully told, however, partly for lack of space, partly through inability to describe the outpouring of generosity and sympathy from so many people.

Thanks to this outpouring, and thanks especially to the generosity of the building trades unions which have given the largest contribution of all, and thanks in part to the fact that the government has finally been jogged into parting with some cash, the Clinton schoolhouse will not be rebuilt.

And historians may record that this American determination to continue education in a little town in the mountains of Tennessee was one of the great victories of the cold war. For whereas people cannot build satellites to compensate for the sputnik defeat of October 4, 1957, they can and will build a school to compensate for the hate defeat of October 5, 1958.

Lame Ducks

Jonathan Daniels, aide to Harry Truman and now editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, once said: "They never go back to Pocatello." . . . Ex-Sen. "Molly" Malone of Nevada will now live in Washington, D. C., not Nevada . . . Defeated Congressman Errett P. Scrivner of Kansas City, Kans., tells friends at Burning Tree Country Club (where Ike golfs) that he is mulling over two or three administration jobs that are to be filled . . . Cliff Clevenger of Bryan, Ohio, long known as the leading sourpuss on Capitol Hill, in private life is living up to his Congressional reputation. He has moved out of his home district to Tiffin, Ohio. His successor, Delbert Latta, also a Republican, who beat Clevenger's endorsed candidate, has never received a word of congratulation from crusty Cliff . . . Jonathan is right—whether it be Bryan, Ohio, or Pocatello—they don't go home. Maybe that's why incoming Congress find housing so expensive in Washington.

Republican Administration Lacking In Unity

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — What the Republican Administration needs more than anything else nowadays is some serious deliberation on how to maintain unity within its own ranks — starting with the Cabinet itself. For, unless the top men of the Administration have a clear idea of what alienates large segments of Republican voters, the 1960 election might as well be written off as a hopeless proposition for the Republican Party.

Three instances of lack of teamwork and of understanding of public sentiment can be cited. They involve Attorney General William P. Rogers, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Arthur Flemming, and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell — all able and honorable men.

The Attorney general made a speech the other day which aroused the ire of many Northern Republicans. He may not have intended it as a threat of governmental blackmail, but it hardly behooves the head of the Department of Justice — which is charged only with law enforcement — to be issuing veiled warnings that the national government might withhold certain "favors," such as the location or expansion of federal facilities, from areas where there are "community tensions resulting from racial prejudices." The Department is supposed to win its cases in court, not on the stump.

To exploit fears of loss of industrial development by certain states on account of the school "integration" controversy is to add fuel to the flames. Theoretically, it is the Southern vote — forfeited by the Republicans, anyhow — which is affected, but actually there is a substantial number of Republicans outside the South who are deeply concerned about the Administration's use of military force in the South.

A poll taken by a reputable and unbiased organization during the recent political campaign in California showed that "integration" was the top issue with the voters in that state. This means there was considerable opposition to the Administration's handling of the school problem, especially the use of troops in Little Rock.

This correspondent's mail indicates that in the North and West there is about a 50-50 division on the "integration" question and that many Republicans stay away from the polls to express their protest on this issue. Certainly, so far as the Negro wards in the big cities are concerned, the Administration is not getting much mileage out of the issue. Nearly all went Democratic, as usual, in the elections last month.

Secretary Flemming may not have intended it that way, but his hint, in a public statement last week on federal aid for schools, that such aid might be withheld in a way to influence the outcome of the "integration" controversy did not make a good impression on those Republicans in the North and West who do not believe the taxpayers' money should be manipulated arbitrarily by any Administration. They believe the sole criterion should be the purposes set forth in the legislation passed by Congress, which specifies the nature of any federal subsidies or grants to be made to schools, public and private. The announcement said that the U. S. Office of Education "will consider each application for such loans on its merits," and then went on to say flatly, even without a hearing, that the private schools at Little Rock "would not be likely to meet the conditions indicated above which are required for a sound loan."

Last but not least is the spectacle of a Secretary of Labor defying the principle laid down by the President and Vice President when they told the voters of California that "right to work" laws constitute a "local" issue and that the Eisenhower Administration would take no part either way. Whenever the top men in a party set a strategy, it might be assumed that all members of the Cabinet would follow it. But, in speeches in Minnesota during the recent campaign, Mr. Mitchell publicly denounced as "phony" the "right to work" laws of the states. These are the laws that prohibit compulsory unionization and protect the civil rights of the worker. Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield last week made an excellent speech in New York City before the National Association of Manufacturers which pleased the Conservatives. He warned against a labor-bossed Congress in January. But the question is: did he speak for the Administration?

As a postscript, it might be noted that Mrs. Ruth Murray resigned as Vice Chairman of the Republican Party in Wisconsin this week because, she says, she would rather not work in the next two years for a party which might be turned over to "modern" Republicans. She charges that the Republican Party in the state and nationally has abandoned Conservative Republican principles.

The Republican Party needs some kind of unity at the top. It can hardly win any "left wing" votes, as these are on the Democratic Party side nowadays anyway. So, it might be asked, what is the sense of alienating the anti-radical and conservative votes? The answer heard often is that 't'hey have nowhere else to go." Sometimes they don't go anywhere — they just stay at home, and the Republican Party in 1960 will need every Republican voter it can persuade to go to the polls.

Two persons split a record $840,744 British soccer pool payoff. There's a case of both parties getting the lion's share!

It's only natural that those two lucky Britons would wind up even-stephen. Each picked five games to end in ties—and they did!

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The intern stood at the foot of the bed with the nurse. He looked young and handsome in his starched whites. The nurse was plump. She held the chart and looked at the old lady in the bed. "It's strange," the intern said. "She's 84. She responded to dicumerol. She's well, but she's not well." The old lady stared at the ceiling. She had a glass eye and she could see only one side of the room.

The little house was bright with lights. In the kitchen, the young women arranged the sweet buns on a big platter and put up some rolled ham and seeded rolls. The smell of coffee seeped through the rooms. "Come on," Lois yelled to the men, "sit down."

The husbands came out to the kitchen slowly, looking for places to sit, dragging the chairs around the big kitchen table. The women sat with them and Lois poured the steaming coffee and set her silver creamer and sugar bowl to impress her brothers. There was some stirring and big hands reached for the buns and small conversation.

Lois sat her coffee on the drainboard and sat on the small ladder stool. "We have to think of something for momma," she said. "Joe said I should call all of us together for a talk."

The eating slowed. Nobody wanted to be the first to talk. Joe coughed. "We'd take her," he said, "but Lois says we ain't got the room."

"Well," Lois said, "I have to consider my own family, too. Joe never got along good with momma." The sentence hung in air. Joe, a big man who sat spread-legged and who wheezed, tried to look defensive. The oldest son, Robbie, flicked his thinning hair. "She loaned him three hundred once," he said.

"We're not going to bring that up forever," said Joe. "She got her money." The second son, Timothy, smiled vaguely. "This is no place for arguments," he said. "We're all in the same boat. Momma is in the hospital and they want to send her home. Now what? We have a big house, but we got four children, too. If Helen and me has to take care of Momma too—and believe me, she's going to take a lot of care— then we're sunk." His wife, a tiny, skinny blonde, looked up from her coffee. "I'd quit," she said, "I couldn't take it."

Johnny was the youngest and he said that he didn't make enough money. Beesides, his wife worked and, even though they have no children, who would be there to watch momma all day. Lois was always the strongest of the four and she said that it was obvious that no one could take care of momma, and she wasn't going to argue about it, but what could they do with her?

"I don't like to talk about institutions," said Robbie, as he wiped the powdered sugar from the corners of his mouth, "but what else is left? Friend of mine works for the county and he says the old folks get the best of care. They even have movies that we don't see."

"Life is life," Joe said, his hands outspread. "We all have to face it. If there's no place for momma, then there's no place. She can't walk with phlebitis. Her mind wanders. Half the time, she doesn't know what she's doing. She's better off in a place where she'll get good care."

"Do they charge?" Helen said. She and Timothy were paying off a mortgage. Robbie shook his head. "All we have to do is to get momma to take a pauper's oath and the county does the rest."

They sat around the table, agreeing with one another. They finished the buns, and Johnny's wife said she had to be up at six, and the group broke up slowly. "Anyway," said Lois, "we're all thinking of momma's own good. Maybe we all ought to go up and see her Saturday. I don't want to have to be the one to do the dirty work."

Joe said that they could all meet in the hospital lobby at one o'clock. Timothy saw the Christmas wreath in the hall and he asked Lois when it was going to be hung. "That Joe," she said in fatigue. "I asked him a dozen times to nail it on the front door."

They kissed goodbye and hunched into the collars of their coats. The four children and their mates had come to a decision without an argument.

In the hospital, the intern checked the old lady's chart and smiled down at the nurse. "I learn something every day," he said. "I just found out that a glass eye doesn't cry." . . .

Blood Typing Still Needs Much Research

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The blood type is inherited and the number of persons with O, A, B, or A^{B} depends upon the racial mixtures in a community. One type will be commoner in small, isolated villages where whole families belonging to the same blood group have intermarried for years.

The distribution follows the usual pattern in areas where people of various origins have intermarried throughout generations. Thus, in the United States 39.2 per cent of the whites are A, 13.5 per cent are B, 42.2 per cent are O, and 4.1 per cent are AB. Among Negroes the percentages are 29.5, 15.5, 51.5, and 3.5. Utah Indians were tested; 2.6 per cent were A and 97.4 were O.

Despite these over-all averages the percentage varies considerably in populations of the four corners of any country. Differences of between 5 and 10 per cent in each group are not unusual. The same can be said of other human characteristics, such as head shape, nose size, and ear protrusion.

How accurate is our method of typing blood? Errors due to technic and to chance are more likely to occur in field sampling studies than in well run laboratories. Examples of mistakes were mentioned recently by Dr. Alexander Manuila, of Geneva, Switzerland. Errors as high as 8.8 per cent occurred in testing a series of 2,050 men in the armed services. In another study, 10 per cent of infants of blood type AB were classified as B.

Blook banks in Illinois were asked to test a sample belonging to type AB and 45 out of 205 banks failed to identify it correctly, classifying it as B.

An international debate is going on over the question of whether persons belonging to different blood groups differ in their susceptibility to certain diseases of adult life. On one side of the argument are scientists who find an association between blood types A, B, and O and certain diseases such as cancer of the stomach, peptic ulcer, pernicious anemia diabetes, or the toxemias of pregnancy.

On the other side is a group of statisticians, anthropologists, and physicians who question the validity of this evidence. The answer reverts to the accuracy of blood tests done on large numbers of people.

SMARTING TONGUE

G. J. writes: What causes the tongue to feel as if it were burned? Smarting is worse after eating cold food such as ice cream.

REPLY

Inflammation and irritation are the most common causes in persons who otherwise are healthy. Burning tongue also occurs in pernicious anemia, vitamin B deficiencies, and gastrointestinal disorders.

STOP PRESSING

G. S. writes: When I press my neck below the ears, I become real dizzy. What's wrong?

REPLY

Pressure on certain blood vessels and nerves in the neck is capable of doing this in certain persons, through alteration of the circulation.

EPILEPSY AND SHOCK

G. F. writes: Could a severe emotional shock cause epilepsy?

REPLY

The cause of epilepsy is not known but the majority of victims develop the disease without encountering an emotional upheaval.

NEURITIS AND B

F. B. writes: Why is vitamin B advised in neuritis?

REPLY

Mao Not

imentation appears superficially to be a fine way to get it. But the Kremlin learned that to really get the work the Communist society has to pay for it just like any other.

Mao may take the children and raise them in nurseries so that their care may not detract from worker attention to the economic program. But the wails of the Chinese Rachels will be heard over the land, and their tears will one day undermine his attempts to reduce the people to nothing but horsepower.

Ike Host To Justices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower honored the Supreme Court Thursday night with a formal dinner served on gold plates at the first event in this year's abbreviated White House social season.

Contrary to popular impression, the fins of a flying fish do not vibrate in the air. Spectacular glides which delight travelers in all warm seas are the result of momentum derived from sharp bursts of underwater speed. Updrafts sometimes catch the rigid-winged gliders and carry them forward 1,000 feet or more above the surface.

Fall Desserts Better With Fresh Fruits

Autumn, celebrated by good cooks as the time of abundant fresh vegetables, hearty roasts, sausages, and casseroles, is also the season of the classic continental dessert — fresh fruit, crackers, and cheese.

Elegant in its simplicity, this epicurean dessert requires a minimum of preparation, and is often a more satisfactory conclusion to a meal than the customary rich pastries or puddings. Because plums, apples, pears, grapes, and the early oranges are among the most delectable items in Autumn's cornucopia, the cheese and fresh fruit dessert is particularly appropriate when the days turn crisp and cool.

Gourmets says that almost any cheese is suitable for dessert. The classic dessert cheeses include the large, round, red-skinned Edam, a mild, bland product of Holland; Bleu, a creamy, crumbly rich cheese well streaked with blue mold; and Camembert, a pungent cheese of French origin, which when served perfectly is almost as soft and runny as gently melted butter. All cheese should be taken from the refrigerator several hours before serving, and then served at room temperature to bring out the full flavor and texture.

As an ideal accompaniment with the cheese, use new slim-size saltines, which are rectangular and smaller than the customary two-inch square style. The new slim-size saltines promise greater convenience in handling and eating.

Other cheeses which are favorites for dessert include Port du Salut, creamy yellow in color with a fresh buttery flavor and closely resembling its Italian cousin, Bel Paese; Cheddar, a famous variety of American and English cheeses ranging from mild to sharp in flavor; Gorgonzola, originally made in Italy, which is blue-veined, highly aromatic, and strongly flavored; Swiss, similar to Gruyere in light, nutty blandness; Pineapple, which derives its name from its shape, is a sharp, hard cheese which is scraped out of its crusty yellow shell; and Provolone, the famous Italian cheese with a faintly smokey, biting taste.

In addition to the fresh fruit, cheese, and slim-size saltines, you may also wish to serve assorted nuts and good strong coffee — demitasse, if the occasion is formal.

Zucchini Espagnole

To preserve all the delicate flavor of zucchini squash, cut it in thin slices and saute in equal parts Spanish olive oil and butter. For 3 medium-sized squash, you will need 1 tablespoon each batter and olive oil. Slice the squash about ¼-inch thick, cook over low heat, uncovered (this is important), until squash is lightly browned on each side but still crisp. Do not add any water. Serve this way as a vegetable or, for an entree, combine with heated tomato sauce, top with grated cheese, and slip under the broiler just until cheese is melted, being careful not to overcook. If to be served as an entree, allow one medium zucchini for each serving.

To make those holiday tall drinks look attractive, take every second partition out of the ice cube tray. This will give you a longer slimmer, ice cube.

Macaroni, Salmon Make Favorable Casserole Dish

(Makes 4-6 servings)
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
1 1-pound can salmon, drained
1 10-ounce package frozen peas
1 medium-sized onion, thinly sliced

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Melt butter or margarine; add flour, ½ teaspoon salt and pepper; blend. Gradually add milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Bone and flake salmon. Combine salmon, peas, onion and macaroni with white sauce in 4 to 6 individual casseroles. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 30 minutes. Garnish as desired.

Hot Macaroni Salad

(Makes 4 - 6 servings)
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 pound frankfurters, diced
1 medium-sized onion, sliced
½ cup vinegar
1¼ cups diced Swiss cheese (about ¼ pound)
½ cup French dressing
Salt and pepper to taste

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine; add frankfurters and cook until browned on all sides. Add onion and cook 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and cook until cheese melts. Pour frankfurter-cheese mixture over macaroni; toss lightly.

Bacon-Apple Muffins Will Speak For Themselves

"Bacon bits in muffins?"

Very little need be said about these Bacon-Apple Muffins. They speak for themselves when given a chance. You couldn't ask for a muffin that is more deliciously taste-tempting. They will be well worth your time.

In this recipe, bacon drippings play the role of the shortening. When preparing other types of muffins or any baked product, give lard a chance to prove itself. If you are not already familiar with this product for use as a shortening, you'll be pleasantly surprised. Using lard as the shortening, your baked products are bound to win blue ribbons.

Bacon-Apple Muffins

2 cups sifted enriched flour
¼ teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
6 slices bacon
4 to 6 tablespoons bacon drippings
1 egg, beaten
⅓ cup milk
¾ cup applesauce

Grease 12 medium-sized muffin pans. Sift together flour, soda, baking powder, salt and cinnamon. Cook bacon until lightly browned. Cut into small pieces. Mix together egg, milk, applesauce, bacon drippings and pieces of bacon. Add liquid to dry ingredients and stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill muffin pans ⅔ full. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) 18 to 20 minutes. Yield: 12 muffins.

Fruit Sparkle Is Colorful OpenDessert

Rows of colorful, luscious fruit grace the top of this "open face" dessert. There are dark sweet cherries, succulent white pears, golden apricots and peaches and plump green figs. Convenient canned fruits are used so this is a dessert you can whip up in a hurry!

INGREDIENTS:
1 cup uncooked white rice
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
½ cup granulated sugar
1¼ cups light brown sugar, firmly packed
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) figs, drained
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) sliced peaches, drained
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) pitted dark cherries, drained
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) pear halves, drained
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) apricot halves, drained

METHOD: Put the rice, water and salt into a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn heat down. Cover. Simmer 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 to 15 minutes. Spread the rice over a greased shallow baking dish about 8" x 12" x 2". Pour ½ cup of the milk over the rice. Sprinkle with granulated sugar and half of the brown sugar. Place pears in the center, overlapping the halves. Make two rows of figs, one at each end, and two rows of the cherries placing them next to the figs. Add peaches and apricots. Pour the remaining ½ cup milk over the fruit. Sprinkle with the rest of the brown sugar. Bake in a 350°F. oven about 40 minutes or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Spoon milk over any brown sugar which does not dissolve. Serve warm with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream. This recipe makes 8 to 10 servings.

Rice Rockefeller Grand Dish For Menus In Fall

It's easy to have oysters in "the grand manner" this Rockefeller way. There's a splendid topping of buttered crumbs which toasts to a russet brown in the oven. Underneath is the well-seasoned spinach, crisp bacon and tender fluffy rice.

INGREDIENTS:
¾ cup uncooked white rice
1 teaspoon salt
1¾ cups water
6 slices cooked bacon
1 pint oysters, drained (thaw if frozen)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup finely chopped, spinach cooked and salted
½ teaspoon celery salt
2 teaspoons grated or finely chopped onion
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
½ cup dry bread crumbs

METHOD: Put the rice, salt and 1½ cups water into a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid. Simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

Spread the rice over a greased shallow baking dish about 8" x 12" x 2". Pour on the ¼ cup water. Crumble the bacon over the rice. Top with oysters.

Sprinkle with lemon juice. Mix spinach, celery salt, onion, salt and cayenne pepper. Spread over oysters. Mix butter or margarine and bread crumbs. Sprinkle over spinach.

If made ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator, allow to come to room temperature before baking. Bake in a preheated 400°F. oven 15 minutes. Serve immediately garnished with twisted lemon slices.

This recipe makes 6 generous servings.

Pork Loin Finery

In garnishing a platter which is carrying a pork loin roast to the Thanksgiving dinner table, never forget the adaptability of grapes. For a winter hit, simply brush small bunches of green grapes with egg whites which have been beaten until frothy, then sprinkle with granulated sugar. Allow the sugared grapes to set.

Sandwich With Touch Of Holiday

To your many friends who truly love fine food, serve this dainty and delectable Ham Cranberry Sandwich.

The sandwich itself is somewhat traditional — however, it does have that certain holiday touch . . . cranberry sauce.

You couldn't ask for a more slick or quick trick when entertaining.

In purchasing the meat for this unusual ham sandwich, be sure to ask your meat retailer for "boiled" ham.

Ham Cranberry Sandwich

6 slices white bread
Butter or margarine
Lettuce
12 slices "boiled" ham
¾ cup whole cranberry sauce
6 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing

Toast bread slices on both sides. Spread with butter or margarine. Top with lettuce, 2 slices ham, about 2 tablespoons cranberry sauce and 1 teaspoon mayonnaise or salad dressing. Yield: 6 sandwiches.

Artificial flowers worn in the hair or pinned to your dress, can be freshened up by brushing each petal with a damp sponge that has been dipped in starch. Press with warm iron and shape petals while still damp. Trim frayed edges with scissors.

Mao Not

imentation appears superficially to be a fine way to get it. But the Kremlin learned that to really get the work the Communist society has to pay for it just like any other.

Mao may take the children and raise them in nurseries so that their care may not detract from worker attention to the economic program. But the wails of the Chinese Rachels will be heard over the land, and their tears will one day undermine his attempts to reduce the people to nothing but horsepower.

Gingerbread, Hot Coffee Especially Fine In Winter

Did you ever come from the crisp outdoors into a kitchen filled with the fragrance of warm gingerbread and freshly made coffee? All we can say is that it's a fine thing to do anytime at all, but it's especially fine in winter.

To help you do your part to bring this scene to reality—after all, someone has to make that gingerbread! — here is a recipe which is different, delightful and deceptively easy. It's called Sunday-Best Gingerbread because it's somewhat more dressed up than the usual kind. In addition to the spices, you'll see that this recipe also includes marshmallows, chocolate bits and walnut meats. But don't wait 'til Sunday to make it — you'll find it's just as fragrant and good on, say, Wednesday or Friday!

Homemade gingerbread goes with the sharp, clear weather of fall, just as a big potful of steaming coffee goes with both of 'em. Fact is, you couldn't find a better combination to serve after the Saturday game or after a quiet walk in the autumn woods.

Sunday-Best Gingerbread

1 cup hot coffee
⅛ cup shortening
1 cup molasses
½ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
2¾ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon allspice
½ cup miniature marshmallows
½ cup broken walnut meats
½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces

Add hot coffee to shortening and stir until shortening melts. Add molasses and sugar, stirring until sugar dissolves. Add beaten egg. Mix and sift flour, baking soda, salt and spices and add marshmallows, walnuts and chocolate pieces. Add to molasses mixture. Bake in greased 8-inch square pan in moderate oven, 325° about 1 hour. Cut into 9 squares to serve.

IT'S IN THE KNOWING

Frozen steaks and chops to be breaded should be defrosted before cooking. If the meat is not defrosted, the coating will not readily adhere to the meat.

Unusual Veal Dish Fashionable

Smart mother, smart homemaker, smart cook who prepares this smart fashionable dish for her family . . . it's called Veal Surprise.

Boneless veal shoulder which has been cubed combines handsomely with almonds to provide a gourmet's specialty. The almond-veal mixture is served on top of tender noodles.

The cooking liquid from the meat mixture is thickened and poured over the veal and noodle duet. The finishing touch for this whole dish is one tablespoon of poppyseeds which is sprinkled over all just before serving.

A distinctly flavored sauce is always an accepted flavor complement. In this recipe, the toasted almonds and poppyseeds help to contribute to the unusual characteristic found in this combination.

Veal Surprise

2 pounds boneless veal shoulder, cut in 1 inch cubes
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 clove garlic
½ cup water
1 package (8 ounces) medium noodles
½ cup sliced, blanched almonds
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon poppyseeds

Brown veal in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add garlic and water. Cover tightly and simmer 45 minutes or until meat is tender. Cook noodles in boiling water until tender. Drain. Brown almonds in butter or margarine and add to noodles. Place noodles on a large platter. Remove veal cubes and arrange on noodles. Thicken liquid from veal, if necessary, and pour over meat and noodles. Sprinkle with poppyseeds. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

Potatoes, Cheese, Ham Are Good In Casseroles

(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

1 tablespoon butter
¼ cup finely chopped onion
2 cups ham strips, julienne style
2 cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 (6 oz.) package sharp processed American cheddar cheese slices, shredded
2 medium size potatoes, boiled and sliced

Melt butter in small skillet; add onions; saute until tender. Add ham strips; brown lightly. Pour liquefied instant nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler. Sprinkle flour, salt and pepper over surface of milk; beat with rotary beater until blended. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add Worcestershire sauce and cheese; stir until cheese melts and sauce is well blended. Combine ham, onions, potatoes and cheese sauce in 1½-quart casserole. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) until sauce bubbles and top is golden brown, about 20 minutes.

Party Spread

The approaching holiday season will undoubtedly mean some entertainment in many homes. If in need of a party spread as a before-dinner appetizer, try this nippy combination. Mix together 1 pound Braunschweiger sausage, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 3 tablespoons grated onion, 1 hard-cooked egg which has been chopped fine, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard and ¼ teaspoon salt. Shape into a ball and chill in the refrigerator for several hours. Before serving, allow to stand at room temperature 15 minutes for proper spreading consistency.

Contrary to popular impression, the fins of a flying fish do not vibrate in the air. Spectacular glides which delight travelers in all warm seas are the result of momentum derived from sharp bursts of underwater speed. Updrafts sometimes catch the rigid-winged gliders and carry them forward 1,000 feet or more above the surface.

Try Serving Winter Squash In Pie And Pudding Dishes

The strained pulp of winter squash makes an excellent substitute for pumpkin in pies and puddings. Winter squash is either cut in chunks and baked in the oven or steamed and mashed. Many seasonings can be used to vary the flavor.

Baked Squash

Cut large squash into pieces for individual servings with rind left on, cut acorn squash in half if they are used. Remove seeds and stringy portion. Arrange in shallow pan with a little water in the bottom. Brush squash with melted butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in an oven 375°F. for 40 to 60 minutes or until squash is tender.

For acorn squash, bake cut side down for 30 minutes, then bake cut side up for 30 minutes, after adding butter and brown sugar or honey, butter and grated cheese, or partially cooked sausage patties. In place of any of these seasonings or filling hollow centers could be filled with cooked peas or lima beans before serving.

Whipped Squash

4 cups peeled, diced Hubbard squash
Salt and pepper
1 tsp. sugar
1 tbsp heavy cream
2 tbsp butter
Chopped parsley

Place the squash in a colander over a pan of boiling water. Cover tightly and steam for 20 minutes, until the squash is very tender. Drain thoroughly. Mash the squash, or put it through a ricer, and transfer it to a sauce pan. Season to taste with salt, pepper and the sugar. Beat in the cream and butter, and continue beating over a very low flame until the squash is light and heated through. Serve at once with minced parsley, a sprinkling of nutmeg or ginger or sauteed onions.

Nutrition Note

Cranberry Salads, Relishes Served Well With Meats

Fresh cranberry salads and relishes are here to welcome in the cranberry harvest. Each one is a natural mate for meat . . . whether the fare is broiled steak, tend · slices of canned ham or juicy hamburgers.

There's something about the tart flavor of cranberries that belongs with meat. And what variety! Serve crispy relishes beside meat one night, then quickly turn leftover portion into a jellied salad for the next meal. Small amounts of leftover relishes can be mixed together. If you have a portion of two kinds left over, mix together to make a jellied salad.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Top Round Steak.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It comes from the round of the carcass. This cut is the boneless top or inside muscle of the beef round. Outer surface is partially covered by fat. Generally speaking, it is considered the most tender of the beef round cuts.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. It is prepared by braising, a moist heat method of meat cookery. The meat is browned in lard or drippings and cooked slowly in a small amount of liquid.

Cranberry Orange Relish

4 cups (1-pound) fresh cranberries
2 oranges, quartered and seeds removed
2 cups sugar

Put cranberries and oranges (including rind) through coarse blade of food chopper. Stir in sugar. Chill thoroughly in refrigerator for flavors to blend. Makes about 1 quart.

Cranberry Fruit Relish Salad

1 package your favorite red gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup cold water
1½ cups Cranberry Fruity Relish

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Stir in relish. Pour into 1½ pint mold or 4 to 6 individual molds. Chill until firm. Just before serving, unmold on lettuce.

Profit-Taking Turns Back Market Drive To New High

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks started out with a bang, then met resistance around the year's highs and finished the session with a small average decline—a loss of around half a billion dollars in the value of all stocks.

Despite the general easing from the day's highs, numerous special issues retained gains of 2 points or more and there were few really wide declines.

Trading, heavy on the upside, with tickers running off and on during the first hour, lightened on the later decline and total turnover of 4,250,000 sharescompared with 4,340,000 Wednesday.

Avco Manufacturing again was the most active issue, dipping ⅝ point to 12⅝. International Telephone, responding to a two-for-one stock split proposal and dividend hike, was the day's second most active issue and held 3½ points of a wider gain.

Industrial stocks closed lower on average despite gains of 2½ points in Du Pont, a point in Allied Chemical. Eastman Kodak fell nearly 2 and there were losses of a point or more in Chrysler Corp., Goodyear Tire, Standard Oil of California and U.S. Steel weighing on the average.

The industrials, up more than 2 points at their best to within a shade of their all-time average high, closed with a loss of 1.91 to 563.07. Rails were down 0.34 at 155.30; utilities 009 at 87.86 and the 65 stock general average was off 0.53 at 196.20. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index slipped 0.11 to 53.35.

Motors generally gave some ground, with Chrysler standing out on a drop of 1¼.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains dropped with the mercury and settled in easy to steady ranges at the close on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off ¼ to ¾ cent; corn (old) off ¼ to ⅜ cent; (new) up ¾ to off ½ cent; oats off ¼ to up ⅛ cent; rye off ⅝ to ⅞ cent; soybeans off ½ to 1¼ cent.

The market warmed up with rallying attempts but failed to generate any lasting steam.

Northwest brokers sold March and May wheat. Most demand for March contract wheat was filled by resting orders. December was under liquidation throughout the session. Spreaders took this delivery at one cent below the May contract price. Mill buying was present but light.

Orders in the corn market to buy at limits kept prices fairly steady. Cash houses gypsied between both sides.

Grains at outside markets were easy. The range:

Good taste is not a matter of being "in fashion" if the fashion is poor. Women who wore the chemise even though it did not become them did not display good taste. They simply showed uncertainty. Good taste can be developed only by observance followed by trial and error. But it can turn a plain woman into a woman with a flair.

Fall Desserts Better With Fresh Fruits

Autumn, celebrated by good cooks as the time of abundant fresh vegetables, hearty roasts, sausages, and casseroles, is also the season of the classic continental dessert — fresh fruit, crackers, and cheese.

Elegant in its simplicity, this epicurean dessert requires a minimum of preparation, and is often a more satisfactory conclusion to a meal than the customary rich pastries or puddings. Because plums, apples, pears, grapes, and the early oranges are among the most delectable items in Autumn's cornucopia, the cheese and fresh fruit dessert is particularly appropriate when the days turn crisp and cool.

Gourmets says that almost any cheese is suitable for dessert. The classic dessert cheeses include the large, round, red-skinned Edam, a mild, bland product of Holland; Bleu, a creamy, crumbly rich cheese well streaked with blue mold; and Camembert, a pungent cheese of French origin, which when served perfectly is almost as soft and runny as gently melted butter. All cheese should be taken from the refrigerator several hours before serving, and then served at room temperature to bring out the full flavor and texture.

As an ideal accompaniment with the cheese, use new slim-size saltines, which are rectangular and smaller than the customary two-inch square style. The new slim-size saltines promise greater convenience in handling and eating.

Other cheeses which are favorites for dessert include Port du Salut, creamy yellow in color with a fresh buttery flavor and closely resembling its Italian cousin, Bel Paese; Cheddar, a famous variety of American and English cheeses ranging from mild to sharp in flavor; Gorgonzola, originally made in Italy, which is blue-veined, highly aromatic, and strongly flavored; Swiss, similar to Gruyere in light, nutty blandness; Pineapple, which derives its name from its shape, is a sharp, hard cheese which is scraped out of its crusty yellow shell; and Provolone, the famous Italian cheese with a faintly smokey, biting taste.

In addition to the fresh fruit, cheese, and slim-size saltines, you may also wish to serve assorted nuts and good strong coffee — demitasse, if the occasion is formal.

Zucchini Espagnole

To preserve all the delicate flavor of zucchini squash, cut it in thin slices and saute in equal parts Spanish olive oil and butter. For 3 medium-sized squash, you will need 1 tablespoon each batter and olive oil. Slice the squash about ¼-inch thick, cook over low heat, uncovered (this is important), until squash is lightly browned on each side but still crisp. Do not add any water. Serve this way as a vegetable or, for an entree, combine with heated tomato sauce, top with grated cheese, and slip under the broiler just until cheese is melted, being careful not to overcook. If to be served as an entree, allow one medium zucchini for each serving.

To make those holiday tall drinks look attractive, take every second partition out of the ice cube tray. This will give you a longer slimmer, ice cube.

Macaroni, Salmon Make Favorable Casserole Dish

(Makes 4-6 servings)
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
1 1-pound can salmon, drained
1 10-ounce package frozen peas
1 medium-sized onion, thinly sliced

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Melt butter or margarine; add flour, ½ teaspoon salt and pepper; blend. Gradually add milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Bone and flake salmon. Combine salmon, peas, onion and macaroni with white sauce in 4 to 6 individual casseroles. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 30 minutes. Garnish as desired.

Hot Macaroni Salad

(Makes 4 - 6 servings)
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 pound frankfurters, diced
1 medium-sized onion, sliced
½ cup vinegar
1¼ cups diced Swiss cheese (about ¼ pound)
½ cup French dressing
Salt and pepper to taste

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine; add frankfurters and cook until browned on all sides. Add onion and cook 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and cook until cheese melts. Pour frankfurter-cheese mixture over macaroni; toss lightly.

Bacon-Apple Muffins Will Speak For Themselves

Very little need be said about these Bacon-Apple Muffins. They speak for themselves when given a chance. You couldn't ask for a muffin that is more deliciously taste-tempting. They will be well worth your time.

In this recipe, bacon drippings play the role of the shortening. When preparing other types of muffins or any baked product, give lard a chance to prove itself. If you are not already familiar with this product for use as a shortening, you'll be pleasantly surprised. Using lard as the shortening, your baked products are bound to win blue ribbons.

Bacon-Apple Muffins

2 cups sifted enriched flour
¼ teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
6 slices bacon
4 to 6 tablespoons bacon drippings
1 egg, beaten
⅓ cup milk
¾ cup applesauce

Grease 12 medium-sized muffin pans. Sift together flour, soda, baking powder, salt and cinnamon. Cook bacon until lightly browned. Cut into small pieces. Mix together egg, milk, applesauce, bacon drippings and pieces of bacon. Add liquid to dry ingredients and stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill muffin pans ⅔ full. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) 18 to 20 minutes. Yield: 12 muffins.

Fruit Sparkle Is Colorful OpenDessert

Rows of colorful, luscious fruit grace the top of this "open face" dessert. There are dark sweet cherries, succulent white pears, golden apricots and peaches and plump green figs. Convenient canned fruits are used so this is a dessert you can whip up in a hurry!

INGREDIENTS:
1 cup uncooked white rice
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
½ cup granulated sugar
1¼ cups light brown sugar, firmly packed
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) figs, drained
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) sliced peaches, drained
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) pitted dark cherries, drained
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) pear halves, drained
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) apricot halves, drained

METHOD: Put the rice, water and salt into a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn heat down. Cover. Simmer 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 to 15 minutes. Spread the rice over a greased shallow baking dish about 8" x 12" x 2". Pour ½ cup of the milk over the rice. Sprinkle with granulated sugar and half of the brown sugar. Place pears in the center, overlapping the halves. Make two rows of figs, one at each end, and two rows of the cherries placing them next to the figs. Add peaches and apricots. Pour the remaining ½ cup milk over the fruit. Sprinkle with the rest of the brown sugar. Bake in a 350°F. oven about 40 minutes or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Spoon milk over any brown sugar which does not dissolve. Serve warm with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream. This recipe makes 8 to 10 servings.

Rice Rockefeller Grand Dish For Menus In Fall

It's easy to have oysters in "the grand manner" this Rockefeller way. There's a splendid topping of buttered crumbs which toasts to a russet brown in the oven. Underneath is the well-seasoned spinach, crisp bacon and tender fluffy rice.

INGREDIENTS:
¾ cup uncooked white rice
1 teaspoon salt
1¾ cups water
6 slices cooked bacon
1 pint oysters, drained (thaw if frozen)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup finely chopped, spinach cooked and salted
½ teaspoon celery salt
2 teaspoons grated or finely chopped onion
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
½ cup dry bread crumbs

METHOD: Put the rice, salt and 1½ cups water into a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid. Simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

Spread the rice over a greased shallow baking dish about 8" x 12" x 2". Pour on the ¼ cup water. Crumble the bacon over the rice. Top with oysters.

Sprinkle with lemon juice. Mix spinach, celery salt, onion, salt and cayenne pepper. Spread over oysters. Mix butter or margarine and bread crumbs. Sprinkle over spinach.

If made ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator, allow to come to room temperature before baking. Bake in a preheated 400°F. oven 15 minutes. Serve immediately garnished with twisted lemon slices.

This recipe makes 6 generous servings.

Pork Loin Finery

In garnishing a platter which is carrying a pork loin roast to the Thanksgiving dinner table, never forget the adaptability of grapes. For a winter hit, simply brush small bunches of green grapes with egg whites which have been beaten until frothy, then sprinkle with granulated sugar. Allow the sugared grapes to set.

Sandwich With Touch Of Holiday

To your many friends who truly love fine food, serve this dainty and delectable Ham Cranberry Sandwich.

The sandwich itself is somewhat traditional — however, it does have that certain holiday touch . . . cranberry sauce.

You couldn't ask for a more slick or quick trick when entertaining.

In purchasing the meat for this unusual ham sandwich, be sure to ask your meat retailer for "boiled" ham.

Ham Cranberry Sandwich

6 slices white bread
Butter or margarine
Lettuce
12 slices "boiled" ham
¾ cup whole cranberry sauce
6 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing

Toast bread slices on both sides. Spread with butter or margarine. Top with lettuce, 2 slices ham, about 2 tablespoons cranberry sauce and 1 teaspoon mayonnaise or salad dressing. Yield: 6 sandwiches.

Artificial flowers worn in the hair or pinned to your dress, can be freshened up by brushing each petal with a damp sponge that has been dipped in starch. Press with warm iron and shape petals while still damp. Trim frayed edges with scissors.

Yes, you can say that again! That's a good New Year's resolution to put into effect right now.

Everyone knows that driving is dangerous enough both on the open road and in city traffic . . . and especially so on holidays. So be safe and sensible during the holidays. When a genial friend says, "Come on, pal, have one for the road," be sure you say, "MAKE MINE COFFEE!"

For coffee gives you a clearer head and clearer eyes for driving. Coffee makes you more alert for quicker reactions. Coffee doesn't let you down. Yes, coffee is a drink that makes any road a safer road home.

BE CAREFUL: THE LIFE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN.

"We will be closed from Wednesday, Dec. 24 until Friday, Jan. 2 in order to give our employees a vacation during the holidays and to take our inventory."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Leftover Meats Can Make Delicious Sandwich Treats

You'll never call slices of cooked beef, veal, pork or lamb just "those leftovers" again . . . . especially not after you've seen what an unusual role they play in this recipe called Sunday Supper Sandwich.

It would be difficult to find a more appropriate name for this combination since Sunday evening presents the homemaker with many opportunities to experiment.

Here are the ingredients in this sandwich fashion. It includes not only slices of cooked meat and slices of bread, but you'll also find that cream cheese, Roquefort or blue cheese, prepared mustard and chopped onion and parsley have a very special role in the preparation.

From the two-fisted man in your household to the hungry teenagers, this Sunday Supper Sandwich simply can't help be awarded their hearty approval.

Cranberry Fruity Relish

4 cups (1-lb.) fresh cranberries
1 lemon, seeded and quartered
2 oranges, rind removed
2 cups sugar

Put cranberries and lemon (including rind) through foodchopper. Dice orange pulp. Mix with other fruit. Add sugar. Stir and chill thoroughly for flavors to blend. Serve in notched orange shells.

Sunday Supper Sandwich

4 slices cooked beef, veal, pork or lamb
4 slices bread
Butter or margarine
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
1 tablespoon Roquefort or blue cheese, crumbled
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon chopped parsley

Toast bread on one side. Butter untoasted side. Place meat on buttered side of bread slices. Cream together cheeses, mustard and onion. Place 2 tablespoons mixture on each sandwich and spread to within ½ inch from the edge of the meat. Sprinkle parsley on top. Bake in a hot oven (450° F.) for 8 to 10 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.

Zucchini Omelet

Still another delicious way to serve zucchini is in an omelet. Cut 1 medium zucchini squash in very thin slices. Saute these in a mixture of 1 teaspoon butter and 2 teaspoons olive oil until lightly browned. Meantime, beat until frothy 4 eggs; blend in 2 tablespoons water and ¼ teaspoon salt. Pour eggs over zucchini in pan. As egg firms on bottom, lift up omelet with spatula, allowing moist egg to run under. When firm throughout, fold over omelet and slip out of pan. Serve as entree plain or topped with well-seasoned tomato sauce. Makes 3 entree servings.

Gingerbread, Hot Coffee Especially Fine In Winter

Did you ever come from the crisp outdoors into a kitchen filled with the fragrance of warm gingerbread and freshly made coffee? All we can say is that it's a fine thing to do anytime at all, but it's especially fine in winter.

To help you do your part to bring this scene to reality—after all, someone has to make that gingerbread! — here is a recipe which is different, delightful and deceptively easy. It's called Sunday-Best Gingerbread because it's somewhat more dressed up than the usual kind. In addition to the spices, you'll see that this recipe also includes marshmallows, chocolate bits and walnut meats. But don't wait 'til Sunday to make it — you'll find it's just as fragrant and good on, say, Wednesday or Friday!

Homemade gingerbread goes with the sharp, clear weather of fall, just as a big potful of steaming coffee goes with both of 'em. Fact is, you couldn't find a better combination to serve after the Saturday game or after a quiet walk in the autumn woods.

Sunday-Best Gingerbread

1 cup hot coffee
⅓ cup shortening
1 cup molasses
½ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
2¾ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon allspice
½ cup miniature marshmallows
½ cup broken walnut meats
½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces

Add hot coffee to shortening and stir until shortening melts. Add molasses and sugar, stirring until sugar dissolves. Add beaten egg. Mix and sift flour, baking soda, salt and spices and add marshmallows, walnuts and chocolate pieces. Add to molasses mixture. Bake in greased 8-inch square pan in moderate oven, 325° about 1 hour. Cut into 9 squares to serve.

IT'S IN THE KNOWING

Frozen steaks and chops to be breaded should be defrosted before cooking. If the meat is not defrosted, the coating will not readily adhere to the meat.

Unusual Veal Dish Fashionable

Smart mother, smart homemaker, smart cook who prepares this smart fashionable dish for her family . . . it's called Veal Surprise.

Boneless veal shoulder which has been cubed combines handsomely with almonds to provide a gourmet's specialty. The almond-veal mixture is served on top of tender noodles.

The cooking liquid from the meat mixture is thickened and poured over the veal and noodle duet. The finishing touch for this whole dish is one tablespoon of poppyseeds which is sprinkled over all just before serving.

A distinctly flavored sauce is always an accepted flavor complement. In this recipe, the toasted almonds and poppyseeds help to contribute to the unusual characteristic found in this combination.

Veal Surprise

2 pounds boneless veal shoulder, cut in 1 inch cubes
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 clove garlic
½ cup water
1 package (8 ounces) medium noodles
½ cup sliced, blanched almonds
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon poppyseeds

Brown veal in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add garlic and water. Cover tightly and simmer 45 minutes or until meat is tender. Cook noodles in boiling water until tender. Drain. Brown almonds in butter or margarine and add to noodles. Place noodles on a large platter. Remove veal cubes and arrange on noodles. Thicken liquid from veal, if necessary, and pour over meat and noodles. Sprinkle with poppyseeds. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

Potatoes, Cheese, Ham Are Good In Casseroles

(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

1 tablespoon butter
¼ cup finely chopped onion
2 cups ham strips, julienne style
2 cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 (6 oz.) package sharp processed American cheddar cheese slices, shredded
2 medium size potatoes, boiled and sliced

Melt butter in small skillet; add onions; saute until tender. Add ham strips; brown lightly. Pour liquefied instant nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler. Sprinkle flour, salt and pepper over surface of milk; beat with rotary beater until blended. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add Worcestershire sauce and cheese; stir until cheese melts and sauce is well blended. Combine ham, onions, potatoes and cheese sauce in 1½-quart casserole. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) until sauce bubbles and top is golden brown, about 20 minutes.

Party Spread

The approaching holiday season will undoubtedly mean some entertainment in many homes. If in need of a party spread as a before-dinner appetizer, try this nippy combination. Mix together 1 pound Braunschweiger sausage, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 3 tablespoons grated onion, 1 hard-cooked egg which has been chopped fine, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard and ¼ teaspoon salt. Shape into a ball and chill in the refrigerator for several hours. Before serving, allow to stand at room temperature 15 minutes for proper spreading consistency.

Try Serving Winter Squash In Pie And Pudding Dishes

The strained pulp of winter squash makes an excellent substitute for pumpkin in pies and puddings. Winter squash is either cut in chunks and baked in the oven or steamed and mashed. Many seasonings can be used to vary the flavor.

Baked Squash

Cut large squash into pieces for individual servings with rind left on, cut acorn squash in half if they are used. Remove seeds and stringy portion. Arrange in shallow pan with a little water in the bottom. Brush squash with melted butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in an oven 375°F. for 40 to 60 minutes or until squash is tender.

For acorn squash, bake cut side down for 30 minutes, then bake cut side up for 30 minutes, after adding butter and brown sugar or honey, butter and grated cheese, or partially cooked sausage patties. In place of any of these seasonings or filling hollow centers could be filled with cooked peas or lima beans before serving.

Whipped Squash

4 cups peeled, diced Hubbard squash
Salt and pepper
1 tsp. sugar
1 tbsp heavy cream
2 tbsp butter
Chopped parsley

Place the squash in a colander over a pan of boiling water. Cover tightly and steam for 20 minutes, until the squash is very tender. Drain thoroughly. Mash the squash, or put it through a ricer, and transfer it to a sauce pan. Season to taste with salt, pepper and the sugar. Beat in the cream and butter, and continue beating over a very low flame until the squash is light and heated through. Serve at once with minced parsley, a sprinkling of nutmeg or ginger or sauteed onions.

Nutrition Note

Cranberry Salads, Relishes Served Well With Meats

Fresh cranberry salads and relishes are here to welcome in the cranberry harvest. Each one is a natural mate for meat . . . whether the fare is broiled steak, tend · slices of canned ham or juicy hamburgers.

There's something about the tart flavor of cranberries that belongs with meat. And what variety! Serve crispy relishes beside meat one night, then quickly turn leftover portion into a jellied salad for the next meal. Small amounts of leftover relishes can be mixed together. If you have a portion of two kinds left over, mix together to make a jellied salad.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Top Round Steak.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. It comes from the round of the carcass. This cut is the boneless top or inside muscle of the beef round. Outer surface is partially covered by fat. Generally speaking, it is considered the most tender of the beef round cuts.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. It is prepared by braising, a moist heat method of meat cookery. The meat is browned in lard or drippings and cooked slowly in a small amount of liquid.

Cranberry Orange Relish

4 cups (1-pound) fresh cranberries
2 oranges, quartered and seeds removed
2 cups sugar

Put cranberries and oranges (including rind) through coarse blade of food chopper. Stir in sugar. Chill thoroughly in refrigerator for flavors to blend. Makes about 1 quart.

Cranberry Fruit Relish Salad

1 package your favorite red gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup cold water
1½ cups Cranberry Fruity Relish

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Stir in relish. Pour into 1½ pint mold or 4 to 6 individual molds. Chill until firm. Just before serving, unmold on lettuce.

Profit-Taking Turns Back Market Drive To New High

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks started out with a bang, then met resistance around the year's highs and finished the session with a small average decline—a loss of around half a billion dollars in the value of all stocks.

Despite the general easing from the day's highs, numerous special issues retained gains of 2 points or more and there were few really wide declines.

Trading, heavy on the upside, with tickers running off and on during the first hour, lightened on the later decline and total turnover of 4,250,000 sharescompared with 4,340,000 Wednesday.

Avco Manufacturing again was the most active issue, dipping ⅝ point to 12⅝. International Telephone, responding to a two-for-one stock split proposal and dividend hike, was the day's second most active issue and held 3½ points of a wider gain.

Industrial stocks closed lower on average despite gains of 2½ points in Du Pont, a point in Allied Chemical. Eastman Kodak fell nearly 2 and there were losses of a point or more in Chrysler Corp., Goodyear Tire, Standard Oil of California and U.S. Steel weighing on the average.

The industrials, up more than 2 points at their best to within a shade of their all-time average high, closed with a loss of 1.91 to 563.07. Rails were down 0.34 at 155.30; utilities 009 at 87.86 and the 65 stock general average was off 0.53 at 196.20. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index slipped 0.11 to 53.35.

Motors generally gave some ground, with Chrysler standing out on a drop of 1¼.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains dropped with the mercury and settled in easy to steady ranges at the close on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off ¼ to ¾ cent; corn (old) off ¼ to ⅝ cent; (new) up ⅝ to off ½ cent; oats off ¼ to up ⅛ cent; rye off ⅝ to ⅞ cent; soybeans off ½ to 1¼ cent.

The market warmed up with rallying attempts but failed to generate any lasting steam.

Northwest brokers sold March and May wheat. Most demand for March contract wheat was filled by resting orders. December was under liquidation throughout the session. Spreaders took this delivery at one cent below the May contract price. Mill buying was present but light.

Orders in the corn market to buy at limits kept prices fairly steady. Cash houses gypsied between both sides.

May oats held the attention of cash interests. December sold early in the day on stop loss orders.

Grains at outside markets were easy.

Good taste is not a matter of being "in fashion" if the fashion is poor. Women who wore the chemise even though it did not become them did not display good taste. They simply showed uncertainty. Good taste can be developed only by observance followed by trial and error. But it can turn a plain woman into a woman with a flair.

W.Va. State Board Of Education Bans Hazing At Colleges

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Board of Education voted Thursday to ban "hazing"—a traditional part of fraternity and sorority initiations — by organizations at state colleges.

Board members unanimously approved a resolution to that effect offered by the state Council of College and University Presidents, and authorized presidents of the nine state colleges to draw up local rules putting the ban into effect.

Hazing was defined in the resolution as activities that subject an individual to "cruel horse -play, excessive or heavy and disagreeable work, and abusive tricks."

The resolution applies to all organizations under jurisdiction of the colleges. It will not apply to West Virginia University groups unless approved by the WVU Board of Governors.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Leftover Meats Can Make Delicious Sandwich Treats

You'll never call slices of cooked beef, veal, pork or lamb just "those leftovers" again . . . . especially not after you've seen what an unusual role they play in this recipe called Sunday Supper Sandwich.

It would be difficult to find a more appropriate name for this combination since Sunday evening presents the homemaker with many opportunities to experiment.

Here are the ingredients in this sandwich fashion. It includes not only slices of cooked meat and slices of bread, but you'll also find that cream cheese, Roquefort or blue cheese, prepared mustard and chopped onion and parsley have a very special role in the preparation.

From the two-fisted man in your household to the hungry teenagers, this Sunday Supper Sandwich simply can't help be awarded their hearty approval.

Cranberry Fruity Relish

4 cups (1-lb.) fresh cranberries
1 lemon, seeded and quartered
2 oranges, rind removed
2 cups sugar

Put cranberries and lemon (including rind) through foodchopper. Dice orange pulp. Mix with other fruit. Add sugar. Stir and chill thoroughly for flavors to blend. Serve in notched orange shells.

Sunday Supper Sandwich

4 slices cooked beef, veal, pork or lamb
4 slices bread
Butter or margarine
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
1 tablespoon Roquefort or blue cheese, crumbled
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon chopped parsley

Toast bread on one side. Butter untoasted side. Place meat on buttered side of bread slices. Cream together cheeses, mustard and onion. Place 2 tablespoons mixture on each sandwich and spread to within ½ inch from the edge of the meat. Sprinkle parsley on top. Bake in a hot oven (450° F.) for 8 to 10 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.

Zucchini Omelet

Still another delicious way to serve zucchini is in an omelet. Cut 1 medium zucchini squash in very thin slices. Saute these in a mixture of 1 teaspoon butter and 2 teaspoons olive oil until lightly browned. Meantime, beat until frothy 4 eggs; blend in 2 tablespoons water and ¼ teaspoon salt. Pour eggs over zucchini in pan. As egg firms on bottom, lift up omelet with spatula, allowing moist egg to run under. When firm throughout, fold over omelet and slip out of pan. Serve as entree plain or topped with well-seasoned tomato sauce. Makes 3 entree servings.

The new statue provides that Section 5 of Sewage Ordinance 6 be repealed and reenacted as follows:

An Allegany County Circuit Court jury of seven men and five women will return at 9:15 a.m. today to hear the last of the closing arguments in a multiple damage suit in which a total of $48,000 is being sought.

William H. Geppert, attorney for the plaintiffs, had concluded a 25-minute argument to the jury at 3:30 p.m. yesterday when Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris excused the jurors with an admonition not to discuss the case with anyone overnight.

Mrs. Amie Mason, now Mrs. Amie Broadbent of New Castle, Del., is seeking $20,000 from James H. Garland, trading as the Garland Petroleum Company, and Franklin Eugene Westfall, a driver for Garland. She also is seeking another $25,000 for her two young sons who were injured in a Thanksgiving 1957 crash on U.S. Route 40 at the eastern end of Allegany County. She is asking $20,000 for her son, Vaughn, and $5,000 for another son, Larry.

Damage To Car

Harry Clark of Wilmington, Del., a friend who loaned Mrs. Broadbent the car she was driving, is suing for $3,000 for damage to the car.

In his instructions to the jury before Mr. Geppert began the closing argument, Judge Harris cited specific damages totaling $4,960.54 which might be returned by the jury. They include $2,650 which was the amount Mrs. Broadbent has lost in wages as a result of her injuries on November 28, 1957; $717.35 in hospital and medical expenses incurred because of her injuries, $264.20 in hospital and medical expenses incurred as a result of injuries to the children and $1,328.99 damages done to Mr. Clark's car.

The first issue facing the jury today is whether Westfall was negligent in driving the Garland tractor-trailer. The second is whether Mrs. Broadbent also was negligent. The third issue is a seven-part one concerning the amount of damages. Four of them already have been stipulated by Judge Harris leaving to be determined only the amount of damages to which Mrs. Broadbent is entitled for her personal injuries and the amount for personal injuries to which the two boys are entitled.

"Not Negligent"

In his argument to the jury yesterday, Mr. Geppert contended that Mrs. Broadbent was not negligent in her driving but Westfall was. Mrs. Broadbent had testified that she sideswiped the truck when it came upon her across the center of the road and she skidded when she swerved the car to avoid a collision. The car she was driving then spun into the east-bound car of Mrs. Viola McCoy of Baltimore which was following the truck.

Nine witnesses were heard yesterday. Besides Mrs. Broadbent they included Dr. Earl Paul, who treated the victims of the crash; Mrs. McCoy, the two Mason boys, James H. Garland, State Trooper Willis Foreman, Westfall and Howard W. Creek of Little Orleans, who arrived on the scene shortly after the crash.

Defense attorneys W. Earle Cobey and Gorman E. Getty will continue the closing argument to the jury this morning with Mr. Geppert being entitled to rebuttal. Hugh W. Wilson of Luke is foreman of the jury.

Army Seeking 3 Veterans As Clerk-Typists

The local Army recruiting station has received instructions to enlist three prior service men who have ratings as clerk-typist for assignment at Fort George G. Meade, Md., M/Sgt. Wesley C. Hartley said yesterday.

The local Army recruiter also noted that enlistments for the remainder of December are on an unlimited quota here for qualified recruits.

Three area men were enlisted this week. Wallace H. Ashenfelter, 29, of Petersburg, W. Va., a veteran of four years' Air Force service, enlisted in the Army Engineers for three years.

Noble C. Messenger, 21, of Corriganville, a veteran of six months' Army service, re-enlisted for the 38th Infantry Regiment at Fort Jackson, S. C., which is scheduled to go to Europe in the near future. Messenger was granted 30 days holiday leave at home before he begins his active duty.

Walter Leroy Dixon Jr., 18, of Frostburg, enlisted for three years in the Armored Forces. He is a graduate of Beall High School.

Legal Barrier Delays West Virginia Budget

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A complex legal barrier resulting from the 5 per cent curb on current year spending stymied State Board of Public Works preparation of the 1959-60 budget Thursday.

A question of whether $1,630,017 in unencumbered funds expected as of next June 30 can be considered as potential revenue for the next fiscal year developed during board discussion of what money will be available for appropriation in 1959-60.

The matter was left in the hands of the attorney general's office for advice with a report on his findings to be made Friday when budget preparation work resumes.

Prior to the stalemate, the board tentatively approved budgets as recommended by the Finance and Administration Department for the State Police, Governor's Office and the Board of Probation and Parole.

The State Police budget of $1,825,200 did not include a proposed $100 monthly increase for each state trooper. The board took the position that revenues were not available for such an expenditure and the matter would have to be resolved by the Legislature.

It allowed budgets of $201,205 for the governor's office, including a $100,000 contingent fund, and $198,260 for the Board of Probation and Parole. All three are less than $1,000 higher than the current appropriations.

It left unsolved two other problems. One related to the board's authority to reduce budget requests in the judicial account of the auditor's office, from which are paid salaries of circuit court judges and other court expenses. The Budget Office had reduced by $35,000 the amount allowed for criminal charges — payments for juries and witnesses — and the question arose as to whether such a reduction was legal.

The matter also was referred to the attorney general for clarification.

Auditor Edgar B. Sims suggested a reduction of $40,000 in the $550,000 requested in matching funds of the state for employes under social security. He wanted to use the money for employment of additional help to handle the work. This suggestion also was left hanging.

The matter of unencumbered balances was brought into the conversation because of the view of some members of the board and part of the attorney general's staff that the 5 per cent reduction ordered Tuesday meant, in effect, there would be a deficit in state funds at the normal expenditure rate.

They said it would be contradictory to have a current deficit and at the same time show what amounts to a surplus of $1,630,017 as of next June 30.

In it's original budget proposal the Department of Public Safety had requested both a $100 per month salary increase and employment of 100 additional troopers.

During a hearing on that request earlier this week, department inspector Maj. J. B. Jack said the State Police had decided against seeking the additional troopers because of the decline in state revenue. However, he said it was imperative that the present force be kept intact and that the pay raise was the only way it could be achieved.

C Of C Legislative Committee To Meet

The Legislative committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will hold its first meeting Wednesday, December 17, at 4 p.m. in the Chamber offices.

Harry I. Stegmaier is chairman of the committee named to serve during the current fiscal year.

The group will discuss general policy on legislation on which it will work during the coming year.

W.Va. 'Drys' Form Strategy Committee

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Formation of a "strategy committee" to direct the fight against liquor - by-the-drink in the 1959 Legislature was announced Thursday by the West Virginia Temperance League.

Heading the group is the Rev. L. E. Crowson of Logan, (formerly of Piedmont) a Methodist minister who headed the successful fight against establishment of a race track in Cabell County in 1952-54.

Crowson also is chairman of the Christian Life and Work division of the West Virginia Council of Churches, which voted unanimously last month to oppose liquor-by-the-drink in the coming Legislature and directed Crowson's division to lead the fight.

The question of submitting to the voters the issue of legalizing over-the-bar sale of liquor has been raised in the past several sessions of the Legislature but has never won the required two-thirds majority. Liquor, defined by law as any beverage with an alcoholic content of more than 3.2 per cent, may now be bought only in state stores and may not be consumed in a public place.

Westernport Council Approves New Sewage Disposal Ordinance

WESTERNPORT — The second and final reading of Ordinance 8 for regulating sewer charges for people living outside the town's corporate limits was unanimously passed at a meeting of Mayor Ray L. Wilt and Commissioners.

The new statue provides that Section 5 of Sewage Ordinance 6 be repealed and reenacted as follows:

"That the use of the sewage system may be available to receive and handle sewage created beyond the corporate limits at a charge or fee 20 per cent more than the charge for within the town.

"And whenever the charge for water furnished beyond the corporation limits, as made in a contract on a metered basis instead of a charge against the ultimate consumer of water, then such sewage charge shall be based upon the total charge for water and shall include the regular tapping fee for each individual connection being serviced through said system."

The town was granted an extension of one year for laying an eight-inch sanitary sewer from Greene Street to George's Creek by the State Health Department. The town had been previously town the privilege of delaying to November 1, 1959, the sewer project.

Mrs. Dailey also read a letter from the Western Maryland Railway Company, giving the town requested to begin work on the project last November 1.

A letter read by Mrs. Katherine Dailey, town clerk, and signed by James R. McComas, public health engineer, gives the permission to erect a Christmas tree on the company's property at the intersection of Church and Main Streets.

Jury Returns Today To Hear Last Argument

An Allegany County Circuit Court jury of seven men and five women will return at 9:15 a.m. today to hear the last of the closing arguments in a multiple damage suit in which a total of $48,000 is being sought.

William H. Geppert, attorney for the plaintiffs, had concluded a 25-minute argument to the jury at 3:30 p.m. yesterday when Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris excused the jurors with an admonition not to discuss the case with anyone overnight.

Mrs. Amie Mason, now Mrs. Amie Broadbent of New Castle, Del., is seeking $20,000 from James H. Garland, trading as the Garland Petroleum Company, and Franklin Eugene Westfall, a driver for Garland. She also is seeking another $25,000 for her two young sons who were injured in a Thanksgiving 1957 crash on U.S. Route 40 at the eastern end of Allegany County. She is asking $20,000 for her son, Vaughn, and $5,000 for another son, Larry.

Damage To Car

In his instructions to the jury before Mr. Geppert began the closing argument, Judge Harris cited specific damages totaling $4,960.54 which might be returned by the jury. They include $2,650 which was the amount Mrs. Broadbent has lost in wages as a result of her injuries on November 28, 1957; $717.35 in hospital and medical expenses incurred because of her injuries, $264.20 in hospital and medical expenses incurred as a result of injuries to the children and $1,328.99 damages done to Mr. Clark's car.

The first issue facing the jury today is whether Westfall was negligent in driving the Garland tractor-trailer. The second is whether Mrs. Broadbent also was negligent. The third issue is a seven-part one concerning the amount of damages. Four of them already have been stipulated by Judge Harris leaving to be determined only the amount of damages to which Mrs. Broadbent is entitled for her personal injuries and the amount for personal injuries to which the two boys are entitled.

"Not Negligent"

In his argument to the jury yesterday, Mr. Geppert contended that Mrs. Broadbent was not negligent in her driving but Westfall was. Mrs. Broadbent had testified that she sideswiped the truck when it came upon her across the center of the road and she skidded when she swerved the car to avoid a collision. The car she was driving then spun into the east-bound car of Mrs. Viola McCoy of Baltimore which was following the truck.

Nine witnesses were heard yesterday. Besides Mrs. Broadbent they included Dr. Earl Paul, who treated the victims of the crash; Mrs. McCoy, the two Mason boys, James H. Garland, State Trooper Willis Foreman, Westfall and Howard W. Creek of Little Orleans, who arrived on the scene shortly after the crash.

Defense attorneys W. Earle Cobey and Gorman E. Getty will continue the closing argument to the jury this morning with Mr. Geppert being entitled to rebuttal. Hugh W. Wilson of Luke is foreman of the jury.

City Will Confer With Delegation

The Mayor and Council of Cumberland will meet with the Allegany County Delegation on Friday, December 19, at 7:30 p. m.

Delegate Fred B. Driscoll, Delegation chairman, said the meeting will be held in City Hall.

John Rowan Signs Checks By Hand

John J. Rowan got an extra job yesterday that he had not counted on when he was elected president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

He was busy affixing his signature to more than 300 checks so the county employes can be paid.

Ordinarily the signatures of the president and the clerk, James G. Stevenson, are placed on the county checks by stamp but the new plate has not yet been received. Only County Treasurer James G. Bishop is required to sign all checks by hand.

SS. Peter, Paul PTA Will See Christmas Play

Sister Justina's eighth grade pupils at SS. Peter and Paul parochial school will present a Christmas program Sunday afternoon during the December meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the parish.

They will present "Christmas With the Mulligans," a three-act comedy, at the parish social hall. Curtain time will be 2 p. m.

Alice Cumiskey will portray the part of the Widow Mulligan. Her ten children will be portrayed by Bert Mason, Ricky Hodge, Ronnie Miller, Nancy Stitcher, Charles Viney, Jacqueline Hallinan, Mary Ann Agostini, Tekela Clark, Ann Ruby and Charles Fields.

Neighbors will be portrayed by Becky Yates, Martin O'Toole, Regina Jolly and Anna Mary Pompei. Martha Neeley will be the announcer, and Charles O'Rourke will be Santa Claus.

In the Nativity scene, Dale George will take the part of Joseph, and Carol Martin will portray Mary. James Shaffer, Robert McKenzie and Mark Stegmaier will be the three Wise Men.

Richard Orndorff will be the innkeeper, and the angels will be Vicki Gellner, Barbara Cofield and Jennifer Ways. Stage directors will be John Milbrada, Joseph Wheeler, Terry McElfish and Charles Logue.

Army Seeking 3 Veterans As Clerk-Typists

The local Army recruiting station has received instructions to enlist three prior service men who have ratings as clerk-typist for assignment at Fort George G. Meade, Md., M/Sgt. Wesley C. Hartley said yesterday.

The local Army recruiter also noted that enlistments for the remainder of December are on an unlimited quota here for qualified recruits.

Three area men were enlisted this week. Wallace H. Ashenfelter, 29, of Petersburg, W. Va., a veteran of four years' Air Force service, enlisted in the Army Engineers for three years.

Noble C. Messenger, 21, of Corriganville, a veteran of six months' Army service, re-enlisted for the 38th Infantry Regiment at Fort Jackson, S. C., which is scheduled to go to Europe in the near future. Messenger was granted 30 days holiday leave at home before he begins his active duty.

Legal Barrier Delays West Virginia Budget

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A complex legal barrier resulting from the 5 per cent curb on current year spending stymied State Board of Public Works preparation of the 1959-60 budget Thursday.

A question of whether $1,630,017 in unencumbered funds expected as of next June 30 can be considered as potential revenue for the next fiscal year developed during board discussion of what money will be available for appropriation in 1959-60.

The matter was left in the hands of the attorney general's office for advice with a report on his findings to be made Friday when budget preparation work resumes.

Prior to the stalemate, the board tentatively approved budgets as recommended by the Finance and Administration Department for the State Police, Governor's Office and the Board of Probation and Parole.

The State Police budget of $1,825,200 did not include a proposed $100 monthly increase for each state trooper. The board took the position that revenues were not available for such an expenditure and the matter would have to be resolved by the Legislature.

It allowed budgets of $201,205 for the governor's office, including a $100,000 contingent fund, and $198,260 for the Board of Probation and Parole. All three are less than $1,000 higher than the current appropriations.

It left unsolved two other problems. One related to the board's authority to reduce budget requests in the judicial account of the auditor's office, from which are paid salaries of circuit court judges and other court expenses. The Budget Office had reduced by $35,000 the amount allowed for criminal charges — payments for juries and witnesses — and the question arose as to whether such a reduction was legal.

Auditor Edgar B. Sims suggested a reduction of $40,000 in the $550,000 requested in matching funds of the state for employes under social security. He wanted to use the money for employment of additional help to handle the work. This suggestion also was left hanging.

The matter of unencumbered balances was brought into the conversation because of the view of some members of the board and part of the attorney general's staff that the 5 per cent reduction ordered Tuesday meant, in effect, there would be a deficit in state funds at the normal expenditure rate.

They said it would be contradictory to have a current deficit and at the same time show what amounts to a surplus of $1,630,017 as of next June 30.

In it's original budget proposal the Department of Public Safety had requested both a $100 per month salary increase and employment of 100 additional troopers.

During a hearing on that request earlier this week, department inspector Maj. J. B. Jack said the State Police had decided against seeking the additional troopers because of the decline in state revenue. However, he said it was imperative that the present force be kept intact and that the pay raise was the only way it could be achieved.

C Of C Legislative Committee To Meet

The Legislative committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will hold its first meeting Wednesday, December 17, at 4 p.m. in the Chamber offices.

Harry I. Stegmaier is chairman of the committee named to serve during the current fiscal year.

W.Va. 'Drys' Form Strategy Committee

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Formation of a "strategy committee" to direct the fight against liquor - by-the-drink in the 1959 Legislature was announced Thursday by the West Virginia Temperance League.

Heading the group is the Rev. L. E. Crowson of Logan, (formerly of Piedmont) a Methodist minister who headed the successful fight against establishment of a race track in Cabell County in 1952-54.

Crowson also is chairman of the Christian Life and Work division of the West Virginia Council of Churches, which voted unanimously last month to oppose liquor-by-the-drink in the coming Legislature and directed Crowson's division to lead the fight.

The question of submitting to the voters the issue of legalizing over-the-bar sale of liquor has been raised in the past several sessions of the Legislature but has never won the required two-thirds majority. Liquor, defined by law as any beverage with an alcoholic content of more than 3.2 per cent, may now be bought only in state stores and may not be consumed in a public place.

Moore Would Give Durelle Another Shot

Champ Will Fight In South America

MONTREAL (AP) — Light Heavyweight Champion Archie Moore Thursday described his amazing comeback knockout victory over Yvon Durelle as "the most sensational of my career" and said he would like to fight the game Canadian again next June in a Montreal ballpark.

"He really surprised me with his right hand power," said Archie as he relaxed in a steam bath. "He put on a tremendous fight and deserves another shot.

"One thing, though, he'll have to agree not to have any important fights until then that might spoil the return. He and I can make a lot of money next time."

Wants Return Bout

"That's great," said Chris Shaban, Durelle's manager. "Yvon deserves and wants the fight. I'm sure we'll go along with what Archie wants. Everyone is talking about the great fight. Yvon made a sensational fight and everyone knows now that he might be able to beat Archie the next time.

"He didn't look like any 4-1 longshot last night, did he?"

Archie said he most likely would make a vacation and fighting tour of South America first and very soon.

"I've got an offer of eight fights in South America," said the ageless Moore.

A return bout between Moore and the 29-year-old Canadian and British Empire champion from Baie Ste. Anne, N. S., figures to draw far more than the 8,484 fans who paid $89,940 in the frigid Forum Wednesday night. The Forum is the home of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League.

It was so cold in the Forum (about 45 degrees), where boards covered the ice on the rink, that the spectators and newsmen wore overcoats and mufflers.

Recovery Is Miraculous

But no one was colder than Archie when he was nailed in the first round. Archie was down three times, including one knockdown ruled a push by Referee Jack Sharkey, in the first round and down once more in the fifth. Then he began his almost miraculous recovery.

He dumped Yvon once in the seventh round, once in the 10th, and twice in the dramatic 11th.

Cronin Heads American Loop

Will Locate His Office In Boston

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Cronin, to the surprise of practically nobody, will be named president of the American League immediately following the Christmas holidays and will locate his office in Boston.

This information was learned Thursday from an American League source that said Cronin actually had been informed of his acceptance by the owners last week before the baseball meetings in Washington had broken up.

"The owners want to have their new president before the New York writers' baseball dinner (Feb. 1)," the informant said. "They don't like the idea of having a lame duck in the president's chair."

The "lame duck" was in reference to 72-year-old Will Harridge, who resigned as head of the American League last Dec. 3 despite the fact his 10-year contract still had eight years to go.

The 52-year-old Cronin, who will become the circuit's fourth president, will receive a five-year contract at $50,000 a year. He also will be allowed an annual $15,000 expense account.

Mike Donahue, Former LSU Grid Coach, Dies

A native of County Kerry, Ireland, Donahue came to this country when he was 13. After his graduation from Yale, he coached football from 1904 to 1923 and then came to LSU on a five-year contract at $10,000 a year. This was reported to be the highest salary paid a football coach in the South at that time.

Sanders Paces Sanford Open

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—Playing in a chilling drizzle on soggy fairways, Doug Sanders of Miami Beach shot a fine six-under-par 65 over the Mayfair Country Club course to take a one stroke lead for the first round of the $15,000 Sanford Open Golf Tournament Thursday.

National Open Champion Tommy Bolt of Paradise, Fla., chattered his way to a 33-33—66 for the runner-up spot. Eight players were deadlocked for third at 68.

In all, 31, contenders bettered par 71 despite playing conditions which were something less than ideal. Eight were in the 69 bracket and 13 had 70. Thirteen equalled par.

Tris Speaker Laid To Rest

HUBBARD, Tex. (UPI)—Baseball immortal Tris Speaker was laid to rest Thursday in Fairview Cemetery, not far from the place where he was born.

There was a scattering of oldtime baseball players in the audience including Dale Mitchell, former Cleveland outfielder, Fred (Firpo) Marberry, former big league pitcher, and Art Shires (The Great), and Tony York, old friends in the Texas League.

Carson Kirk's Son Is Winner

Jimmy Pilots Feast To Pimlico Victory

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11 (AP) — With 16-year-old Jimmy Kirk gaining the first victory of his 13-race career, Llangollen Farm's Feast achieved a frontrunning length and a half victory in the $4,000 Owings Mills Purse here today at Pimlico.

Temperatures hung in the mid 20's throughout the program, and the crowd of 7,489 hardy fans was the smallest of the meeting.

Feast, a $12.40 chance, was timed in 1.05 4/5 — the fastest five and half furlongs of the meeting — over the frozen strip.

Kirk, son of former Jockey Carson Kirk, attained his sixteenth birthday just a month and five days ago. He started riding immediately and is under contract to Henry S. Clark, trainer of Feast.

The 6-year-old son of Roman was never in trouble while gaining his front-running victory today. Carrying just 105 pounds, he went to the lead at the start and Kirk saw to it that he stayed there.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear one who went away from us 6 years ago today, December 12, 1952.
Loved in life, in death remembered.
To glimpse beyond the sunset,
The brightness of the dawn,
To trust in God's own promise,
That life goes on and on,
To look to him for comfort
And lean on him each day,
Will bring the deep abiding peace
That cannot pass away.
Sadly missed by wife,
CATHERINE M. LAYMAN
AND FAMILY.

In loving memory of my dear wife, Alice Swartley, who died one year ago December 12, 1957.
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought her death so near,
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
She little thought when leaving home
That she would never return.
That so soon in death would sleep
And leave us here to mourn.
God knows how much we miss her,
Never shall her memory fade.
Loving thoughts shall ever wander
To the spot where she is laid.
Sadly missed by
HUSBAND, DAUGHTER
AND SON AND
GRANDCHILDREN.

Moore Would Give Durelle Another Shot

Champ Will Fight In South America

MONTREAL (AP) — Light Heavyweight Champion Archie Moore Thursday described his amazing comeback knockout victory over Yvon Durelle as "the most sensational of my career" and said he would like to fight the game Canadian again next June in a Montreal ballpark.

"He really surprised me with his right hand power," said Archie as he relaxed in a steam bath. "He put on a tremendous fight and deserves another shot.

"One thing, though, he'll have to agree not to have any important fights until then that might spoil the return. He and I can make a lot of money next time."

Wants Return Bout

"That's great," said Chris Shaban, Durelle's manager. "Yvon deserves and wants the fight. I'm sure we'll go along with what Archie wants. Everyone is talking about the great fight. Yvon made a sensational fight and everyone knows now that he might be able to beat Archie the next time.

"He didn't look like any 4-1 longshot last night, did he?"

Archie said he most likely would make a vacation and fighting tour of South America first and very soon.

"I've got an offer of eight fights in South America," said the ageless Moore.

A return bout between Moore and the 29-year-old Canadian and British Empire champion from Baie Ste. Anne, N. S., figures to draw far more than the 8,484 fans who paid $89,940 in the frigid Forum Wednesday night. The Forum is the home of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League.

It was so cold in the Forum (about 45 degr[illegible]), where boards covered the ice on the rink, that the spectators and newsmen wore overcoats and mufflers.

Recovery Is Miraculous

But no one was colder than Archie when he was nailed in the first round. Archie was down three times, including one knockdown ruled a push by Referee Jack Sharkey, in the first round and down once more in the fifth. Then he began his almost miraculous recovery.

He dumped Yvon once in the seventh round, once in the 10th, and twice in the dramatic 11th.

Largest daily double payoff during the Washington Park meeting at Arlington Park during 1958 was $330.60 when Puritonion and Romberg scored on Aug. 7.

Cronin Heads American Loop

Will Locate His Office In Boston

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Cronin, to the surprise of practically nobody, will be named president of the American League immediately following the Christmas holidays and will locate his office in Boston.

This information was learned Thursday from an American League source that said Cronin actually had been informed of his acceptance by the owners last week before the baseball meetings in Washington had broken up.

"The owners want to have their new president before the New York writers' baseball dinner (Feb. 1)," the informant said. "They don't like the idea of having a lame duck in the president's chair."

The "lame duck" was in reference to 72-year-old Will Harridge, who resigned as head of the American League last Dec. 3 despite the fact his 10-year contract still had eight years to go.

The 52-year-old Cronin, who will become the circuit's fourth president, will receive a five-year contract at $50,000 a year. He also will be allowed an annual $15,000 expense account.

Mike Donahue, Former LSU Grid Coach, Dies

A native of County Kerry, Ireland, Donahue came to this country when he was 13. After his graduation from Yale, he coached football from 1904 to 1923 and then came to LSU on a five-year contract at $10,000 a year. This was reported to be the highest salary paid a football coach in the South at that time.

Sanders Paces Sanford Open

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—Playing in a chilling drizzle on soggy fairways, Doug Sanders of Miami Beach shot a fine six-under-par 65 over the Mayfair Country Club course to take a one stroke lead for the first round of the $15,000 Sanford Open Golf Tournament Thursday.

National Open Champion Tommy Bolt of Paradise, Fla., chattered his way to a 33-33—66 for the runner-up spot. Eight players were deadlocked for third at 68.

In all, 31, contenders bettered par 71 despite playing conditions which were something less than ideal. Eight were in the 69 bracket and 13 had 70. Thirteen equalled par.

Tris Speaker Laid To Rest

HUBBARD, Tex. (UPI)—Baseball immortal Tris Speaker was laid to rest Thursday in Fairview Cemetery, not far from the place where he was born.

The Rev. William J. Plenner, Episcopal minister, read the funeral rites of the church at a service that filled the Wolfe funeral home chapel and overflowed into the street of this quiet town. Speaker died Monday of a heart attack at the age of 70.

There was a scattering of oldtime baseball players in the audience including Dale Mitchell, former Cleveland outfielder, Fred (Firpo) Marberry, former big league pitcher, and Art Shires (The Great), and Tony York, old friends in the Texas League.

Fresh from a 49-46 win over Piedmont on the latter's court, Coach John C. Meyers' Knights will be gunning for win No. 3 when they play host to John Shelton's Mineral Countians, who kicked off the lid with a 67-54 win over Beall at Frostburg Tuesday night.

Allegany dropped its opener to Mel Henry's North High floormen from Hagerstown on Tuesday, 60-56, and will make another attempt to crash the win column when it tackles Homer Brooks' Cadets who went down before Fort Hill here Tuesday by the score of 45-52.

Four other conference games are on tonight's slate. Franklin invades Moorefield, Berkeley Springs visits Wardensville, Capon Bridge entertains the West Virginia School for the Deaf and Petersburg plays at Mathias.

Examination Free
You incur absolutely no charge or obligation by coming in for an examination. Your only obligation is to yourself. We'll tell you frankly if there's no chance of helping you. Less than 3% of those who used the Erickson home treatment requested a refund.
Written Guarantee
You will be given a written guarantee that you must be satisfied within the first 30 days or your money will be refunded.
For your FREE hair and scalp examination, go to the Fort Cumberland Hotel between 1:00 and 8:30 p. m. Saturday only, December 13, and ask for the room number of Mr. J. L. Thomas. He does not make appointments, so come at your convenience. Examinations are all given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

ORDINANCE NO. 2099

AN ORDINANCE OF THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND, ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ADOPTION OF THE FIRE PREVENTION CODE PREPARED BY THE NATIONAL BOARD OF FIRE UNDERWRITERS (1956 EDITION) AS THE FIRE PREVENTION CODE OF THE CITY OF CUMBERLAND, AND PROVIDING FOR PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF."

WHEREAS, the National Board of Fire Underwriters has prepared a Fire Prevention Code, the current edition being that for the year 1956, a copy of which Code is attached hereto and made a part hereof; and

WHEREAS, the aforementioned Fire Prevention Code has been adopted by a large majority of the cities of the United States of America; and

WHEREAS, it is felt that it is in the best interests of the City of Cumberland to adopt said Fire Prevention Code; and

WHEREAS, some of the present Ordinances and Orders of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland are in conflict with said Fire Prevention Code.

NOW, THEREFORE:

SECTION 1. BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, That the provisions of the Fire Prevention Code prepared by the National Board of Fire Underwriters (1956 Edition) which consists of thirty (30) articles and appendix (A) through (D) inclusive, be and they are hereby adopted as the Fire Prevention Code of the City of Cumberland as though specifically set forth herein totidem verbis, reference to said publication being hereby made.

SECTION 2. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That any and all Ordinances and Orders of the Mayor and City Council in conflict with this Ordinance, and the terms and provisions of said Fire Prevention Code, and not herewith expressly repealed, be and they are hereby repealed, rescinded, revoked, annulled and rendered void and of no effect whatsoever.

SECTION 3. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That Section 10 of Appendix D of said Fire Prevention Code, which provides for penalties for the violation of said Code, shall be published in accordance with the law, which said section reads as follows:

"a. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of the code hereby adopted or fail to comply therewith, or who shall violate or fail to comply with any order made hereunder, or who shall build in violation of any detailed statement of specifications or plans submitted and approved thereunder, or any certificate or permit issued thereunder, and from which no appeal has been taken, or who shall fail to comply with such an order as affirmed or modified by the Mayor and City Council or by a court of competent jurisdiction, within the time fixed herein, shall severally for each and every such violation and noncompliance respectively, be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $25.00 nor more than $100.00 or by imprisonment for not less than 1 day nor more than 10 days or by both such fine and imprisonment. The imposition of one penalty for any violation shall not excuse the violation or permit it to continue; and all such persons shall be required to correct or remedy such violations or defects within a reasonable time; and when not otherwise specified, each ten days that prohibited conditions are maintained shall constitute a separate offense.

SECTION 4. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That this Ordinance be codified as Chapter 36 of the General Ordinances of the City of Cumberland, Maryland.

SECTION 5. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That this Ordinance shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Carson Kirk's Son Is Winner

Jimmy Pilots Feast To Pimlico Victory

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11 (AP) — With 16-year-old Jimmy Kirk gaining the first victory of his 13-race career, Llangollen Farm's Feast achieved a frontrunning length and a half victory in the $4,000 Owings Mills Purse here today at Pimlico.

Temperatures hung in the mid 20's throughout the program, and the crowd of 7,489 hardy fans was the smallest of the meeting.

Feast, a $12.40 chance, was timed in 1:05 4/5 — the fastest five and half furlongs of the meeting — over the frozen strip.

Kirk, son of former Jockey Carson Kirk, attained his sixteenth birthday just a month and five days ago. He started riding immediately and is under contract to Henry S. Clark, trainer of Feast.

The 6-year-old son of Roman was never in trouble while gaining his front-running victory today. Carrying just 105 pounds, he went to the lead at the start and Kirk saw to it that he stayed there.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear one who went away from us 6 years ago today, December 12, 1952.
Loved in life, in death remembered.
To glimpse beyond the sunset,
The brightness of the dawn,
To trust in God's own promise,
That life goes on and on,
To look to him for comfort
And lean on him each day,
Will bring the deep abiding peace
That cannot pass away.
Sadly missed by wife,
CATHERINE M. LAYMAN
AND FAMILY.

In loving memory of my dear wife, Alice Swartley, who died one year ago December 12, 1957.
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought her death so near,
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
She little thought when leaving home
That she would never return.
That so soon in death would sleep
And leave us here to mourn.
God knows how much we miss her,
Never shall her memory fade.
Loving thoughts shall ever wander
To the spot where she is laid.
Sadly missed by
HUSBAND, DAUGHTER
GRANDCHILDREN.

Elderly Couple Tied, Robbed Near Bedford

Police Jail Gunman After Wild Chase

Pennsylvania State Police climaxed a wild auto chase with the arrest yesterday of a 26-year-old armed man who they said broke into a home near Bedford, tied up an elderly couple and robbed them.

Authorities said Jack E. Gerhard, of Upper Darby, may be the same man who attempted to break into homes at Indian Spring, Md., Hancock, and along Martin Mountain on U.S. Route 40 yesterday morning.

Road blocks were set up by local and state police who learned of the Martin Mountain incident.

The man, carrying a box, tried to get into the Martin Mountain home but did not gain entry after the housewife slammed the door in his face, police said.

Roadblocks Set Up

Trooper Kenneth Messmer of LaVale Barracks set up a roadblock in the Flintstone area and other roads in this section were checked.

However, Gerhard evaded the roadblocks and made his way into Pennsylvania. Early yesterday afternoon, police said, the man entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Renshaw, who live about four miles south of Bedford in Bedford Township.

Armed With Pistol

They said the man was armed with a pistol. After tying up the couple and taking the money, police said, the man headed northeast.

A state trooper of Bedford picked up the trail and chased the man at high rates of speed north of Everett into Saxton over mountainous highways and through remote sections of the state before apprehending him in Fulton County.

Gerhard was returned to the Bedford County Jail where he is being held for further investigation.

Skaters By The Dozens

Nobel Winner's Brother Married Cumberlander

A Cumberland family has a connection with two of America's three winners of the Nobel Prize in medicine and physiology, presented by King Gustaf Adolf of Sweden in ceremonies at Stockholm Wednesday.

Dr. Edward L. Tatum of the Rockefeller Institute is a brother of Dr. Howard J. Tatum, who married a Cumberland woman. Dr. Howard Tatum's wife is the former Miss Mary Jane King, daughter of Mrs. Robert E. King, 904 Washington Street, and the late Mr. King. Mrs. Tatum also is a sister of Robert M. King, 506 Washington Street.

He and his brother are sons of the late Dr. Arthur J. Tatum, who was internationally known as head of the pharmacology department at the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Howard Tatum now is head of the department of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Oregon, and has carried on research in South America, at the University of California and at Yale under Rockefeller grants.

Delegation To Ask Report On School Fire Safety Status

Allegany County legislators will ask the State Insurance Department to submit a report on the fire safety of all schools in the county.

Del. Fred B. Driscoll, chairman of the Delegation, was asked to make the request and to specify that the report be submitted not later than January 26.

Plans for the survey and report on school fire safety were made last night as the Delegation and Senator Charles M. See met with officials of the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Man Arrested Here In Theft Of Automobile

A 24-year-old Frostburg man is being held in the city jail here for questioning in connection with the theft of a car reported stolen from Lester C. Spring of Baltimore yesterday near Moorefield, W. Va.

Police Detective Kenneth Morrissey, Officers Royce Clayton and Harold Gibson arrested the suspect at a home on West Side and booked him for investigation about 8:20 p. m.

Last night, State Police at LaVale sent a teletype to Baltimore police asking them to contact Mr. Spring to come to Cumberland to identify the man, who was picked up by local police.

While driving on West Side in one of the police cruisers last night, Officer Clayton spotted a car parked on Paca Street which answered the description of the car reported stolen from Mr. Spring.

A closer check proved it to be Mr. Spring's car. The suspect was picked up later at the West Side home.

About 1 a. m. yesterday West Virginia authorities at Romney received a complaint from Mr. Spring, who told them that he had picked up a hitchhiker near Moorefield.

As they came toward Romney the youth told him he had a gun and wanted the car. Mr. Spring turned the car over to the youth and the car was last seen heading east on U.S. Route 50 toward Winchester.

The wrecked car had been stolen Wednesday night in Cumberland from Ernie Schramm of 620 Greene Street. Police believe the youth had stolen Schramm's car, wrecked it and then took Mr. Spring's car.

There will be selections by the entire group and some by smaller ensembles. There will be clarinet quartets, flue quartet, brass quartets, saxophone duets.

East Side Firemen Answer Two Calls

Firemen from East Side station had two calls yesterday including an early morning call which turned out to be a false alarm.

About 9:25 a. m. yesterday they responded to a call at 419 Central Avenue when the occupants thought the flue was on fire. After searching the house firemen found a blanket covering a hot air register. There were no flames although the blanket was scorched. Firemen surmise one of the children kicked the blanket off the bed onto the register.

Firemen went to Ort Brothers Bakery on Franklin Street about 12:43 a. m. when Box 38 sounded an alarm. However, the call was a false alarm, they said.

Cold Spell Expected To Continue

Storms May Bring Snow Into Section

The frigid air which moved into this area several days ago is expected to continue the next few days, and the weatherman predicts this section may be in for snow.

The Eastern Shore counties of Maryland and several counties in the southern part of the state had several inches of snow from a storm which moved up from the south along the seaboard.

The weatherman says this snow may reach as far west as the Hagerstown area. Another disturbance is located in northwestern Pennsylvania, which also may bring snow to this area.

Low readings were the rule again last night as the mercury began to dip in all sections of this area. Temperatures today are expected to range around the 20-degree mark.

In Oakland, last night, the State Roads Commission garage reported it was three above zero and the sky cloudy. All roads in the area were reported clear, but a SRC employe there said it looked as if it would snow.

The thermometer never reached higher than 19 degrees yesterday in Cumberland. Last night it was 12 degrees in Constitution Park, while the low reading there yesterday morning was four degrees above.

The SRC garage in Frostburg, said the reading on Big Savage Mountain last night was seven degrees above zero, while at Frostburg the temperature was two above.

Temperatures along the Western Maryland Railway line last night were Deal, Pa., 10; Connellsville, Pa., 20; Thomas, W. Va., 8, and Elkins, W. Va., 20.

Extra Service Set Monday On Local Buses

Tickets Will Go On Sale In City

Queen City Bus Lines, Inc., will place an improved and expanded schedule into effect Monday morning as the sale of tickets begins.

The new schedule will provide additional service, some permanent and some for a trial period, on the Shriver Avenue, Mapleside, Ridgeley and Maryland Avenue-West Side runs.

It will provide night service on the Shriver Avenue and Mapleside runs from 6 p. m. on. This extra service is being added on a 60-day trial basis. The extra runs will be made permanent if it is used enough to warrant.

Add Extra Runs

Placed on a permanent basis in the new schedule is half-hour service during the day on the Shriver Avenue run and until 3:30 p. m. on the Mapleside run.

Ridgeley, which was without bus service on Saturday, will have the same service Monday through Saturday.

All-day service will be offered on Sunday by Maryland Avenue-West Side buses.

Lawrence L. Grim, secretary-treasurer of the corporation formed in October by bus drivers, said copies of the new schedule will be available on all buses on Monday morning.

He said the drivers will continue to add more service—and keep it on—if the people make use of it.

The new schedule, he added, is the limit which can be offered by present drivers and on the equipment now available.

Ticket Sale Set

The tickets for city zone adult fares will be sold at three for 50 cents. Cash fares will remain at 18 cents within the city.

School children of grade, grammar and high school ages will be required to use school tickets which will be sold at the rate of five for 50 cents. Students will be required to use tickets or pay the drivers an adult fare of 18 cents.

Both types of tickets may be purchased from drivers.

The youth, Evan Evans, was a son of Carl T. and Mildred (Baker) Evans, 5610 White Avenue, Cleveland.

The body will be returned to the Zeigler Funeral Home, Hyndman.

Officers Use Tear Gas To Arrest Man

Otis May Held For Shooting At Grocer

Otis L. May, of near Mathias, W. Va., is in the Hardy County jail at Moorefield under $5,000 bond on charges of felonious assault of a grocer and resisting arrest.

Police said the man barricaded himself in his home near Mathias and they had to use tear gas in order to apprehend him early Monday morning.

Corporal C. G. Hamrick of the Moorefield detachment of State Police said May is being held for action of the grand jury of the February term of Circuit Court in Hardy County.

Fires At Grocer

On Sunday afternoon, according to Corporal Hamrick, May entered the store of Carter Snider. After an argument, he reportedly fired one round from a .22 calibre revolver at the groceryman but missed him.

Snider swore out a warrant for May's arrest. When officers went to the May home, May barricaded himself inside the house.

The authorities heard a shot fired in the house, but did not know whether May fired at them or whether the gun had gone off accidentally.

Two tear gas grenades were tossed into the house, and one apparently set some rags afire. The officers broke in the door to extinguish the fire, and when they searched the house they found May hiding in the rafters.

Bond Set At $5,000

A preliminary hearing was held Tuesday before P. W. Clarke, justice of the peace at Moorefield, and May was charged with felonious assault and resisting arrest. Bond was set at $5,000 and May was taken to the jail pending action of the grand jury.

Officers participating in the arrest of May were Corporal Hamrick and Trooper Jack Baker of the Moorefield detachment; Sheriff T. J. Hawse of Hardy County; Charles Hefner, police officer at Moorefield; Sergeant W. F. Bowley and Trooper William A. Steffic of the Romney detachment, and Trooper Robert Mozingo of the Petersburg detachment.

Penitentiary Inmate Denied Habeas Corpus

Thomas R. Hicks, an inmate in the State Penitentiary who received a 31½-year sentence in Howard County Circuit Court, has been denied a writ of habeas corpus by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Hicks submitted a 25-page petition to Judge Harris and the latter took three pages to deny his plea. In all of the five points raised by the prisoner, Judge Harris wrote that they were not subjects for a writ of habeas corpus but should be considered only on an appeal.

Financial Aid Is Asked For Fire Company

Legislators Urged To Oppose Marshal

The Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association last night asked Allegany County legislators to provide financial support to the Oldtown Volunteer Fire Department.

The request was made to the Allegany County Delegation and Senator Charles M. See by Alvin Rankin, Frostburg, acting chairman of the association's legislative committee.

Mr. Rankin said the association wants the newly organized fire company listed in Section 147 of the Public Local Laws of Allegany County in the same bracket as the Bowmans Addition, Clarysville, Flintstone, District 16, Bedford Road, Baltimore Pike, Ellerslie, Bowling Green, Borden Shaft, McCoole and Corriganville companies.

Each of the above companies is allotted $938.40 by the Allegany County Commissioners for the purchase, repair or maintenance of equipment and buildings it uses.

To Oppose Bill

The bill provides $1,772.40 to the Frostburg company; Westernport and Lonaconing, $1,494.40; LaVale, $1,227.50, and Midland, Cresaptown, Barton, Mt. Savage and Luke, $1,077.50 each.

The bi-county association informed the Delegation it is opposed to a proposed bill being drafted by the Maryland State Volunteer Firemen's Association to create the post of fire marshal.

Mr. Rankin told the legislators a number of areas will be excluded under present plans and that the association does not want a sectional bill.

He said the Association here has gone on record as opposing the bill as it is being drawn up by the state association's legislative committee.

Ask Resolution

He said he doubted whether the people would be better off with duplication of work performed by the State Insurance Commissioner and the proposed fire marshal.

At present, the commissioner performs the duty of a fire marshal and assigns men of his staff to areas throughout the state. Jesse Jacobs, a former mayor of Frostburg, is in charge of this area.

It said that if the job of fire marshal is to be created and paid for by insurance policies in force, that the appointee should be a qualified man.

Senator Charles M. See suggested that the bi-county association draft a resolution setting forth its specific stand on all parts of the proposed bill and send it to Del. Fred B. Driscoll, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation, and to him.

Kiwanis Team Gets Awards

Members of the Kiwanis team which won the 1958 Hot Stove Baseball League championship received awards yesterday at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at Central YMCA.

Earl M. Nonnenmann, representing the league, presented the team trophy which the Kiwanis Club may retain for a year. He also had an individual trophy for Wayne White, the team manager, and for each of the 14 boys on the squad.

Autographed baseballs were handed to two of the players, Shortstop Charles Boone, who accumulated a .419 batting average, and Pitcher John Price who won 10 games without defeat.

The Kiwanis Club also is giving each of the 14 boys a jacket bearing an emblem and the Kiwanis letters across the back.

John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, physical education teacher and baseball coach at Fort Hill High School, was the principal speaker. He commended the club for having sponsored a team in the Hot Stove League all eight years of its existence and encouraged the boys to follow high standards.

Present for the ceremonies were Manager White, his three assistants, Bill Withrow, Leroy Boone and Donald Renotas, and all 14 players, Leroy Hanekamp, John Price, Harry Bosley, Mickey Robinson, Charles Boone, Jan Withrow, Harvey Shanholtz, James Powelson, Harold Appel, Jack Harper, Edward Bush, Samuel Brehm, Dale Conners and Lester Boden.

Elderly Couple Tied, Robbed Near Bedford

Police Jail Gunman After Wild Chase

Pennsylvania State Police climaxed a wild auto chase with the arrest yesterday of a 26-year-old armed man who they said broke into a home near Bedford, tied up an elderly couple and robbed them.

Authorities said Jack E. Gerhard, of Upper Darby, may be the same man who attempted to break into homes at Indian Spring, Md., Hancock, and along Martin Mountain on U.S. Route 40 yesterday morning.

Road blocks were set up by local and state police who learned of the Martin Mountain incident.

The man, carrying a box, tried to get into the Martin Mountain home but did not gain entry after the housewife slammed the door in his face, police said.

Roadblocks Set Up

Trooper Kenneth Messmer of LaVale Barracks set up a roadblock in the Flintstone area and other roads in this section were checked.

However, Gerhard evaded the roadblocks and made his way into Pennsylvania. Early yesterday afternoon, police said, the man entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Renshaw, who live about four miles south of Bedford in Bedford Township.

Armed With Pistol

They said the man was armed with a pistol. After tying up the couple and taking the money, police said, the man headed northeast.

A state trooper of Bedford picked up the trail and chased the man at high rates of speed north of Everett into Saxton over mountainous highways and through remote sections of the state before apprehending him in Fulton County.

Gerhard was returned to the Bedford County Jail where he is being held for further investigation.

Skaters By The Dozens

Nobel Winner's Brother Married Cumberlander

A Cumberland family has a connection with two of America's three winners of the Nobel Prize in medicine and physiology, presented by King Gustaf Adolf of Sweden in ceremonies at Stockholm Wednesday.

Dr. Edward L. Tatum of the Rockefeller Institute is a brother of Dr. Howard J. Tatum, who married a Cumberland woman. Dr. Howard Tatum's wife is the former Miss Mary Jane King, daughter of Mrs. Robert E. King, 904 Washington Street, and the late Mr. King. Mrs. Tatum also is a sister of Robert M. King, 506 Washington Street.

Dr. Howard Tatum, a frequent visitor here, flew to Stockholm with his brother's two daughters for the ceremony.

He and his brother are sons of the late Dr. Arthur J. Tatum, who was internationally known as head of the pharmacology department at the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Howard Tatum now is head of the department of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Oregon, and has carried on research in South America, at the University of California and at Yale under Rockefeller grants.

Man Arrested Here In Theft Of Automobile

A 24-year-old Frostburg man is being held in the city jail here for questioning in connection with the theft of a car reported stolen from Lester C. Spring of Baltimore yesterday near Moorefield, W. Va.

Police Detective Kenneth Morrissey, Officers Royce Clayton and Harold Gibson arrested the suspect at a home on West Side and booked him for investigation about 8:20 p. m.

Last night, State Police at LaVale sent a teletype to Baltimore police asking them to contact Mr. Spring to come to Cumberland to identify the man, who was picked up by local police.

While driving on West Side in one of the police cruisers last night, Officer Clayton spotted a car parked on Paca Street which answered the description of the car reported stolen from Mr. Spring.

A closer check proved it to be Mr. Spring's car. The suspect was picked up later at the West Side home.

About 1 a. m. yesterday West Virginia authorities at Romney received a complaint from Mr. Spring, who told them that he had picked up a hitchhiker near Moorefield.

As they came toward Romney the youth told him he had a gun and wanted the car. Mr. Spring turned the car over to the youth and the car was last seen heading east on U.S. Route 50 toward Winchester.

During an investigation the State Police located a wrecked car near Moorefield where Mr. Spring had picked up the youth.

The wrecked car had been stolen Wednesday night in Cumberland from Ernie Schramm of 620 Greene Street. Police believe the youth had stolen Schramm's car, wrecked it and then took Mr. Spring's car.

East Side Firemen Answer Two Calls

Firemen from East Side station had two calls yesterday including an early morning call which turned out to be a false alarm.

About 9:25 a. m. yesterday they responded to a call at 419 Central Avenue when the occupants thought the flue was on fire. After searching the house firemen found a blanket covering a hot air register. There were no flames although the blanket was scorched. Firemen surmise one of the children kicked the blanket off the bed onto the register.

Firemen went to Ort Brothers Bakery on Franklin Street about 12:43 a. m. when Box 38 sounded an alarm. However, the call was a false alarm, they said.

Cold Spell Expected To Continue

Storms May Bring Snow Into Section

The frigid air which moved into this area several days ago is expected to continue the next few days, and the weatherman predicts this section may be in for snow.

The Eastern Shore counties of Maryland and several counties in the southern part of the state had several inches of snow from a storm which moved up from the south along the seaboard.

The weatherman says this snow may reach as far west as the Hagerstown area. Another disturbance is located in northwestern Pennsylvania, which also may bring snow to this area.

Low readings were the rule again last night as the mercury began to dip in all sections of this area. Temperatures today are expected to range around the 20-degree mark.

In Oakland, last night, the State Roads Commission garage reported it was three above zero and the sky cloudy. All roads in the area were reported clear, but a SRC employe there said it looked as if it would snow.

The thermometer never reached higher than 19 degrees yesterday in Cumberland. Last night it was 12 degrees in Constitution Park, while the low reading there yesterday morning was four degrees above.

The SRC garage in Frostburg, said the reading on Big Savage Mountain last night was seven degrees above zero, while at Frostburg the temperature was two above.

Temperatures along the Western Maryland Railway line last night were Deal, Pa., 10; Connellsville, Pa., 20; Thomas, W. Va., 8, and Elkins, W. Va., 20.

It will provide night service on the Shriver Avenue and Mapleside runs from 6 p. m. on. This extra service is being added on a 60-day trial basis. The extra runs will be made permanent if it is used enough to warrant.

Officers Use Tear Gas To Arrest Man

Otis May Held For Shooting At Grocer

Otis L. May, of near Mathias, W. Va., is in the Hardy County jail at Moorefield under $5,000 bond on charges of felonious assault of a grocer and resisting arrest.

Police said the man barricaded himself in his home near Mathias and they had to use tear gas in order to apprehend him early Monday morning.

Corporal C. G. Hamrick of the Moorefield detachment of State Police said May is being held for action of the grand jury of the February term of Circuit Court in Hardy County.

Fires At Grocer

On Sunday afternoon, according to Corporal Hamrick, May entered the store of Carter Snider. After an argument, he reportedly fired one round from a .22 calibre revolver at the groceryman but missed him.

Snider swore out a warrant for May's arrest. When officers went to the May home, May barricaded himself inside the house.

The authorities heard a shot fired in the house, but did not know whether May fired at them or whether the gun had gone off accidentally.

Two tear gas grenades were tossed into the house, and one apparently set some rags afire. The officers broke in the door to extinguish the fire, and when they searched the house they found May hiding in the rafters.

Bond Set At $5,000

A preliminary hearing was held Tuesday before P. W. Clarke, justice of the peace at Moorefield, and May was charged with felonious assault and resisting arrest. Bond was set at $5,000 and May was taken to the jail pending action of the grand jury.

Officers participating in the arrest of May were Corporal Hamrick and Trooper Jack Baker of the Moorefield detachment; Sheriff T. J. Hawse of Hardy County; Charles Hefner, police officer at Moorefield; Sergeant W. F. Bowley and Trooper William A. Steffic of the Romney detachment, and Trooper Robert Mozingo of the Petersburg detachment.

Financial Aid Is Asked For Fire Company

Legislators Urged To Oppose Marshal

The Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association last night asked Allegany County legislators to provide financial support to the Oldtown Volunteer Fire Department.

The request was made to the Allegany County Delegation and Senator Charles M. See by Alvin Rankin, Frostburg, acting chairman of the association's legislative committee.

Mr. Rankin said the association wants the newly organized fire company listed in Section 147 of the Public Local Laws of Allegany County in the same bracket as the Bowmans Addition, Clarysville, Flintstone, District 16, Bedford Road, Baltimore Pike, Ellerslie, Bowling Green, Borden Shaft, McCoole and Corriganville companies.

Each of the above companies is allotted $938.40 by the Allegany County Commissioners for the purchase, repair or maintenance of equipment and buildings it uses.

To Oppose Bill

The bill provides $1,772.40 to the Frostburg company; Westernport and Lonaconing, $1,494.40; LaVale, $1,227.50, and Midland, Cresaptown, Barton, Mt. Savage and Luke, $1,077.50 each.

The bi-county association informed the Delegation it is opposed to a proposed bill being drafted by the Maryland State Volunteer Firemen's Association to create the post of fire marshal.

Mr. Rankin told the legislators a number of areas will be excluded under present plans and that the association does not want a sectional bill.

He said the Association here has gone on record as opposing the bill as it is being drawn up by the state association's legislative committee.

Ask Resolution

He said he doubted whether the people would be better off with duplication of work performed by the State Insurance Commissioner and the proposed fire marshal.

At present, the commissioner performs the duty of a fire marshal and assigns men of his staff to areas throughout the state. Jesse Jacobs, a former mayor of Frostburg, is in charge of this area.

The committee pointed out that the post of insurance commissioner is a "right juicy plum" and that the position is filled by the governor.

It said that if the job of fire marshal is to be created and paid for by insurance policies in force, that the appointee should be a qualified man.

Senator Charles M. See suggested that the bi-county association draft a resolution setting forth its specific stand on all parts of the proposed bill and send it to Del. Fred B. Driscoll, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation, and to him.

Speaking for the association were Mr. Rankin; Francis Fatkin, Clarysville, president of the association, and Harry C. Walters, Corriganville, a member of the legislative committee.
